The Astorian guarantees to its subscribers the largest circulation of any newspaper published on the Columbia river.

Advertising rates can be obtained on application to the business manager.

This paper is in possession of all the telegraph franchises, and is the only paper on the Columbia river that publishes genuine dispatches.

The Daily Astorian's circulation is five times as great as that of the combined circulation of the other daily papers of Astoria.

The Weekly Astorian, the third oldest weekly in the state of Oregon, has next to the Portland Oregonian, the largest weekly circulation in the state.

Subscribers to the Astorian are requested to notify this office, without loss of time, immediately they fail to receive their daily paper, or when they do not get it at the usual hour.

Handley & Haas are our Portland agents and copies of the Astorian can be had every morning at their stand on First street.

NO "TRIMMINGS" FOR FARMERS.

The senate has made sorry work with the agricultural appropriation bill. The provisions of the house bill for investigating the subject of irrigation, which is of pronounced interest in every section west of the Missouri river, have been so changed as to remove all the requirements which the house bill contained, and this practically places the whole matter at the discretion of the secretary of agriculture, whose economical methods do not promise such an investigation as the far west required.

The house provision for carrying weather forecast flags on mail trains, so that the farmers could be informed of the probable changes as the train passed, has been stricken out. The provision for the publication of data giving the yield of agricultural products, with the cost of production, rates of transportation, visible supply on hand, and other information, was also eliminated from the bill.

The only important amendment to conduct a series of experiments upon the habits of insects injurious or beneficial to plants, when called upon to do so in a section where it becomes necessary.

The striking out of the clauses named has saved the government $3,250, the senate bill making the appropriation that much smaller. It may be doubted if such a saving is wise or along the line of prudent economy. The weather flags on mail trains would be of great benefit to the farmers and the cost nothing as compared with the good results that might follow their use.

When it is understood that the navigation of the great lakes is controlled by the signals forecasting the weather it is easy to understand how such information might be of vast value to the agricultural interests of the country.

For some reason, probably as explained by a member of the common council, "a lack of means," that part of the city known as Uniontown is practically without fire protection, and yet there are as many people living over there, and as much money invested in homes and industries as in any other part of the city covering the same amount of ground.

What has become of all the nets that have been confiscated by the deputy game protector since the season opened? It is said they have been disposed of for cash and the money used to liquidate the expenses of the deputy making the seizures. If so, and without looking closely into the law relating to matters of this kind, we venture to say that a clear title did not accompany the sale. At the very best, the proceeding looks irregular. Upon general principles it is contrary to the constitutional rights and fundamental law of the land, that any citizen's property can be taken without the process of law, nor can it be sold to satisfy any forfeiture or penalty without formal condemnation proceedings and at public sale.

The Chronicle is about the only paper in San Francisco that has had the courage to boldly charge the American Railway Union with the dastardly train-wrecking at Sacramento last Wednesday. The other papers seem to be body and soul with the strikers, advocating riot and lawlessness, and any bloodshed that comes from a continuance of the present trouble can be laid indirectly at their doors.

At New Orleans yesterday they played baseball at 104 in the shade and then sent the players home in ambulances. Some of the Oregon teams (without any reference to our local nines) are so weak that they need ambulances whether the mercury is high or low.

The example recently set by Judge Gray in demanding that the dignity of his court should be recognized, could well be followed by Justice Abercrombie. The addressing of witnesses as Tom, Dick, or Harry, savors too much of the familiarity of the minstrel show.

There is an impression abroad that Eugene V. Debs is a foreigner. Not so, however, as the great labor dictator is a Hoosier, and was a clerk in his father's store in Terre Haute, Ind., before he became a railway fireman.

When the boycott passed into violence, that was the "beginning of the end."

A GOOD WORD.

Mr. J. J. Kell, Sharpsburg, Pa. Dear Sir: I am glad to say a good word for Krause's Headache Capsules. After suffering for over three years with acute neuralgia and its consequent insomnia (which seemed to baffie the efforts of some of our best physicians) you suggested this remedy which gave me almost instant relief.

A POINTER

Many people believe that all blacksmithing jobs are alike—that they are nothing but muscle and material mixed. That is true of ordinary jobs. Brains are also used to make a good job. So is conscience. A job made without skill or honesty is no good. Our work is widely known for its quality, durability and economy in the end.
