MEMORIA.

Once a year they come to us—these men that went to the war in soldier's clothes thirty years ago; went, and never came back again—they come and claim a day's remembrance.

They are marching today in their faded coats of blue—not as they marched in years gone by; they are marching with faltering steps and dimmed eyes.

We cherish with tears and flowers the memory of those who died. We hail with cheers and rejoicing those who fought and live.

Attest: F. D. WINTON, Post Commander. W. C. CASSELL, Adjutant.

mentation be not sufficient to justify his election, it would be difficult to conceive what should. It is the men who have demonstrated their possession of the brains and ability to succeed in business that this state wants most of all in the legislature just now.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

The First M. E. church held a large audience last Sunday evening, to listen to the able sermon of Dr. Bushong, his subject being "The Conflicts and Triumphs of a Great Ideal" (Liberty).

The church was handsomely and tastefully decorated with the national colors and floral designs of various designs, and all arranged with an artistic grace worthy of an artist.

Dr. Bushong traced his theme along the march of the age, beginning with the battle of Marathon to the surrender at Appomattox.

He closed his brilliant discourse with a peroration to the Goddess of Liberty holding aloft the torch of freedom in New York harbor.

The music by the choir, consisting of chants, anthems and patriotic songs, was admirably rendered, and added in no small degree to the pleasure of the evening.

Two Pictures For Voters.

PICTURE ONE—1892.

In the 12 months ending December 31, 1892, we have produced and consumed more than in any other former year of our history, and this country was enjoying the highest degree it had ever attained, economically, industrially and financially.

PICTURE TWO—1893.

Between November, 1892, when Mr. Cleveland was elected, and his inauguration in March, 1893, our industrial and financial skies had become very dark and gloomy.

Between November, 1892, when Mr. Cleveland was elected, and his inauguration in March, 1893, our industrial and financial skies had become very dark and gloomy.

Why the difference? Why the magnificent prosperity in 1892, and why the unspendable losses, distress and destruction of 1893? There is, there can be, but one answer to this very suggestive question.
