POPULIST FREE LUMBER.

To any man in Oregon having the least inclination toward Populism the action of the representatives of that party in the senate on last Thursday ought to settle the question of such predilection forever. Southern Democrats were willing to leave a small duty on certain kinds of lumber, and had arranged the schedules of the tariff bill accordingly, but when Allen offered an amendment to strike out the protected paragraphs, these same Democrats, in their anxiety to propitiate the Populists, and thus forestall a too close inspection of the influences behind the sugar schedules, through that arch-enemy and avowed exterminator of the country's rest. industrial interests, Senator Vest, promptly agreed to "accept" the amendment. The result is that one of the most promising and important industries of the northwest will be totally ruined, and through the direct instrumentality of these hariequins of the senate. Everybody in this section of the country has been looking forward to the resumption of the lumber trade as the one positive reliance for future prosperity, and it is a sad and bitter disappointment to thousands of laboring met, who have found employment in the country of Clatsop, and state of Oregon; in recognition of the fact that we desire the office of country assessor, to be conducted in that impartial manner and with the business ability which has saved to this country thousands of dollars. Since your appointment as country assessor by the Hon, country court, would respectfully request that you allow your name to appear upon the ticket as an independent candidate for the office of country assessor, of Clatsop. most promising and important indus-Ing mer, who have found employment in the Revelopment of this great industry to now realize for a certainty that the mills will never open again. CERTAIN RUSTIC REMEDIES.

"Simples" Which Country Folks Believe

"When the Adirondack native becomes afflicted with any of the numerous small ills which make mankind wretched," said a returned visite "he does not waste much time on doctors, but goes straight to the woods or his attic for nature's own remedies. There is one old man whom I have met with, packbasket on shoulder and shears and a rough board stool in his mittened hands, going after yarrow, which, dried, is a standby for coughs when it has been made into a wicked looking brew. Fir balsam, coaxed drop by drop from the 'blisters' which swell on the balsam fir at moonfull, is a sovereign remedy for lung and chest complaints. "Gravel weed, by which name they insult trailing arbutus, is excellent for the complaint which gives it its name, and bladder root has a desirable effect on the kidneys and neighboring organs. Sage tea, containing a little summer savory, is efficacious for worms in children, for which ammonia, steeped, is also used. Sunflower seeds, steeped, strained and sweetened with molasses will cure the 'whoop' in whooping cough. Horseradish leaves, wilted and bound on the face and back of the neck, will drive away neuralgia, and a nutmeg, bored and tied about the neck, will keep it away. The nutmeg must be renewed about once every six weeks.

"Onions, sliced, pounded and placed in a cloth and laid over the affected part will draw out inflammation. A red onion, halved, and with one part slighta carbuncle or a boil will speedily remove the pus and has saved life. A red worsted string tied about the neck will calls for some credulity, one might think, but I have seen it proved in one or two

"There are many more of these simple remedies in the north woods pharmacopæia which the wise ones have at their fingers' end, and if they are not more widely used and money kept in the overalls of the thrifty native it is because a lenient and fortunate fate presides over the incomes of the Adirondack n.edicos."-New York Sun.

Curious Effects of a Slight Hart.

Alfred Cook, who was hurt in the railway accident near Marshfield, is still in a precarious state. He is still delirious and also totally blind from the blow on his head, the only external mark of which is a bruise about as large as a quarter. He imagines-that he is still under the car and continually pleads that his companion (who was but slightly hurt) be taken out quickly. "He is worse hurt than I'am, and I can wait," is the constant cry which shows the nature of the man. He thinks they have been under the car three weeks and protests against the delay and darkness. which he attributes to bad management on the part of the railroad company. He does not realize that he is blind and frequently asks why lanterns are not procured. At times he imagines the car is settling down upon him and struggles to hold it up until he sinks back exhausted. At such times he has to be
