

BREAKING IN.

Happy man has "broken out" in a passion, and felt all "broken up" trying to get a new pair of shoes "broken in." He has had to "break off" many an engagement on account of crippled feet, and has gone "broke" many a time trying to get relief for his corns, the direct cause of ill-fitting shoes.

You will find all this obviated by purchasing your footwear at the store of JOHN HAHN & CO.

A POINTER

Many people believe that all blacksmith jobs are alike—that they are nothing but muscle and material mixed. That is true of ordinary jobs. Brains are also used to make a good job. So is conscience. A job made without skill or honesty is no good. Our work is widely known for its quality, durability and economy in the end.

WAS ALMOST BLIND

Little Girl had to be Kept in a Dark Room. Could not See to Feed Herself. Remedies and Doctors All Failed. Cured in One Week by Cuticura.

My little girl had very sore eyes. I tried everything but nothing did any good. I took her to a doctor in Atlanta, who treated her for a year, but she kept getting worse. I brought her home, was almost out of heart. I got fed sure she would go blind. An old lady told me to try CUTICURA REMEDY. I had no faith in them, as I had tried everything. I commenced on Saturday, and before the next Saturday her eyes were sound and well as any child's. She was almost blind, and had been kept in a dark room for more than a year; could not see to feed herself; and they have never been as yet the least particle sore or even looked red from that day until this, and it will be three years the first of May. They certainly cured her, and I think they are the greatest remedy out. I only used half a box of CUTICURA, one cake CUTICURA SOAP, and one bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT; so you see what wonderful things did for my little girl. I have read of all these most wonderful cures, but never before thought that they might be true; but I know this to be the positive truth.

Mrs. FANNIE GARWOOD, Canton, Ohio.

YESTERDAY'S WEATHER.

Maximum temperature, 50 degrees; minimum temperature, 42 degrees; precipitation, .05 inch. Total precipitation from July 1, 1893, to date, 94.47 inches; excess of precipitation from July 1, 1893, to date, 28.19 inches.

THE WEATHER TODAY.

Portland, May 7.—For Washington and Oregon: Fair weather; cooler.

AROUND TOWN.

Tomorrow is the last day in which to pay your water rates.

A patient from Olney was brought off the Mayflower yesterday and taken to St. Mary's hospital.

The salmon catch so far is not causing any of the fishermen to keep their eyes on the price of government bonds.

Col. E. C. Hughes is back from a trip to Portland. While there he attended the Elks' social and had the pleasure of meeting the eminent actor Frederick Warde and Louis James.

Nothing has been heard of the cutlery and other goods stolen from the Uppertown store of Ross, Higgins & Co., except a pair of buckskin gloves which were found on the river bank in close proximity to the premises.

The small boy who has been promised that he can go barefoot the first warm day isn't of any more importance among other boys than the boy who has been promised a coal oil can when it is empty so he can trade it for a merry-go-round ride.

Skamokawa hasn't altogether dropped out of the map. The editor of the Eagle points with pride to the fact that strawberry plants are in blossom and that Allie Brooks has killed a bear. That's glory enough for a while, and it lot better than Cathlamet can do with all her style.

COMMENCE TODAY.

The grand court of Foresters will arrive this morning and be in session here for two days. It is expected that there will be at least 50 delegates present, and the court will be held at Odd Fellows' hall.

RAILROAD NEWS.

The committee of twenty-one met at the chamber of commerce rooms yesterday afternoon to receive a proposition which was submitted by J. C. Stanton, after which the meeting adjourned until 10:30 this morning.

HAVE COMMENCED.

Street Supt. Chadwick and Councilman Scherneckau commenced yesterday renumbering the different houses of the city, and the task promises to be no easy one, though when completed it will be of great benefit to our people.

A SPRAINED ANKLE.

W. P. Burns, mail agent on the Telephone, has been laid up for over a week with a sprained ankle. Mr. Burns is missed by the boys about the postoffice, as he was as regular as clockwork, and though 72 years old has never been sick or known to be out of humor.

GAY SHOES THE FAD.

Fancy and colored shoes are in high favor this season. Red, white and gold colored ties are pretty for house and piazza wear, and every shade of tan, from pale buff to bronze, will be worn. A new fancy is a buttoned boot, made lower than the usual style, and fastened with six large buttons.

ROYAL BLOOD.

There is a woman in Sitka known as Princess Tom who is very rich. She at one time had three husbands, but has become Christianized and has discharged two. She is an extensive trader, is known all over Alaska, and wears upon her arm thirty gold bracelets made out of $20 gold pieces.

HONORS THRUST UPON HIM.

The Democratic county central committee had a meeting last night and accepted Ben Young's resignation as state senator and placed John Henry Smith's name on their ticket instead. Some claim that Smith's name is a corker, while others declare it will prove a sinker.

THE KICKER.

The kicker was abroad in our midst yesterday, and in going through the custom house square he noticed a Chinaman at work cutting the grass. He immediately uncorked the vials of his wrath and declared it was a shame when there was so many Christian voters to whom the job belonged, to have a heathen Chinaman do the work. Now the facts are that as an act of charity,

PROMPT ACTION.

The Astorian must give Chief Loughery credit for his prompt action in ordering the extermination of the kindergartens for gambling—the 25 cent for a nickel slot machines. He ordered the stranger, who dropped in upon us, to close them up at once. His action is very commendable, and although some few who were interested will fail to view the case as The Astorian does, the general public will say "Well done, Mr. Chief."

QUICK WORK.

Herman Wise received a telegram today from Senator Mitchell informing him that he had been confirmed by the senate as postmaster of Astoria. The name of the postmaster at Corvallis was sent to the senate three months ago by the president, and he has been waiting anxiously for his confirmation ever since.

RUNNING FULL.

The Clatsop Mills are running full-handed, and one would never suppose there had been a strike there 10 days ago. It seems too bad that a few men, who intended to quit the mill anyway, to go on the river fishing, would induce their comrades to leave their jobs, when there were dozens of men glad of the opportunity to get their places.

LIBERTY HALL TONIGHT.

The Evans & Sontag combination. Twenty ladies and gentlemen, in R. C. White's great realistic border drama, entitled "Evans & Sontag." Prices of admission 75c, 50c, 25c. Box office open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. The Stuts Company will produce "Rip Van Winkle" Friday and Saturday, and "La Bastille" for the benefit of schools on Saturday matinee.

NEARLY DRY.

The lake on the hill back of Clatsop Mills is now only 20 feet square, while heretofore at this season of the year it has covered about two acres. The outlet was formerly by way of the gully back of the Snowday foundry, but this outlet getting clogged up, the water forced a passage down farther east, and this is supposed to be the cause of the landslide which destroyed the dwellings belonging to Mr. Devlin.

WILD CATTLE.

James Walker brought in 52 head of cattle from the Nehalem country to Olney. They were as lively a herd as was ever got together, many of them having run wild in the woods for some time like elk, and when they were rounding the herd up the ranchers took hounds and trailed them as they would game. If Walker goes after unruly voters as he did for these cattle, Capt. Grey should see that those due him are not scented.

BEARS AND THINGS.

This neighborhood will soon figure in the papers as a game community. It was only last week that an Astorian lad killed a bald eagle down at the Point Adams light house measuring seven and one-half feet from tip to tip, and now, Monday Will Bartholdus and Henry Duhmas caught a large black bear in a trap out near Greenwood cemetery, and from the number of tracks seen in that vicinity they may catch two or three more.

A WORTHY OBJECT.

A respectable lady, without means or relatives able to help her, is said to be slowly dying in Alderbrook from consumption. It seems she has a little girl, just three years old, and the poor mother's last hours are rendered additionally agonizing by the dread of leaving her little one dependent on the cold mercies of the world. Kind neighbors have done all for her in their power, but none of them is in a position to satisfy her as to the welfare of her child after she is gone. Is there not some one in Astoria, blessed with the opportunities for doing good, afforded by the possession of a fair share of this world's goods, who will go to this poor woman and smooth her dying pillow with the merciful assurance that her babe shall be cared for after she is dead? If there is such a one, let him go to her at once, lest with the dread nature of her disease, death may come to her too quickly for the sweet consolation she so much needs.

TURNED DOWN.

Postmasters receive some rather queer requests. A majority of the people throughout the country seem to have an idea that when a postmaster gets his commission he is compelled at once to give the financial standing of any one, the whereabouts of persons he never saw or heard of, and hunt situations for the unemployed.

A letter was received at the Astoria office yesterday, addressed to the postmaster, from a fair damsel in Eureka, Cal., who would like a position in this city. She describes herself as a tall blonde, 23 years of age, of lively disposition and liked by all wherever she goes. She states that business is dull in Eureka, and requests that the postmaster use his official influence in securing the position she wants. She requested an answer, but failed to enclose stamp, so in all probability she is now looking for "the letter that never came."
