

GRANDMOTHER SAID.

"Always set your chair back when you are going away; Don't leave it in the middle of the room or standing carelessly. This is what grandmothers said, as often, when a boy, I jumped up and ran out of doors a reckless hobble-shoer. "Always set your chair back when you are going away; Don't leave it in the middle of the room or standing carelessly." These words, repeated long ago, come ever fresh to mind. When little duties are overlooked or left to lag behind, In the daily walks of busy life, when we think we have it time To be orderly and almost look upon politeness as a crime, We are quite too apt, from carelessness, to think, if not to say, That it matters not if we forget to set our chairs away. But it will be found that daily life will be more worth the living, If we blend, in harmony, the precepts of receiving and of giving; If we heed the tender chidings dealt out in childhood's day, And always "set our chair back when we are going away." -Clark W. Bryan in Good Housekeeping.

A Wonderful Timekeeping Automaton. One of the most wonderful timekeepers known to the horologist was made in London about 100 years ago and sent by the president of the East India Company as a gift to the emperor of China. The case was made in the form of a chariot, in which was seated the figure of a woman. This figure was of pure ivory and gold and sat with her right hand resting upon a tiny clock fastened to the side of the vehicle. A part of the wheels which kept track of the flight of time were hidden in the body of a tiny bird, which had seemingly just alighted upon the lady's finger. Above was a canopy so arranged as to conceal a silver bell. This bell was fitted with a miniature hammer of the same metal, and although it appeared to have no connection with the clock regularly struck the hours and could be made to repeat by touching a diamond button on the lady's bodice. In the chariot at the ivory lady's feet there was a golden figure of a dog, and above and in front were two birds apparently flying before the chariot. This beautiful ornament was made almost entirely of gold and was elaborately decorated with precious stones. -St. Louis Republic.

High Explosives. There are certain explosives of high power which, when heated, burn quickly if freely exposed, or if confined explode only at the spot where heat is applied without the whole mass taking part in the explosion. Nitroglycerol, dynamite, gun cotton, picric acid and the new German military powder are examples. This is said to be because they are bad conductors of their own explosive wave. If, however, the same substances are subjected to a violent shock by the explosion in their midst of initial charges of mercury fulminate, the shock causes to affect all the molecules of the explosive at once, and the whole mass of the latter explodes with enormous violence. -New York Sun.

The Pearl Oyster. Very few people are aware that the pearl oyster is not in any way like the oysters which we eat. It is of an entirely different species, and as a matter of fact the shells of the so-called pearl oysters are of far more value to those engaged in pearl fishing than the pearls. There are extensive pearl fisheries in the Gulf of California, and some of the finest pearls have been taken from those waters. In 1881 one pearl—a black one—was sold for $10,000, and every year since that time many pearls have been taken from the beds in the California Gulf valued at over $7,500 each. -Chicago Herald.

She Loved Him. Single Man (to himself)—I am sure that darling little angel loves me. She takes me into her confidence and tells me all her troubles. Same Man (some years later)—Consnarn it all! From morning till night, and night till morning, when I'm home, I hear nothing but tales about the servants, the butcher, the butler, the baker, the candlestick maker and all the rest of 'em. -New York Weekly.

Not to Be Considered. Mrs. Chungwater (after an unusually spirited engagement)—Josiah, if we can't get along in peace, we'd better separate. Mr. Chungwater (shaking his head mournfully)—It wouldn't help matters any, Samantha. I can tell you right now you'd never get another man that would endure your cooking as meekly as I do. -Chicago Tribune.

Switzerland's numerous waterfalls have proved a means for the generation and supply of an abundant amount of power for a comparatively small expenditure of capital. At the end of last year there were in that country 553 electric light installations and 52 plants for the electrical transmission of power.

Roots of all trees draw large quantities of moisture from the soil, which is discharged into the air through the leaves. It is estimated that an oak tree with 700,000 leaves would give off something like 700 tons of water during the five months it carries its foliage.

In British India the number of persons adhering to the sects of the ancient Brahmanic religions is estimated at 211,000,000. There are 7,000,000 Buddhists, 90,000 Parsees, 57,000,000 Mohammedans and 9,000,000 of the ancient pagans or nature worshippers.

There was recently given in Denmark a concert that may be regarded as absolutely unique as regards the instruments used. The instruments included two horns from the bronze age, which are believed to be at least 2,500 years old.

The drinking of salt water is said to be a perfect cure for seasickness, though it makes the patient very miserable for a few minutes after he takes the cure.

THE YELLOW GLOW OF THE HORIZON.

Painted on the sky by the setting sun, is beautiful. Not so the yellow glow of a face tinged with bile. And oh! the disagreeable discomfort that bile in the wrong place produces. Twinges in the right side and under the right shoulder blade, nausea, vertigo, sick headache, constipation, faulty digestion. Not in an instant can the symptoms of biliousness be dispelled, but persistence in the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will eradicate them, restore digestion and regularity of the bowels, and counteract tendencies to more aggravated complaints, which an interruption of these functions begets. Rheumatism, inactivity of the kidneys and bladder, neuralgia, and inability to sleep, are also remedied by this genial, preventative and restorative of nerve force and tranquillity. As an antidote to the poison of malaria, it is unfailing and prompt. A wineglassful three times a day.
