

AROUND TOWN.

The ladies of the First Presbyterian church are preparing to give a concert in the near future.

The city council met last night and adjourned, without doing any business, until next Tuesday night.

Astor lodge, No. 6, K. of P., meets Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. All sojourning Knights cordially invited.

The politest young man going is a resident of Astoria. He took off his hat to talk to a lady through the telephone.

The Astorian was the recipient of many pleasant calls on yesterday from distinguished Democrats representing all sections of the state.

An $80 lot for $2. If you want some extra fine photos taken, Moore's is the place to get them. Lovers of a good cigar can always find mild, fresh Belmonts at Chas. Olsen's.

Aprons of the Democratic convention, the Osgood Mercantile Co. has marked down a lot of Cleveland hats to the price of $1.50 in silver.

The German bark Maria Mercedes, laden with wheat for Queenstown, passed down yesterday, but the weather was so bad she did not put to sea.

It is reported that the Eagle Cliff pack of salmon is very light. William Hume having put up but about 5,000 cans so far. The reason assigned is that the fish are too high.

Fresh fish and poultry at Welcome's Market, next to Ford & Stokes'. Meany is the leading tailor and pays the highest cash price for fur skins.

For $2, a lot is delivered every week to the buyer in Hill's First addition.

Mrs. Callahan—I want to get a pair of shoes for me little boy. Shopman—French kid? Mrs. Callahan (indignantly)—Indade not! He's my own son-born and bred near Salem.

J. M. Bartley, deputy United States marshal of Pendleton, has been entertaining his friends at the Parker house by his memories of the wreck of the "Great Republic" here 14 years ago.

Hill's First addition is located in the center of the city. Lots are now selling in it for $2.

Thousands of mothers give their children Steadman's Soothing Powder during the teething period.

The Telephone did not leave for Portland until 10 o'clock last night. Through a misunderstanding of Capt. A. E. Larvina, the pilot, the storekeeper and two of the cabinmen were obliged to halt the boat after she had left the dock in order to get aboard.

Lottie Wroten and Harry Wroten filled themselves with red paint early yesterday morning, and became so bilious and noisy that Officer Seafeld was compelled to accompany them to the station. The usual fine was the result of their hearing before the police judge.

Only a few more days left to secure a fine $10, Crayon Portrait by ordering one dozen cabinets, at Crow's Gallery.

A six-horse power upright engine and boiler, almost new, for sale cheap. For particulars apply at this office.

H. Elstrom has fixed his prices for jewelry to suit the times, and the latest novelties can be secured at the cost of material used in the manufacture.

Notwithstanding counter attractions, the Stutz company drew a good sized audience to witness "Davy Crockett," which will be given again tonight for the last time. Tomorrow night will be reproduced, by special request, the historical drama, for one night only, entitled "Lucrezia Borgia."

Pette photographs, $1 per dozen, at Crow's gallery, 233 Third street.

There is no risk taken by joining Hill's lot clubs. Everybody gets the full value of their money.

Japanese novelties and fancy dry goods, can be had at half price, at the store of Wing Lee, next to Olsen's cigar store.

Being a descendant of a French family, Patsy Gallagher, the head waiter of the Swan chop house, craves French cologne, and has depolized the cook to keep him supplied. The cook charges him $1.50 a bottle, and this article is to inform him that he is being sold, as the pretended cologne is nothing but a weak solution of alcohol and a little peppermint essence.

For a delicious plate of pure ice cream, go to C. B. Smith, the Ice Cream Dealer. Ice Cream Soda a specialty. Private parlors for ladies. 483 Third street.

Olsen has 23 brands of clear Havana cigars and he will give you a better cigar for 10 cents than you can get for 15 cents at any other place. 527 Third street.

Tonight, at 7:30, in the First Presbyterian church, the Rev. J. W. Dorrance will deliver the ninth in a series of sermons on the subject of "Communion Services." On Sunday, April 23, the subject will be "The Holy Foundation." All persons contemplating uniting with the church, either by confession of faith or by letter, and all intending communicants are earnestly and cordially invited to attend these services.

Don't go to Portland to buy your tickets for the "Old Country" and the East when you can get them for the same price at the Union Pacific office in this city, and thereby save your local fare to Portland.

EXECUTRIX NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given to all whom it may concern, that the undersigned has been appointed executrix of the last will and testament of J. M. Olsen, deceased, late of Clatsop county, Oregon, by the County Court of said county, and all persons having claims against the estate of said deceased are notified to present the same, duly verified, to the said executrix, at the office of Fulton Bros., in the City of Astoria, in said county and state, within six months from this date. Dated at Astoria, Oregon, this 12th day of March, 1894. MAREN A. OLSEN, Executrix.

GALLOWAY NOMINATED

commissions, and Compton was a member of one of the odious commissions himself.

Curry, of Portland, who held a proxy from Baker county, in seconding the nomination of Compton, said he was the only man in the state that the Democrats could elect, but Ferguson, of Yamhill, who had such a lively tilt with J. J. Kelly at the morning session in a speech wherein he stated that Billy Galloway was sure of getting there, successfully refuted all arguments that the Portlander made in favor of the military candidate.

Among those at the Parker house are M. D. Roche, proprietor of the Holton house, Portland; Jefferson Meyers, who has large business interests in Linn county, and represented that county in the legislature, and Andrew Jackson Dufur, Jr., who is said to be a "chip of the old block," a regular "A. J." Democrat.

D. B. Worthington, a brilliant young newspaper man from Klamath Falls, is said to have made the neatest and most classical speech of the convention in placing Gen. H. B. Compton in nomination yesterday, and he was the recipient of many congratulations. The party is bringing Mr. Worthington to the front rapidly, and The Astorian extends its congratulations to him as a worthy fellow-journalist.

Nearly all the delegates accepted the invitation of the Athletic club and attended the exhibition at the club's quarters, which began at 8 o'clock and continued until 10:30. The program was one of merit, and was well received by the visitors, as well as the favored few Astorians who were fortunate enough to receive invitations. One delegate made the remark that he had noticed often, when visiting our city, that the young men were built as though they had had a thorough course of physical training.

The following counties went unanimously for Compton: Curry, Wallowa, Sherman, Klamath, Lake, Harney, Gilliam and Grant. Galloway secured the solid vote of Lane, Lincoln, Malheur, Polk, Morrow, Washington, Yamhill, Coos and Columbia. The other counties were divided, Multnomah showing 19 for Compton and 11 for Galloway.

Several futile efforts were made to adjourn at this juncture, but were promptly voted down, and an attempt to nominate state treasurer was made. Fenton, of Multnomah, placed the name of George W. Webb before the convention, but as he was uncertain whether Webb would run or not, and Charles Nickell said he was a Populist anyway, the nomination was not pushed.

There being an apparent scarcity of candidates, the adjournment effort was tried again, and after a slight struggle a recess was taken until 7 p. m.

After adjournment the delegates from the first congressional district met and nominated J. K. Weatherford for congress. Nickell's name was proposed, but he withdrew in favor of the gentleman from Linn.

For the second district J. H. Raley was elected without opposition.

The convention reassembled at 7:30, and after a spirited wrangle as to whether they should adjourn until tomorrow morning, compromised by going ahead until 8:30 to see what progress could be made.

Nominations were then taken up, and Helman, of Multnomah, named Dr. Mullinix, of Astoria, for secretary of state. A motion to make it unanimous came very near carrying, but Holly McGuire came forward with the name of Charles Nickell, whereupon Mullinix withdrew and Nickell was declared the nominee by acclamation.

Jeff. Myers nominated Thos. L. Davidson, of Marion county, and as no other candidates could be produced, he was elected by acclamation.

A slight tempest in a teapot was created when Judge Thayer made a motion that no nomination be made for supreme judge, Ferguson, of Yamhill, made a strong protest, and his humorous remarks about how he had always performed his duty at a Democrat brought down the house.

The name of Judge Bennett, of Wasco, was presented by Mr. Wright, of Polk, and after several speeches he was nominated by acclamation.

For attorney general, W. H. Holmes, of Salem, was nominated by Cox, of Multnomah, and elected by acclamation.

Fenton, of Multnomah, placed in nomination for superintendent of public instruction the name of G. A. Adams of Portland. D. V. S. Read was nominated by a Linn county delegate, and J. K. Weatherford, who had called Cox to the chair, seconded the nomination. Fenton then withdrew the name of Adams, and a motion to make the nomination of Read unanimous was carried. Read was called for and made a few brief remarks.

Capt. John O'Brien, of Portland, was nominated for state printer by acclamation.

The convention then adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning.

CONVENTION NOTES.

Clackamas county had the honor of having the youngest delegate at the convention.

Grover Cleveland's picture nearly jumped out of the frame when the discussion about gold bugs was at its height.

H. D. McGuire was appointed sergeant-at-arms, but before accepting the position he inquired if there were any perquisites.

Quite a number of ladies were entertained by the proceedings. This accounts for the lily-painting in Delegate Kilfeather's flights of oratory.

The hall was tastefully decorated with bunting and evergreens, and the portraits of Washington, Lincoln and Cleveland adorned the wall behind the chairman's desk.

W. W. McGuire, of East Portland, was down as a delegate. He is a brother of the state fish commissioner, H. P. McGuire, but parts his hair a little more than his bigger brother does.

After J. J. Kelly had made his reply to Ferguson's aspersions on Multnomah's Democracy, the United States weather man made one of his large, deep, red cyclone lines on his map.

How surprised Capt. Moffett's Kentucky friends would have been to have heard the music at the convention. The band never played "Dixey," "Maryland, Oh, My Maryland," or "Way Down the Suwanee River" once.

At one time it looked as though the Yamhill county delegation was going to be left out of the convention. Their credentials were mislaid, and for a while the Yamhillites were rather anxious, but when the missing documents were found they gave a sigh of relief and put in a solid vote for Galloway.

Among those at the Parker house are M. D. Roche, proprietor of the Holton house, Portland; Jefferson Meyers, who has large business interests in Linn county, and represented that county in the legislature, and Andrew Jackson Dufur, Jr., who is said to be a "chip of the old block," a regular "A. J." Democrat.
