TODAY'S WEATHER.

Portland, April 4.—For Oregon and Washington, fair weather, warmer.

Democrats are shuddering to think of how the railway mail service will be utilized for the perpetuation of republican congressmen.

Lord Dunraven is going to "try a centreboard as an experiment" on his new purchase, "The Diagon." We thought his lordship would try a centreboard.

The main thing that stands in the way of the admission of New Mexico to the union at the present time is the fact that the Wilson bill is likely to make it republican.

The democratic congressmen have opened "headquarters" in Washington. This supplies a long-felt want. The country wants to know where the democratic party is at.

The British government goes very slow in actually doing anything to check the depredations of the Behring sea seal poachers. The Canadians are sensitive about that sort of thing.

The simple truth about the currency problem is that the people are satisfied with the present situation and do not want the circulating medium further tinkered with in any way or for any purpose.

Congressman Grosvenor made an excellent point when he said there was more fraud in the New York custom-house every year than in the pension rolls; and there were more illicit stills for moonshine whisky than fraudulent pensioners.

In a recent speech Bob Ingersoll condensed a whole library into this: "It is said that a full stomach interferes with brain work. The people have not had too much to eat during the last year. They have had a splendid opportunity to think, and the result will be an unprecedented republican victory this fall."

A new daily, named the Times, has been started at Washington City by a large number of printers, editors, reporters and other workers. It says no other paper ever had a tenth as many stockholders as it has, and that all of them earn their living by hand and brain. It is very newsy, very readable and crisp. It should succeed even in the graveyard of newspapers.

That the democratic party did not know what the country had become while they were out, has been the demonstration of every day's experience since they came in. There never was greater conceit of capacity and poorer performance placed in such sharp contrast, as during the second term of Cleveland; and the reason this term cannot so deplorable a show as compared with the first trial is that then the republicans had a veto on him, and his attitudes were not acted by application to affairs. The good works of Mr. Cleveland in his second term have been in the division of his own party on administration measures. With the help of the republicans, he has held the fort fairly well for sound money. But in his appointments, his tariff policy and his foreign complications, his blundering has been constant, and no president ever fell as fast and far.

Gov. West, of Utah, has vetoed the bounties proposed by the territorial legislatures for the production of sugar, silk and tanning root, and he has also refused to approve a memorial against free wool.—New York Post.

Why could not Utah be brought in very speedily as a state? The governor rises up as a great quantity. He might soon be as great a man as the governor of Oregon or the governor of Colorado; or, if he should go to the senate, he would assist in free silver and all that.

The letter carriers' overtime claims are piling up, and almost every Monday a large batch of judgments are rendered in the court of claims. A few weeks ago fifty New York city carriers secured judgments aggregating $30,000, the largest being for more than $1,000. It is a significant fact that the letter carriers' eight-hour law of 1888 was not well enforced until after some carriers had secured judgment about a year ago. It seems one thing to get a law on the statute books and another thing to have it enforced.

The Boston Herald publishes a letter from a banker correspondent which shows at a glance the folly of those who contend that the general decline of prices is measured by the fall of silver. The average price of silver in London in 1886, he notes, was 46 9-16 pence per ounce. It is now 27 5-16 pence, or a drop of 40 per cent. Now no one in his senses will contend that general prices have fallen 40 per cent since 1886. A good many have not fallen at all in that period, while the average of all exhibits a surprisingly small downward movement. The connection between the fall of silver and the declining prices is an imaginary one. Such a demonstration as this ought to put the argument of the silver crown at rest for good and all. The trouble with these gentlemen is that they do not stay out.

PREACHERS AND POLITICS.

Rev. Dr. Bushong is bitterly attacked in the columns of a contemporary for having been present at the republican county convention on Tuesday and making a few remarks when called upon by many of the delegates. Mr. Bushong is accused of having made himself conspicuous in a front seat. This is manifestly unjust, a fact to which all who were present at the convention will bear testimony. When the doctor stepped into McKinley Hall there was but one vacant seat to be seen, and being asked to sit down he of course accepted the invitation. From his manner when called upon, it was evident that Dr. Bushong did not go to the convention for the purpose of either making himself conspicuous or indulging in speech making. However, as the delegates good-humoredly insisted upon hearing him speak, he was forced to respond, and expressed his belief in the principles of protection. Surely any American citizen, whether preacher or layman, may consistently state to a number of his fellow men whether he believes in the principles of protection to American industries or in the doctrine of free trade. Nor is it fair to allege that politics are corrupt and in the same breath denounce men who are acknowledged to be pure for taking a part in political discussions. If more preachers interested themselves in the politics of the country, there might be less cause for complaint.

ERUPTION OF THE SKIN CURED.

Ed. Veinney, Brockville, Ontario, Canada, writes: "I have used Brandreth's Pills for the past three years, and think them the best cathartic and anti-bilious remedy known. For some five years I suffered with an eruption of the skin that gave me great pain and annoyance. I tried different local remedies, but through gaining strength the itching was relieved. I finally concluded to take a thorough course of Brandreth's Pills. I took six each night for four nights, then five, four, three, two, lessening each time by one, and then for one month took one every night, with the happy result that now my skin is perfectly clear and has been so ever since."
