

Tide Table for July, 1894.

Table with columns for DATE, HIGH WATER (A.M., P.M.), and LOW WATER (A.M., P.M.). Rows list days from Sunday to Friday.

TODAY'S WEATHER.

Portland, July 20.—For Oregon and Washington, fair weather; nearly stationary with tendency to higher temperature.

YESTERDAY'S WEATHER.

Local weather for the twenty-four hours ending at 5 p. m. yesterday, furnished by the United States Department of Agriculture weather bureau.

AROUND TOWN.

Sunday dinner at Hotel Gearhart at 1 o'clock. No extra charge.

Two mails a day are now being received in this city from Seaside.

The name of Stanford sounds big, but football is good enough for Astoria.

Miss Jones is to be assisted Tuesday evening by her sister, and local talent.

C. R. Thompson was thrown from his bicycle last evening and sprained his wrist.

The chances are that a private street sprinkler could make pretty good wages at present.

Quite a crowd have had the pleasure of watching the diver at Kinney's cannery at his work.

There will be a pleasing variety on the program at the Congregational church Tuesday evening, the 24th.

The new desks and rearrangement of the furniture make the office of the county clerk rather inviting.

A good swimming place on the other side of the hill is proving a strong competitor of our Sunday schools.

Astor Lodge, at its meeting Wednesday night appointed a committee to make arrangements for a picnic.

The Oregonian correspondent is right when he says Hotel Gearhart is the finest Seaside hotel in the Northwest.

It is surprising that so very few people take advantage of the beautiful scenery from the hill tops these lovely evenings.

The new money orders are now out, but the Oregon editor who can tell one from a motion to adjourn, has not yet made his brains.

When finished the custom house can be lighted either by gas or electricity. It will be heated by steam, instead of stoves, as heretofore.

Would you like to hear some good music? Come to the Congregational church Tuesday evening and hear Miss Gladys Jones sing.

Don't spoil a nice plate of berries with milk, when you can get sweet cream fresh every morning of C. B. Smith, the Ice Cream Dealer.

Some one was cruel enough to send the pound master on a hot chase after two sun dogs yesterday, after telling him they were not licensed.

A Children's sociable will be held in the basement of the Presbyterian church this afternoon at 2 o'clock. All children are invited. Ice cream and cake, 10 cents.

The Forest Grove Times says of the music furnished at Pacific University commencement: "The most difficult and most pleasing were two selections in which Miss Jones sang."

The Telephone made a quick trip down from Portland yesterday, arriving here at 1:45 p. m. The baseball teams were on board, and the captain had promised to land them here by 2 o'clock.

The ice cream festival given by the ladies of the Presbyterian church in the beautifully decorated basement of the church last evening was one of the most enjoyable events of the season.

Judging from some of the cantaloupes sold yesterday to our people, a health officer should inspect a case or two of the fruit that comes up from California, before allowing it to be placed on the market.

A bazaar for the benefit of the Scandinavian M. E. church in Upper Astoria will be given on Saturday evening, at 8:30. A cordial invitation to all. Many useful articles will be sold and refreshments served.

Several young people met at the rooms of Smith and Ellis, the Cosmopolitan sketch team, last evening, and gave them a reception. The evening was a bit low, with five or six rows of shirring passed pleasantly with songs and toasts. The first official act of ex-County Clerk Trenchard was to issue an order for a tie-up, but since Mr. Dunbar has been in the office, there has been no calls for this necessary official document from couples wishing to commence house-keeping.

One of the most entrancing vistas to be found on the lower Columbia is that of Saddle mountain obtained from the steamers as they cross Young's Bay. Just at this time of the year when the vessels are crowded with beach passengers, this view invariably attracts their attention.

Yesterday the last of the delayed eastern mail came in on the steamer Potter from the Astoria postoffice. There were over 3000 letters and papers to distribute, and the dozen mail sacks in which they came made quite a pile on the postoffice floor. Some of the papers bore date of June 24th.

Postmaster Wise has received notification that July 23 is the last day that applications can be filed for civil service examination. So those who may wish to be mail carriers or postoffice clerks sometime in the future should make a note of it. The examination takes place August 13th.

Astoria merchants and manufacturers suffered considerably through loss of time and facilities as the result of the Debs strike, but not to anything like the same degree the merchants and manufacturers of other cities did. However, it's all over now, and business is rapidly getting back to its channels.

A youth named Sedrick met with a serious accident yesterday afternoon, falling from a trestle in Uniontown, striking his head on the rocks below, a distance of fifteen feet. The little fellow's skull was fractured, and his face badly cut, besides sustaining other injuries about the body that are more or less serious. He was carried to his home near by, and Dr. J. A. Fulton sent for. The wounds were dressed and the boy made as comfortable as possible, but it cannot be ascertained for a day or two just how serious the injuries are. Considering the distance the boy fell, and the rocky condition of the flat below, it is only a wonder that he escaped being killed.

A jolly party of Portlanders arrived on the Thompson yesterday morning and registered at the Occident for breakfast, leaving immediately afterward for Seaside. They were as follows: Mr. J. C. Lewis, Mrs. S. B. Linthorn, Misses N. H. Lewis, Francis Lewis, Carrie Flanders, Isabella Hewitt, Mamie Wood, Carrie Lindstrom. The entire party are bound for Elk Creek, where Messrs. Lewis and Flanders have a beautiful estate known as Seal Rock Heights. They have just completed a large roomy house overlooking the ocean, and commanding a view unequalled on this part of the coast. The present party will be greatly augmented by others who will go to the coast in a few days.

They Play All Around the Boys From Up the River.

Yesterday afternoon was given over to the visiting ball players, and nearly a thousand people followed the teams out to the Smith's Point grounds, where they witnessed a game of ball that was both good and bad. Of course there was not one person in all that big crowd that expected to see the Stanfords downed, for the repeated defeat of the Portlanders on their own grounds had become pretty well known in this city, and the bulk of those who went around the point, did so more out of curiosity than anything else.

It was a very pretty day, just such a day as baseball enthusiasts dream of, and the large gathering inside the grounds found it not too hot or too cold—just the right temperature for those who found seats on the bleaching boards. Neither side put up a strong game, though on several occasions brilliant plays were made, the majority of them going to the Stanfords. The errors did not run as high on either side as in Thursday's game at Portland, and in the same teams, and the rough condition of yesterday's grounds caused many an error that otherwise would never have been made.

The Stanfords opened the first inning and made a score, but were soon forced out by the Portlanders, who, when they came to bat, failed to make a score, or even a respectable effort toward getting one. It was a quiet game up to the first half of the fifth, when a liner over third, that couldn't be stopped until it had lost itself in the grass, allowed three men to come in, the man batting the leather coming home amid the first real applause since the game started. If the Portland boys felt discouraged before this event, they were doubly so now, and the score showed it, especially in the first half of the ninth, when the Stanfords crowded them for five straight runs. The Portland boys recovered one in the last half, the game ending with a score of 3 to 5. Stanford made three errors and the Portlanders fourteen.

After the game, the teams had dinner at the Occident, returning up the river on the night boat. The local teams play pretty good ball when one comes to think about it.

UP-TO-DATE BATHING SUIT.

The prettiest and by far the most serviceable bathing suits, says the Commercial Advertiser, are made of black satin. A very smart one recently seen, is of heavy satin, and is made in the piece. The full, short skirt just reaches below the knees. The waist is made full and gathered into a belt which joins it to the skirt. The neck is cut just a bit low, with five or six rows of shirring around the decollete. The big, puffed sleeves do not reach the elbow. With this are worn black silk tights and a natty little cap of black satin. When the plump little bather gets into this jaunty rig, with curls clustering coquettishly under her cap, her dimpled elbows showing under the great satin puffs, and her rosy face beaming radiantly over her satin cap, she looks very like Marie Jansen as Javotte or any other plump little sourette of comic opera.

CHURCH SERVICES TOMORROW.

The Rev. Wm. Seymour Short will hold service at St. Thomas-by-the-Sea, Skippanon, Tuesday evening, July 24th, at half-past seven o'clock.

There will be regular services in the German language at the Congregational church on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 J. G. Schmidt, pastor.

Sunday services will be conducted in the Swedish Lutheran church as follows: 10:30 a. m., Swedish will be used exclusively; at 8 p. m. the meeting will be in English exclusively. J. A. Edlund, pastor.

Services at the Congregational church as usual. In the morning, "Life Hereafter," will be the theme. At night, "The Growth of the Kingdom." The Sunday school meets at 12:15, and the Christian Endeavor at 7 p. m.

Presbyterian church. Morning service at 11 o'clock. Preaching by the pastor, Rev. Robert Liddell. Subject, "Hallowed Be Thy Name." Services in the evening at 8 o'clock, when the pastor will deliver a discourse on "The True Idea of Life; the Strikers' Idea a Failure." Sunday school and adult Bible class at close of morning service. Young People's meeting at 7 p. m.

The Presbyterian church at Knappa, under the charge of the Rev. Robt. J. Graham, of the Presbytery of Portland, will be dedicated with appropriate services on Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock. The steamer Electric will leave Fisher Bros' dock at 1:30 p. m., and will return at the close of the dedicatory services. A cordial invitation is extended to friends of the cause to attend these services.

Last night the following officers were installed in Pacific Lodge, No. 17, K. of P., by D. D. G. C., J. G. Ross: Past Chancellor, Wm. Pohl; Chancellor Commander, J. Hansen; Vice Chancellor, E. C. Hughes; Master of Work, W. McCroskey; Prelate, H. E. Topping; Master at Arms, Robert Whidby; Inner Guard, N. Clinton.
