THE BITER BITTEN.

The Democrats in congress are in a state of phreny bordering on distraction over the fix they find themselves in with the tariff bill. They thought to show their contempt for the Republicans, and at the same time deprive them of their constitutional right to a fair and free discussion and amendment of the bill, by securing a secret agreement among themselves on the bill before it was reported to the senate, and then by watching their chance force a premature passage of the measure by some such parliamentary trick as was played with the seigniorage bill, and thus enjoy with keen relish the helpless rage of the Republicans at the trickery and injustice put upon them by this violation of all precedent and the decorum of ordinary parliamentary practice.

They have, however, been caught by their own trap. The laugh is upon them, and right richly have they deserved the utter humiliation and disgrace of their position. Scandal and dissension have followed them all the way through their nefarious scheme, and some of their leaders can never hope to live down the infamy of the repeated lies they have been forced to tell on the floor of the senate, to say nothing of the charges of corruption and dishonesty which have been freely whispered around the hotels and drawing rooms of Washington.

only enact such marginal legislation as is left after their own pocket books are satisfied? The McKinley bill or the Wilson bill is not the important issue at present. The vital question at stake is the presence of this almost intangible and unobserved gang of bribers, whose work is seen by its effects.

The tariff is a matter of policy, and its settlement seems to be as far off as ever; the lobby is a matter of the life or death of this alleged government for the people, and its settlement cannot be postponed. The Messrs. Browne, of New York City, who are in Astoria for the purpose of making arrangements for the immediate resumption of work on the Nehalem branch railway, have the appearance of being very much in earnest, and it is the opinion of leading business men, in a position to know, that they have all the evidence necessary to establish their financial backing and ability to carry out any contract made with them.

Every day or two there is a shower of telegrams from Washington that the Democracy are agreed about a tariff bill. This does well until some one calls for particulars. Then no one can tell whether the reform is for revenue or deficiency—for an income tax or a sugar tax. The destitution of the Democratic party when business principles are concerned must now be apparent to every man with a grain of sense.

There seems to be at least one bona fide proposition now pending before the subsidy committee, and without intending any reflection or criticism on anybody, it may be said that the people are laboring under a great deal of suspense about the railroad matter, and have a right to expect some tangible development without much further delay.

There are good consistent Democrats all over the state of Oregon who intend to vote for Republican candidates for senator and representatives, out of sheer concern for what will inevitably happen if the Republicans fail to have a good safe majority on joint ballot in the next legislature.

It is a leading topic of gossip in Washington that certain Democratic senators are making immense fortunes on the fluctuations of the stock market, due to the uncertainty and conflicting statements about the tariff bill.

The prediction may be safely ventured that as between Col. Breckenridge and the best Republican that could be opposed to him, Breckenridge will be returned to congress by the normal Democratic majority.

The Astorian does not object to the publication in the Portland and Sound papers of anything they see fit to clip from its columns, but there are serious objections to their omission to give the proper credit.

There are strong reasons why the approaching election will be the most important ever held in Oregon, and every Republican taxpayer of Clatsop county is under obligations to vote and work for the election of the candidates for senator and representative on his ticket.

THE PRINCESS OF WALES INSANE. London Letter: The whereabouts of the princess of Wales and her two daughters this spring are shrouded in mystery. In fact the secrecy and evident celerity and dispatch with which the princess left England the day after the second drawing room which she attended have given rise to much gossip as to the possible or probable unimpeachable authority that she has become quite incurably and harmlessly insane, and that she is traveling about in search of her dead son. She has recently become almost completely deaf, although she has always been troubled with her imperfect hearing. She sits for hours without speaking to any one, and her attention cannot be attracted by any means whatever by either her daughters or her attendants. It is thought likely that she will never appear in public life in London again, and many are the conjectures as to the Duchess of York's fitness for taking her place as the leader of fashion and society.

A TRIAW. The farmhouse fire is dull and black. The trailing smoke rolls white and low. Along the fields, by the wood. It tanks and floats up higher, slow. The scattering sounds seem near and loud. The rising sun is clear and white. And in the air a mystery stirs. Of wintry hosts in coward flight.

THE QUEEN'S WIFE'S OBEDIENCE. Queen Victoria has no sympathy with the advanced and revolting wives who refuse to acknowledge the supremacy of the husband, even to the extent of declining to merge their maiden names in those of the men whom they condescend to marry. Her majesty's view of the question is the same today as it was when the Archbishop of Canterbury asked whether, upon the occasion of her marriage to the prince consort, the queen would prefer that the word "obey" should be omitted from the service, when her majesty instantly replied, "I wish to be married as a woman, not as a queen."—The (Salem) Sign.

DID YOU EVER MEET A TRULY GOOD MAN? No doubt you think you have, but we'll wager a dime or so he did not have rheumatism. If he did, he swore occasionally, and no man can be truly good who swears occasionally. Health, nerve tranquility and morality are apt to go hand in hand. Painful spasmodic diseases like rheumatism and neuralgia ruin the temper, make one morose, peevish and rebellious. This is a sad fact, but it is none the less true. Drive away the pain, mollify the temper, restore tranquility of mind in cases of rheumatism and neuralgia with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, an anodyne and tonic of comprehensive range and effect. It healthfully stimulates the kidneys, bladder, stomach, liver and bowels when inactive, and induces sleep and appetite. A very quieting effect, not an unnatural, stupefying one like that of an opiate, is produced by a wine-glassful before retiring. It is incomparable in malarial disease.

DECORATION DAY. Astoria, Or., April 30, 1894. To the People of Astoria, and the Public Schools Especially: Greeting. Circular Post, No. 14, Department of Oregon, G. A. R., proposes celebrating the coming anniversary, Memorial Day, in the usual appropriate manner. The decoration services will be had at the public cemetery, on the hill in Astoria. The order of exercises and full program will be published further on.

EXPENSIVE ECONOMY. Some people begrudge the little money that an Allicock's Porous Plaster costs, and then when they are racked with pain from a lame back or from the soreness arising from a cold, they will spend any amount of money to relieve the pain. If they only had one of those world-renowned plasters on hand they would be saved a vast amount of suffering and be considerably richer. At the first sign of stiffness of the joints apply one of these plasters without any delay. The soreness will be greatly relieved at once and soon disappear entirely. It will be money saved to have them on hand, to say nothing of the comfort they bring.

STANDS WITHOUT A RIVAL. Gentlemen: I have been troubled with very severe headaches for years, and have taken a great many different remedies, but have never found anything to give me as speedy and permanent cure as Krause's Headache Capsules. In my opinion they stand without a rival; they have cured me in every case. J. AND N. WILKIE, 38 Adams ave., West, Detroit, Mich. For sale by Chas. Rogers, sole agent, Astoria, Oregon.
