LUMBER GOES UP

A RAISE OF TWO DOLLARS A THOUSAND.

Reasons for the Advance--- The State Loses by the Combination's Act.

The combination in the lumber business made itself felt yesterday, says the San Francisco Chronicle, when the price of material furnished the state advanced $2 per thousand. This was not unexpected, and another raise may be looked for in a day or two.

There has not been much lumber coming to San Francisco, for the reason that the market could not stand it. During the depression last year it was impossible to get money on giltedged security, and the lumber men, being pressed, had to dispose of the cut material at any figure. Lumber was crowded into San Francisco and sold below the cost of cutting, let alone shipping it. But this condition of affairs has changed, and during the last few weeks Oakland creek has been nearly cleared of the fleet of steam schooners which has filled it since last summer.

The lumber business had fallen flat before that time, as there was no demand anywhere. The Australian business, which was an invaluable assistance to Puget Sound, was shut off on account of the financial depression in the colonies. The building boom in Southern California had died out, and there was, besides, no demand at all for cargoes off the coast. During the past few weeks all this has been changed. Several vessels have been sent to the Sound to load for Liverpool, Australia and the coast of Africa.

The ships Kennebec and Commodore have dropped out of the coal trade to carry lumber abroad, the former now being at the Sound and the latter having left for there yesterday.

This movement makes a better feeling among the shipowners, for it is bringing out vessels which have been lying idle at some remote anchorage for months. The charter of the Willamette as a tender to the Behring sea fleet also makes a hole in the coast coal fleet, and has brought out the barks Sumatra, McNear and Alex. Mc-Neil. The Prussia, which has also been laid up for a long time, has been put in commission again for the lumber

Harbor Commissioner Bassett, president of the board, in speaking of the increase in the price of lumber, said that it was expected, after the communication from the Golden Gate Lumber Company. "Slade & Co. were not tired of the fight," said Mr. Bassett, but the other companies called it off. The fight has been a great saving t the state, and lumber will never again go up to the old figures of $15, $18 and $22 a thousand. It may go up to $12 a thousand, but that will be the limit-There has been a movement in the lumber business, and if there were any big increse in prices there are only too many dealers waiting for a chance to material to the state."

Milwaukee, April 10.-The Judge Jenkins investigation by the house sub committee of judiciary came to a sudden end, so far as Milwaukee is concerned, at 5 o'clock tonight. All the witnesses were examined, and as there was no documentary evidence to gv over, there was nothing else to do, and the affair will now be continued in
