YESTERDAY'S WEATHER.

Maximum temperature, 53 degrees; minimum temperature, 40 degrees; precipitation, none. Total precipitation from July 1, 1893, to date, 94.47 inches; excess of precipitation from July 1, 1893, to date, 27.77 inches.

THE WEATHER TODAY.

Portland, Or., May 12.—For Western Washington: Light showers, followed by fair weather; cooler. For Eastern Washington and Oregon: Fair weather, except light showers, followed by fair, in Northern Oregon; cooler.

AROUND TOWN.

If tombstones are to be trusted, bad men never die.

Mr. John Fox is the nominee for State Senator on the Republican ticket.

Mrs. Addie Wheatley died at Seaside, on Friday evening, of consumption.

If you desire to see a blue blood, hunt him up this morning, for he was out all last night.

Shad are commencing to run, several having been brought in off the river yesterday.

The man with the labeling machine sold out fasteners on the side, to help pay expenses.

The schooner Frank Sanborn brought in 4,888 pounds of salmon last evening and 700 bluebacks.

When an Uppertown girl burns her hand on a curling iron, she tells her young man she did it frying potatoes.

The Delmonico restaurant intends serving a chicken dinner today that will tempt the appetite of even a dyspeptic.

Some believers are wearing iron finger rings for rheumatism. One blacksmith in town has made at least 25 of them.

A gold trimmed silver thimble was found at Rescue hall some time ago, which the owner can have by calling at this office.

Word has been received that some of the weathers have joined the forces of the late Commodore McGinty, over at Ellensburg.

Crow & Lussier, High Art Photographers, corner Second and Washington streets, Portland, Oregon, successors to E. W. Moore.

There is a young man in Astoria as careful in calling on his girl he always knocks, for fear if he came with a ring she might consider it a proposal.

There have been a number of babies to name in Astoria during the past two months, but no one has thought enough of Coxe to name a child after him.

The sickest man in any community is a man having money in the bank drawing no interest. It spoils his digestion, ruffles his temper, and keeps him awake nights.

The inventor of the quarter for a nickel slot machine claims it is not a gambling device, but a source of innocent amusement. Probably it is for him when he is counting the nickels.

There is a man in town so interested in the city's welfare that he has never missed seeing the Telephone come in since he commenced running except once when he was sick. Then he sent a written excuse to the agent and got very angry when he found his boy had forgotten to deliver it.

The housekeeper that wishes new window screens put in early will bear in mind that many of the largest jobbers in the country are not only short of stock, but found it impossible to obtain supplies from mills with which they have contracts. There has been a slight advance in prices, and still higher prices are expected.

TONIGHT THE STUTZ COMPANY IN "THE NEW MAGDALEN."

"The New Magdalen" is a dramatization of Wilkie Collins' famous story of the same name, and will receive its initial performance tonight. The story is of a woman—Mercy Merrick—striving against circumstances that exclude her from society, to regain the lost place. She is engaged as a nurse in a French hospital during the Franco-Prussian war. During an attack an English woman is struck by a fragment of a shell and left for dead. Mercy Merrick assumes her name and position to gain the lost place, which she does, only in time to be confronted by the rightful person. The play is a strong one, and will no doubt attract large audiences.

A SMALL GATHERING.

Just 112 by actual count composed the audience at the much-heralded Populist meeting last night at Humes' old cannery, and among this number could be counted many Republicans and Democrats, who left disgusted before the meeting was over.

UNDERGROUND TELEGRAPH.

J. H. Bratt has made over 250 sittings for the Chinamen who wished their photographs for registering. Mr. Bratt states that though the time is up they are still coming. It is intimated that they have had the word passed along the line the time would be extended by the authorities at Washington.

NO EXCUSE.

Quite a number of gentlemen will forget all about today being Sunday, and take a launch loaded with fishing rods and line to seek the wary trout. From the paraphernalia that some of them will take the only valid excuse the fish can have for not taking a bite will be that they are lost in contemplation of the manifold and wondrous beauties of the things the bait is attached to.

A LUXURY.

Any man who likes griddle cakes, and won't get his wife one of those soapstone griddles, which do not have to be greased, and consequently do not soil the house with a disgusting odor, should not have cakes at all. He can get up from the breakfast table and leave the house, smell and all, but his wife must inhale the odor, which gets into each room, for at least two hours after the meal is over. Wives, throw the old iron griddle away and demand a new soapstone one.

LADY RIDERS.

Astoria ladies are getting the bicycle habit. It comes slow, but sure, and moves hand in hand with improved streets. In other cities, with less advantages than Astoria, hundreds of ladies affect the wheel. There ought to be at least 25 lady riders here before the summer is over. In a bicycle tournament last week held in Pike county, Mo., in which over 200 cyclists started, a St. Louis lady rider led the procession when the start was made for a 6-mile ride over the pike road.

TWO ALARMS.

The old Devil mess-house, belonging to M. J. Kinney, caught fire in the roof yesterday. The fire was easily extinguished, but not before some one had turned in an alarm, presumably to see how fast the engines could run, for there was no necessity for it.

Another alarm was turned in at 7 o'clock in the evening, which proved to be the burning roof of the building occupied by Harris & Wright. This was extinguished without the aid of the department.

CANNERY PROSPECTS.

The cannerymen of Astoria, Or., have almost given up hope of a large pack of salmon this year. Despite the fact that all the conditions so far have been favorable for a heavy run, fish are still scarce, and the average pack per cannery is not above 60 cases. Since the opening of the season, and in fact for two weeks previously, the weather has been all that could have been wished; and it was confidently expected that the high temperature would bring the fish in, but the expectation failed of realization. There has been little or no trap fishing yet on account of the freshets, and until the water clears it would be a waste of time and money to get the traps in readiness. It is safe to say that the total pack for the year will not reach last year's figures.—Baker City Democrat.

A HARD HIT.

Early yesterday morning, when Eva Smith was settling with Pete Munson, barkeeper for Alex. Gilbert, for the amount she owed the bar, there was a difference of 10 cents between their accounts. Neither one was willing to acknowledge the lack of expert bookkeeping, and the "lie" passed between them. Eva was not going to have her business education doubted or assailed without some argument on her part, and she up with a pitcher and took a crack at Peter's skull, which raised such a commotion that Officer Seafeldt appeared on the scene and took Eva to the station, where Munson made a complaint charging her with an assault.

The case was called yesterday afternoon in Judge Osburn's court, but continued until Monday, at 3 o'clock, as the complainant was too badly injured to appear.

IN THE CITY.

State Fish Commissioner H. D. McGuire came down on the Telephone last evening, and will spend Sunday in the city. While here he will confer with Sheriff Smith in regard to a stricter observance of the laws against illegal fishing.

Mr. McGuire states that he has received several anonymous letters from Astoria, complaining of his lack of attention to the law-breakers of this vicinity. If these parties only realized how extensive the duties of Mr. McGuire's office are, and how large the state of Oregon is, and how many points in the state are demanding his presence, all at the same time, they would, when they sent him communications, at least sign their names, or, better still, they might aid the commissioner in the arduous work of detecting and punishing law-breakers without any communications to him at all.

THE LATEST RAILROAD NEWS.

The members of the railroad committee have more business on their hands just now than Grant had when he took Vicksburg. They are holding sidewalk councils and back-shop caucuses, by twos and threes and the half dozen. Yesterday morning several of these caucuses met on Danziger's corner, and from the remarks that passed between them, an outsider would have thought that things were not running smoothly betwixt them. Later in the day it was reported that the committee had decided to reject the Browne proposition in its present form. The Stanton proposition will be taken up next, though some of the committee want to wait and see what the U. P. will do, but this suggestion to confer again with Baxter and Dickinson before having done with the Stanton people is not looked upon with favor by others, who say so long as there are parties here claiming to have a substantial contract to submit they should have attention until disposed of finally.

"BREAKING IN."

Many a man has "broken out" in a passion, and felt all "broken up" trying to get a new pair of shoes "broken in." He has had to "break off" many an engagement on account of crippled feet, and has gone "broke" many a time trying to get relief for his corns—the direct cause of ill-fitting shoes.

You will find all this obviated by purchasing your footwear at the store of JOHN HAHN & CO.

A POINTER

Many people believe that all blacksmithing jobs are alike—that they are nothing but muscle and material mixed. That is true of ordinary jobs. Brains are also used to make a good job. So is conscience. A job made without skill or honesty is no good. Our work is widely known for its quality, durability and economy in the end.
