TURPIE'S TURPTITUDE

He Forgets Senatorial Dignity and Courtesy.

CALLS ALDRICH HARD NAMES

Republican Exposure of Democratic Methods Begets a Scene in the Senate.

Associated Press.

Washington, April 30.—Senator Harris, who is in charge of the tariff bill in the senate, lost patience today at the way in which progress was impeded by Hale in the morning hour, as on several preceding days, when Hale objected to giving way for special measures.

Finally Harris abruptly moved that the senate proceed with the consideration of the tariff bill.

Wolcott interposed a question as to whether the committee now intended to report the amendments, which would change the whole scope and character of the bill. He had understood Harris to admit that the changes were to be made and Voorhees to deny it.

Aldrich said it was due to the senate and the country that they should know what bill was to be considered.

"House bill 4,864," interjected Harris, sharply.

"Yes," replied Aldrich, "with amendments, but when are they to be submitted?"

"When we get ready," said Grey, from his seat.

Hill submitted an observation or two which did not seem to please his Democratic colleagues. "The senator from Rhode Island" (Aldrich), he said, "appeared disturbed about some anticipated amendments. It occurred to him," he said, "that inasmuch as the tariff bill had passed from the jurisdiction of the finance committee, the amendments reported from that committee would not be entitled to any more consideration than the individual amendments, and would have no more parliamentary privilege."

Aldrich admitted this was true in a parliamentary sense, but perhaps it might not be true of this committee. Aldrich then read an interview with Secretary Carlisle printed in the morning papers. He said he thought it a strange coincidence that the executive officers of the government seemed always in possession of abundant information regarding the progress of tariff reform. President Cleveland, in his message told the country in advance what the Wilson bill was to contain, and now Carlisle comes forward with advance information about harmonizing the Democratic discord, information he volunteered which was in conflict with the recent statement of the chairman of the finance committee.

An incident then occurred which created a profound sensation. All the Democrats had been more or less irritated by the prodding from the other side, and the feeling was directed principally against Aldrich, who was maneuvering the opposition.

Turpie made a direct assault on Aldrich, the like of which has not been heard in the senate chamber for years. He declared that three monstrous untruths had characterized the opposition—three gross, palpable lies, of inconceivable mendacity. The first of these untruths was that a new bill was being prepared by the secretary of the treasury; the second, that three, or 300 amendments (it did not matter which), were to be presented, and the third was that the bill reported from the finance committee was not the bill to be passed. All these assertions had been categorically denied by four Democratic members of the committee, "and yet," continued Turpie, raising his hand and stretching it toward Aldrich, "the senator from Rhode Island comes in here and says he believes that they are true. On such an issue of veracity I prefer to believe the senators on this side, and I disbelieve the senators—no, I will not say senators—I disbelieve the diminutive unit of the other side who asserts to the contrary. Who is the author of these reports that are being circulated here and in the newspapers? Who claims the paternity? The senator from Rhode Island? I recollect the predecessor of the honorable senator from Rhode Island," he continued, with biting and venomous irony, referring to Senator Aldrich of 1890, "as a different individual from Senator Aldrich of today, but even he could not have been the author of all three of these untruths. He might have been the author of one. We, who were here then, will never forget the writhing of his distinguished countenance; his enormous development of cheek that extended from ear to ear, and from chin to forehead. We will never forget his auricular appendages that scraped the dome of the capitol. How can the present senator hope to rival his predecessor in the hatred of truth and in the love of falsehood that has always characterized the cheats of protection?"

When Turpie sat down there was a hush upon the chamber. Every one was amazed at the personal character of the attack upon Aldrich. Then all eyes were turned on the Rhode Island senator. He rose slowly.

"In the position the senator from Indiana now takes," he said slowly and deliberately, "he speaks for no one but himself. Under other circumstances and conditions I do not believe he would have made the speech he has made."

Aldrich took his seat. The incident closed without another word, and Quay took the floor and resumed his prepared speech begun some weeks ago. The senate then adjourned.

EXPECT TO WIN.

The Strikers on the Great Northern Are Confident of Success.

St. Paul, April 30.—A conference is in session at Minneapolis between Mr. Debs and representatives of the commercial bodies of the two cities looking to a settlement by arbitration of the Great Northern strike. Debs said today: "We expect to win the fight within 48 hours."

At Grand Forks, N. D., a special train bearing four companies of United States troops from Fort Snelling arrived today. There were 201 men, under command of Major J. H. Peters. Several missiles were thrown at the train at St. Cloud. One soldier was hit on the head with a brick, and another in the pit of the stomach with a coupling-pin. At Crookston some one fired a shot at the engineer. The train brought a pile-driver and two bridge crews to rebuild the burned bridges west of Minot. As soon as these are replaced it is believed a train will be sent through to the Coast. A special from Hinckley, a junction of the Great Northern and Eastern Minnesota, says a mob of 200 are waiting to prevent any train from going through.

Paris, Ky., April 30.—The postmaster has placed in the hands of the sheriff a letter dated and mailed at New York, giving him warning not to let Col. Breckenridge speak here on May 7, upon peril of a dynamite explosion intended to kill the congressman and all who may be near him. Some give the letter serious thought, but others regard it as a harmless joke.

Miss Blaine and Mr. Beale had been engaged for some years, but family sorrow postponed the wedding.

HARD TO NOMINATE

But It Will Be Still Harder to Elect.

SHERIFF SMITH KNOCKED OUT

The Democrats Have a Monkey and Parrot Time by Candle Light.

Ten minutes after 2 yesterday afternoon Dr. Mullinix stepped on the platform at Fisher's hall and called the convention delegates there assembled to order, informing them that the hour had arrived for opening the adjourned convention.

The doctor did not state whether it was a Democratic convention or not, but when such old-timers as Hon. John Hobson, James Brown, J. W. Walker and A. H. Sales were invited to sit on the platform right alongside of the doctor, where they could keep watch on Herman Wise, who sat in a front seat across the aisle from Thomas Dealey, with Coroner Pohl right behind the latter gentleman, it was fair to assume that it was a Democratic convention.

It seemed a pity that Mr. Logan, one of the original seven, was not present to encourage them, but he wasn't.

Secretary Nolan read the minutes of the last meeting, and they were duly approved.

Chairman Smith, of the committee on platform, desiring more time for his report, the same committees were appointed on credentials and order of business as at the last meeting. These and the two last named committees going into session, the convention was accordingly adjourned until 2:30, at which time the convention reassembled, and Chairman Thompson reported on credentials, and was followed by Chairman Wise on order of business, who requested that all those not delegates leave the hall, whereupon those who had no oil in their lamps dispersed, casting many looks of regret at the delegates, for it was understood that nearly every one of them had a tomahawk under his vest, with the handle in easy reach.

Before many half hours had slipped away it was stated upon the streets that some of the delegates had sounded their slogan, which was "Anything to beat Smith" that Delegate Selig claimed that Smith had insulted him right in the sheriff's office. This settled it, and Selig had the pleasure of plunking in his little black ball when Smith's name was called and afterwards finding it had counted.

At 10:30 the convention adjourned, after having placed before the voters of Clatsop county the following ticket: State Senator—Benjamin Young. State Representatives—John Kopp and Victor Michelson. County Clerk—Arthur Leberman. County Recorder—Capt. P. W. Weeks. County Judge—J. W. Walker. County Assessor—Thomas G. Boelling. Assessor—Perry A. Trullinger. County Surveyor—Alfred E. Tee. Justice of Peace—Mat. Hughes. Constable—Fred. Oberg. Coroner—W. A. Pohl.

THE FORCES DOUBLED.

Washington, April 30.—Evidences of preparation for the Coxeyites were seen about the halls and corridors of congress today. A double force of officers was on duty. Officers were stationed at all the entrances of the capitol. The lobbies were patrolled, and also the halls giving ingress to the congressional galleries.

Camp George Washington, Brightwood Park, D. C., April 30.—Although they have pitched their tents in the promised land, the Commonwealers of Christ have not found it flowing with honey. While Gen. Coxe and Marshal Browne stopped in a hotel, shabby tents provided accommodation for the com-monwealers. The leaders and private swarmed like rats in commissary wagons, many sleeping without blankets.

THE ARMY OF PEACE.

The Program for the May Day Demonstration.

Washington, April 30.—The second day of the commonweal army in Washington was spent by Commander Coxe in making arrangements with the authorities for his May Day demonstration, and by the men in a miserable little camp at Brightwood grumbling at the poor fare provided for them. The long advertised procession will start tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock, if the program is carried out, and the roads good. The army will march past the white house, war department, treasury and up Pennsylvania avenue past the capitol. Nine mounted policemen will ride at the head of the procession. If the army attempts to march into the capitol grounds it will be stopped and its leaders arrested if they persist. Mr. Coxe saw Major Moore, the chief of police, and announced to him his intention of speaking on the capitol steps. Some commonwealers intimate that when repulsed the army will disband, its members will enter the grounds as individuals and then do their speech-making under the statue of Christopher Columbus at the steps.

"If they do," says Major Moore, "they will be arrested."

DOWN WITH THE TYRANTS.

Fort Lake, April 30.—Carter and his band of unemployed citizens, claiming to number 500 men, left this city this afternoon. In a speech to his army Carter said: "Should all peaceful supplication fail to bring relief, I say to arms. We will endure tyranny no longer. We are going to Washington, and no power on earth can stop us very long. There are 5,000 men in Utah who would spring to arms and to our defense at a single word from me."

TROOPS READY.

Portland, April 30.—Word was received late this afternoon that the steamer Harvest Queen, now lying at Vancouver with 300 United States soldiers on board, was ready to proceed to Kalama at a moment's notice, in the event of trouble with the commonwealers at Puyallup, Wash. A Northern Pacific special is in readiness at Kalama to carry the troops to Puyallup.

FOUR DAYS TO DECIDE.

Des Moines, April 30.—Rumors of a general tie-up of all railroads running into Des Moines are rife today. Labor leaders said today that if Kelly is not furnished transportation inside of four days a strike prepared by the leaders of the American Railway Union will be inaugurated.

UNDER ARREST.

Helena, Mont., April 30.—Hogan's army, numbering 330 men, was brought here on a special train by the soldiers from Fort Keogh. The prisoners were taken to the fair grounds, two miles from the city, where they and the soldiers made camp.

FOR CONTEMPT.

Portland, Or., April 30.—Fifty leaders of the industrial army were jailed in the United States court this afternoon on a charge of contempt.

BONDS TO BE FORECLOSED.

New York, April 30.—A circular has been issued by the committee representing the consolidated mortgage 5 and 6 per cent bonds of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company, ordering the bondholders to deposit their bonds on or before May 25. The committee states that there seems to be no reason to believe that the interest on the bonds due December 1, 1893, will be paid when due, and under these circumstances it is desirable that foreclosure proceedings be promptly begun.

FOUND GUILTY OF BRIBERY.

Indianapolis, April 30.—Juror Armstrong was this afternoon convicted of an attempt to hang the jury in the Indianapolis National bank conspiracy case, and sentenced to 18 months in prison.
