President Jordan, of the Stanford university, is umpiring a Puget Sound fishermen's contest which is attracting the attention of Puget Sound Nimrods. A Tacoma man offered a $15 fishing outcurrent was very strong and caught the fit for the man bringing in the largest trout. When W. M. Ollard, of Puyallup, brought in a 7-pound 15-ounce "steel head," the other fishermen said it was a salmon and not a trout.

President Jordan decided it was rout, adding that the so-called "steelhead" or rainbow salmon were all trout, and that when found in the Upper Sec ramento or the coast range rivers where they went to spawn, they were brighter in color than when off the mouths of rivers, and that at sea they grew larger and less bright in color However, they were of the same species,

My disease (psoriasis) first broke out on my left cheek, spreading across my bose, and almost covering my face. It ran into my eyes, and the physician was armid I would lose my eyesight altogether. It spread all over my head, and my hair all fell out, until I was entirely bald-headed; it then broke out on my arms and shoulders, until my arms were just one sore. It covered my entire body, my face, hoad, my shoulders being the worst. The wnite scale fell constantly from my head, shoulders, and arms: the skin would thicken and be red and very titchy, and would enack and bleed if scratched.
