TODAY'S WEATHER.

Portland, Ore., March 22.-Forecast for Washington and Oregon: Fair weather; slight temperature changes; light northerly winds.

The New York World unwarrantably accuses Justice White of being a "tainted judge." The appointment and confirmation of Judge White were not sought by him, and there is no doubt that the first suggestion of this honor was to him a total surprise. The president had insisted upon New York nominations that were considered factional, and when the senate acted adversely he ulists from over around Salem. Mr. A. SMOKE! SMOKE! Mr. Blanchard, and Mr. White hesitated, and would have remained in the senate if it had not been that he did not feel it would be fair further to embarrass the president. Under these conditions, he finally resigned, to take effect March 12, when the report of the senate amendments of the Wilson bill had been reported to the senate with protection for sugar by the use of the polariscope. It is unfair to say that this record taints the judge. He has taken no new departure between his appointment to and his qualification for the bench. He has proceeded strictly in his been representative capacity, on a right line with his record, and there is no dishonor nor discredit attaching to him for his action or attitude.

THE LAND OF PROMISE

Is the mighty West, the land that "tickled with a hoe laughs a harvest;" the El Dorado of the miner; the goal of the agricultural emigrant. While it the agricultural emigrant. While it teems with all the elements of wealth teems with all the elements of wealth and prosperity, some of the fairest and most fruitful portions of it bear a harvest of malaria reaped in its fullness by those unprotected by a medicinal safeguard. No one seeking or dwelling in a malarial locality is safe from the scourge without Hostetter's stomach Bitters. Emigrants, bear this in mind. Commercial travelers sojourning in malarious regions should carry a bottle of the Bitters in the traditional gripsack. Against the effects of exposure, mental or bodily overwork, damp and unwholeiousness, dyspepsia, nervousness and loss of strength are all remedled by this genial restorative.

Every good thing has its host of initators; every genuine article its counterfeits. The imitators always choose the most valuable and popular afficie to counterfeit, so that when they claim their sham to be equal, or as good, or the same on "So-and-So's," the public may depend upon it that "So-and-So's article is the best of the kind. The sham proves the noming merit of the thing it copies, and never has this been better illustrated than by the imitations of Alicock's Porous Plasters.

Alicock's Porous Plasters is the standard of excellence the world over, and its imitators in their cry that theirs is "as good as Alicock's" are only emphasizing this fact and admitting "Alicock's" to be the acme of perfection, which it is their highest ambition to limitate. The difference between the genuine and these imitations, which copy only general appearance, is as wife as 212at between copper and gold.
