

THE DAY OF REST

What It Should Be Like in the Home Nest.

In many homes, says the Philadelphia Times, Sunday is planned and worked for with such ardor that when it does at last come around a weary housekeeper sees no pleasure in the absolutely neat details of her home and the choice edibles prepared for the three meals to be eaten on that day, and with aching bones she contemplates sorrowfully of the new and arduous work of Monday, for the initial day of the week on which labor is permitted, is always the most trying of the whole six.

It is well to plan for a day of rest, but do not overdo the matter. The bright, sweet-contented face of the woman who contrives to make her family comfortable on this day of rest exerts influences that will certainly bear weight of a more spiritual nature than that oppressively high moral tone that makes Sunday in some homes a day to be dreaded as a horrible nightmare to be undergone, but from which to awake in bliss.

In most families breakfast is served late, dinner following at 2 o'clock, with a light evening meal. The house that enjoys but one servant cannot expect to have that single aid with them always, and "Bridget's Sunday out" means that the family must turn in and do their share in the matter of housework. This duty can be made one that will be anticipated rather than dreaded, if the Sunday night tea is converted into a sort of indoor picnic, everyone, down to the wee son and daughter, taking part in its preparation. The chafing dish does duty in this line, and, despite the fact that the day must of necessity be more or less attuned to the solemnity which is its due, very pleasant, happy remembrances can have their birth in the Sunday night gathering if only the proper spirit is brought to bear upon it.

RESCUE CLUB.

At the meeting of Rescue Club last evening Rev. Daniel Staver presided in the chair, and Miss Dusey at the piano. A choice program was received with enthusiasm by the large audience. It consisted of excellent recitations by Misses Jennie Curtis, Minnie Doneka, and Nanette Adams, a sweet song by Miss Maudie Belcher, exquisite guitar music by Miss Mamie Smith and Elita Strauss, and stirring and responsive addresses by Rev. Mr. Liddell and Mr. Appell, of Portland. Three persons signed the pledge.

OREGON NOTES.

The Dalles is the shipping point for wool growers for 200 miles south of that city.

Martin Lewis was killed by being thrown from a load of hay drawn by a runaway team on his farm nine miles beyond Mayville.

Wool is coming in so lively at The Dalles that the rocks that were put on the sidewalks during the flood to save them from being washed away have not yet been removed.

AN ASTORIA BOY.

The Southern Collegian, published at the Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Virginia, states that among the large class in Junior Law, there were but nine members distinguished in all the examinations in both departments. One of the nine was J. E. Young, of Astoria, and his many friends here have been congratulating his parents since hearing of their son's honors.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

The report of the captain of the steamer Bawmore (see notice to mariners of July 12, 1904) that the Point Arguello whistling buoy was adrift on July 8th, is proved to be false. The buoy is in position and in good condition.

By order of the lighthouse board.

H. E. NICHOLS, U. S. N., Inspector 12th L. H. District.

MARRIED.

At Grace Church, on Saturday evening, July 21, by the Rev. Wm. Seymour Short, Miss Fredina C. Simonson, to Mr. L. C. Maceck, both of this city.

PERSONAL MENTION.

C. W. Everest visited with his family in Alderbrook yesterday.

Alex. Gilbert returned yesterday from his logging camps at Knappa.

Dr. Logan and wife and Miss Marie Ford are at Gearhart over Sunday.

Joseph Richardson is improving slowly, but with the best of care he will not be able to be out for several weeks.

Miss Katie Reed, Miss Sherman, and Messrs. Herman Prael and W. H. Sherman went to Gearhart last evening.

W. A. Gordon and family, of Portland, have moved into the Necanicum cottage at Seaside, belonging to H. B. Parker.

A. McKinnie and children, of Portland, were in the city yesterday, en route to Seaside.

Fish Commissioner Crawford, of Vancouver, Wash., was in the city yesterday, registered at the Occident.

Clara Agnes Dunbar, who has been under the surgeon's charge for some time, is slowly improving and with careful treatment will in all probability be able to regain her former strength.

Game Protector McGuire came down on the Telephone yesterday afternoon, and last evening, in company with other officers, patrolled the river for illegal fishermen.

Col. Halferty, proprietor of the Skipanon Pickel Works, was in the city yesterday with a cargo of bottled clams. He reports a thriving business in spite of the labor troubles, which he says has had no effect on his industry.

Dr. Smith and Chas. Higgins went over to Tansy Point last evening on the steamer Dwyer. They took their wheels along and rode from that place to Gearhart on the beach. A stiff hot wester was blowing at the time and the probabilities are that they did some record breaking from Point Adams south. They will return this evening.

Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill. was told by her doctors she had Consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mrs. Thos. Eggers, 139 Florida St. San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching Consumption, tried without result everything else; then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in Coughs and Colds. Free trial bottles at Chas. Rogers' Drug Store.

Those who have had this marady, and subsequently found themselves subject to palpitation, short breath, irregular pulse, wind in stomach, pain in side or shoulder, smothering spells, fainting, droopy etc., may feel assured that they have heart disease, which, unless checked at once, may result fatally. Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is the only remedy that can be relied upon to effect a cure. Sold by Chas. Rogers, on a guarantee. Ask for the Doctor's new book, free.

HOW DO YOU DO

when you buy shoes or clothing? Don't you go to the place (if you can find it) where they tell you that you may wear the articles, out, and then, if you're not satisfied, they'll refund the money? Why not do the same when you buy medicine?

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is sold on that plan. It's the only blood-purifier so certain and effective that it can be guaranteed to benefit or cure, in every case, or you have your money back.

It's not like the ordinary spring medicines or sarsaparillas. All the year round, it cleanses, builds up, and invigorates the system. If you're bilious, run-down, or dyspeptic, or have any blood-taint, nothing can equal it as a remedy.

THE music of the trees and wild river waves and all the summer-time singers comes sweetest to the housewife when she knows the 6 o'clock meal can be got ready on her double-burner oil stove instead of the red-hot croaking range. There'll not be an evening from this on till October 1st but she'll be glad she bought one. Have you seen them in our window? $1.25. That old gentleman who said they were extravagant has changed his mind and has purchased his wife and married daughters each one. NOE & SCULLY.

Blue Devils

The business man who says that advertising does not pay does not advertise. He is the one that always doubts the prosperous trade reports he hears of his competitor, who does advertise. He sits in the back of his store, smokes his pipe and wonders why he isn't making any money. He has the blues when he should have trade. He not only lets his neighbor get that neighbor's share of the business, but a good part of his also. He sees people whom he thought old friends of his go into his competitor's store and come out with bundles of goods, when he has the same articles on his shelves, and perhaps at lower prices than they paid his competitor for them. Why is this so? It is because his competitor lets the public know in an intelligent way through the local papers what he has to sell and when he has it.

The successful advertiser looks after his advertising space as he does his clerks. He changes his ads. in such a way the people are attracted by them. He feels that to make money he must be willing to spend some; that there is strong competition in all lines of business, and to get his share of the trade he must advertise, and to do it in the most skillful and intelligent way. If he cannot write advertising matter himself, he seeks the aid of some one who has made the writing of advertisements a study—some specialist, who will see that it is properly written in a catchy and displayed way—some one whose duty it is to take off the shoulders of a busy man all the worry of making up an ad. No business man attempts to cure his own sickness, pull his own teeth, make his own clothes or attend to his own law cases. He employs specialists for each of these various services, and saves money by doing it. It is through its language and arrangement that an advertisement gets its business-bringing qualities. There must be something to attract public attention and hold it; something of interest, something out of the ordinary, something that is different from others of the same line of business. To give it these peculiar features requires experience, and the owner of The Astorian has engaged the services of such a specialist for the benefit of its advertising customers who may wish to take advantage of his services.

The Evening Star, of Washington, D. C., has an advertisement writer connected with its business department, and its terms to advertisers are, "So much blank space, so much money. The same amount of space, with the assistance of the advertisement writer in getting up ad. attractively, so much additional." The Astorian charges nothing extra, the services of the expert being thrown in.
