YESTERDAY'S WEATHER.

Maximum temperature, 61 degrees; minimum temperature, 46 degrees; precipitation, none.
Total precipitation from July 1, 1893, to date, 94.69 inches; excess of precipitation from July 1, 1894, to date, 27.06 inches.

THE WEATHER TODAY.

Portland, May 19.—For Oregon and Washington: Showers, followed by fair weather and cooler.

AROUND TOWN.

What has become of the old-fashioned men who used to pitch quarts every spring?

There are some cyclists in this city that are now coming wheels. But they'll learn.

The Columbia Camera club is preparing, in its dark room, an entertainment, which will develop soon.

What has become of the old-fashioned boy who, at whistle-making time, used to swap knives "sight unseen"?

Painters have been at work brightening up the appearance of the steamers Eclipse, E. L. Dwyer and Mayflower.

The boatbuilders complain of not having the amount of work that they generally have at this season of the year.

There is now some apprehension that the winter mulching was taken from the O'Hara boom too early in the spring.

Frank Stevens' boat and another yesterday brought in 1,000 pounds of fish. Stevens had 100 pounds and the other fellow 900.

There is very little doing in the teaming and transfer lines, and those owning outfits are simply hanging on until times look up.

Things were so quiet and peaceful yesterday afternoon that to get his blood in circulation a Commerce street cigar dealer spent five cents for a "War Cry."

Those that have been keeping tabs from week to week on the race for legislature, say "that it is no longer necessary." C. J. Curtis and C. F. Lester will be the two who will accompany John Fox over to Salem.

Can it be possible that John H. Smith is really trying to get the office of senator? He has had Fred Keene pouring a lot of pointers into his ears during the past few days. Perhaps that accounts for his bright looks.

Contractor Liddell was showing a piece of spruce timber yesterday that was a curiosity. It had been eaten through by a family of large black ants, and their course was as straight and smooth as though the work had been done with an edged tool.

MARINE ITEMS.

The steamer George W. Elder passed out yesterday for San Francisco.

The steamer State of California arrived in yesterday morning, bound for Portland. She unloaded over 100 tons of freight for this point, one-half of which was for the Pacific Can Company.

The stewards on the State of California has held that position for 20 years, between Portland and San Francisco.

Twenty-five per cent off for cash, for fifteen days only, at 474 THIRD STREET.

TO THE PUBLIC.

We take this means of expressing our sincere thanks to the many petitioners who have requested us to accept the nominations of sheriff and county judge for Clatsop county as independent candidates for the said offices. And while we must decline the nomination we do feel that a sufficient number of voters of the county would give us their support on the 4th day of June to elect us.

Our reasons for declining are many, but of a personal character. We decline, and thank the petitioners for their expression of confidence in us.

Yours Truly,
H. A. SMITH, Sheriff.
C. J. TRENCARD, County Clerk.

Astoria, Or., May 19th, 1894.

LEFT ASHORE.

Two passengers of the steamer California could not resist the temptation to stretch their limbs on shore while the steamer lay at the dock yesterday, but on their return they found she had left, and so were they.

A MEAN THIEF.

A fisherman, who had been out all night and only caught four fish, tied his boat up at the wharf on West Ninth street yesterday morning, while he went up the street to make some purchases. On his return he found some one had taken the fish, and left him nothing to show for his night's work.

AN INTERESTING TEXT.

The First Methodist church was crowded to its utmost capacity last Sunday evening with attentive listeners to Dr. Bushong's sermon on the text "For if the Foundations Be Removed," etc., Psalms xl, 3. The music was exceptionally good, the anthem being pronounced the finest ever heard in Astoria.

The ladies of Astoria will be delighted with the styles and prices, as the hats that will be shown are the cream of the most stylish millinery parlors in Portland.

POLICE NOTES.

Officer Thompson discovered a sleeper on the sidewalk on Commerce street early Sunday morning, who, upon being awakened, grabbed the officer by the legs and pulled his feet from under him, yelling at the same time, at the top of his voice. The officer, on regaining his feet, did his best to quiet him, but, like all crazy drunks, he would not be soothed, and it was necessary to use force to get him to the station. He was fined $10 Monday morning, while two other drunks contributed $10 to the credit side of the city's books.

"BREAKING IN."

Many a man has "broken out" in a passion, and felt all "broken up," trying to get a new pair of shoes "broken in." He has had to "break off" many an engagement on account of crippled feet, and has gone "broke" many a time trying to get relief for his corns—the direct cause of ill-fitting shoes. You will find all this obviated by purchasing your footwear at the store of JOHN HAHN & CO.

A POINTER.

Many people believe that all blacksmithing jobs are alike—that they are nothing but muscle and material mixed. That is true of ordinary jobs. Brains are also used to make a good job. So is conscience. A job made without skill or honesty is no good. Our work is widely known for its quality, durability and economy in the end.
