

OREGON NOTES.

Six tons of butter was shipped from Marshfield on one steamer to San Francisco last week.
The county court of Morrow county have refused to allow deputies for either sheriff or clerk for the next two months.
The eternal fitness of things happened in Salem when a man named Pike lead a fishing party who returned with over 200 on their combined strings.
The town hall must be full of hay at Gold Beach, as they have allowed a genuine son of Ham to give a minstrel show in the county court house.
Squirrel poison is selling at $1 a gallon at Heppner, and guaranteed to kill or send the pesky animals so near eternity that they can look through the bars.
The old-fashioned boy who has a trapeze and a pair of rings and a turning pole in the barn has turned up with the usual summer broken arm at Ashland.
Times are what might be called "near" at Baker City when Frohman's Company, playing "Lady Windermere's Fan," didn't have a corporal's guard for an audience.
W. B. Whiteside, the champion sheep shearer of Coquille, with the aid of a pair of shears, took all the wool off the outside of a sheep in three minutes by the watch lately.
One of the funny things connected with the Clackamas hatchery is that the government t employee who is in charge of this institution goes by the fishy name of bass.
At a progressive hammock party among the swell campers from Salem at Slab creek, one young man had four shades of hair and one powder spot on his coat to tell for his conquests.
The West Salem authorities intend imposing such fines on parties who use the river as a public bath tub in the middle of the afternoon as will push the bathers into the hands of a receiver.
To add dignity to his authority one of the newly elected constables of Curry county goes about his duties riding a mule with the government vaccination mark U. S. conspicuously shown on its flank.
At the picnic of the "Bachelors' Club" of Grant's Pass, this summer, it has been decided that the privilege of sitting on the back seat of the buggy coming home shall go around in alphabetical order.
The fact that the mouth of the rhinoceros is three shades redder than usual on the circus bill boards at Baker City is used by old settlers as a sign that lumber will soon bring better prices in that locality.
The Surprise Grange, of Turner, entertained the Salem Grange last Saturday, and according to the Salem Independent, "The members of Salem Grange, at least, came away full." Of what? Of what?
Two fishermen of Coos Bay spoiled a good attraction for a freak show when they killed a peculiar specimen they caught off the cape. It had a head like a cat, large teeth, and was 5 feet, 7 inches long, and showed great strength when caught.
There's nothing like creating business. Next month a big camp meeting will take place on Euchre Creek in Coos county, and ministers are going to undo on the last day all the good work they have done the days previous by allowing a prize to be awarded to the best biscuit maker on the grounds.
THE ARCH BISHOP OF THE NORWEGIAN LUTHERANS DEAD.
(Translated.)
The Right Rev. H. A. Preis, the "Forman" over-bishop of the Norwegian Evangelical Lutheran Church of America, died at his daughter's, Mrs. Rev. Norbye's, house, Lee, Illinois, July 13.
Herman Ausberg Preis was born June 16th, 1835, at Christiansand, Norway, where his father was Overlaerer's professor.
He passed through the Latin school of that city, took exam artium 1853, at the state university at Christiania, studied theology, and took theological office-examen with best character, 1858.
He was ordained priest and went over to America in 1851 with his young wife, Caroline Keyser, daughter of the professor of theology at Christiania University, Chr. Keyser. He was called pastor of Spring Prairie and annexed churches, Walconsin, and remained there until his death, 42 years.
In 1862 he was called Forman Bishop of the synod. At the synod last year he wanted to lay down his office, but was not allowed to do so. He so died in the bishop's chair, after having this office 22 years.
The old ecclesiastical prince was well known of the whole Lutheran church, and was one of the strong towers against unbelief, heresy and sectarianism of the time. He was a warrior for the old orthodox church, built on the foundation of the prophets and apostles, and Christ as the corner stone, with the pure word and sacrament. He was a pioneer among the pioneers of the viking race, who discovered this country. He was a man of good theological learning and science, a true pastor and leader of his church, and knew every priest and congregation. His last words were: "Lord Jesus, help me; greet all the others; thanks for all."

prominent clergyman was present and ridiculed the idea. "Why," said he, "twenty-eight cords of wood, would reach half way from here to Portland, and I know what I am talking about, for I have had some practical experience. In the early days," he continued, "when timber was growing within a few blocks of this office, and it being necessary for me to be as economical as possible, I thought I could save something by cutting my own wood, so I went to Portland and bought me a saw and an ax, and returning, went to work. I worked hard for two weeks, and having what I considered a very large pile, I hired a team to haul it down. The teamster brought it to the door, and on measuring it, I found I had a trifle over half a cord. Talk about twenty-eight cords of wood! Why, there isn't a steamer on the river that could carry it, in my opinion."

INTERESTING NEWS.

The trustees of the Public Library Association are pleased to be able to report that their new book shelves enable them to separate the reference library from the circulating library, and thus place the reference library, consisting of cyclopedias, histories, reports, etc., entirely free of access to all patrons of the reading room. And as a sequel to this arrangement they now see their way clear to allow all yearly or monthly subscribers to the circulating library, access to its book shelves.

TWO LIVES SAVED.

Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill. was told by her doctors she had Consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thos. Eggers, 129 Florida St. San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching Consumption, tried without result everything else; then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in Coughs and Colds. Free trial bottles at Chas. Rogers' Drug Store.

GUARANTEED CURE.

We authorize our advertised druggist to sell Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds, upon this condition, if you are afflicted with a Cough, Cold, or any Lung, Throat or Chest trouble, and will use this remedy as directed, giving it a fair trial, and experience no benefit, you may return the bottle and have your money refunded. We could not make this offer did we not know that Dr. King's New Discovery could be relied on. It never disappoints. Trial bottles free at Chas. Rogers' Drug Store. Large size 50 cts. and $1.00.

JUST FULL OF IMPROVEMENTS.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. To begin with, they're the smallest, and the easiest to take. They're tiny, sugar-coated anti-bilious granules, scarcely larger than mustard seeds. Every child is ready for them. Then, after they're taken, instead of disagreeing and shocking the system, they act in a mild, easy, and natural way. There's no chance for any reaction afterward. Their help lasts. Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, Sick or Bilious Headaches, and all derangements of the liver, stomach, and bowels are promptly relieved and permanently cured. They're put up in glass vials which keeps them always fresh and reliable, unlike the ordinary pills in wooden or pasteboard boxes. And they're the cheapest pills you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. You pay only for the good you get.

COULDN'T BELIEVE IT.

The fast time made by the lower river steamers during the last few days was under discussion in a real estate office yesterday, when it was stated that on such steamers as the Telephone or Potter not less than from twenty-five to thirty cords of fuel was consumed on a round trip, and which at $2 per cord, was a considerable item of expense. A

Blue Devils

The business man who says that advertising does not pay does not advertise. He is the one that always doubts the prosperous trade reports he hears of his competitor, who does advertise. He sits in the back of his store, smokes his pipe and wonders why he isn't making any money. He has the blues when he should have trade. He not only lets his neighbor get that neighbor's share of the business, but a good part of his also.

He sees people whom he thought old friends of his go into his competitor's store and come out with bundles of goods, when he has the same articles on his shelves, and perhaps at lower prices than they paid his competitor for them. Why is this so? It is because his competitor lets the public know in an intelligent way through the local papers what he has to sell and when he has it.

The successful advertiser looks after his advertising space as he does his clerks. He changes his ads. in such a way the people are attracted by them. He feels that to make money he must be willing to spend some; that there is strong competition in all lines of business, and to get his share of the trade he must advertise, and to do it in the most skillful and intelligent way. If he cannot write advertising matter himself, he seeks the aid of some one who has made the writing of advertisements a study—some specialist, who will see that it is properly written in a catchy and displayed way—some one whose duty it is to take off the shoulders of a busy man all the worry of making up an ad.

No business man attempts to cure his own sickness, pull his own teeth, make his own clothes or attend to his own law cases. He employs specialists for each of these various services, and saves money by doing it. It is through its language and arrangement that an advertisement gets its business-bringing qualities. There must be something to attract public attention and hold it; something of interest, something out of the ordinary, something that is different from others of the same line of business. To give it these peculiar features requires experience, and the owner of The Astorian has engaged the services of such a specialist for the benefit of its advertising customers who may wish to take advantage of his services.

The Evening Star, of Washington, D. C., has an advertisement writer connected with its business department, and its terms to advertisers are, "So much blank space, so much money. The same amount of space, with the assistance of an advertisement writer in getting up ad. attractively, so much additional."

The Astorian charges nothing extra, the services of the expert being thrown in.

NOE & SCULLY.

If You Saw Your Own Wood

and saw enough of it, your digestive organs may perhaps be equal, ostrich like, to any task you impose—even to the digestion of lard-cooked food. If however, like thousands of other people, you have learned that you must "draw the line at lard," this is to remind you that there is a clean, delicate and healthful vegetable substitute, called which if used in place of lard, permits you to eat pies, pastry, patties and such "good things" without fear of dyspeptic consequences. There's abundant proof, but none so convincing and so pleasant as a trial for yourself. We invite it. For sale everywhere. REFUSE ALL SUBSTITUTES. GENUINE made only by N. K. FAIRBANK & CO., ST.
