

Tide Table for July, 1904.

Table with columns for DATE, H.M. WATER, L.M. WATER, and P.M. WATER. It lists tide times for various dates in July 1904.

TODAY'S WEATHER.

Portland, July 23.—For Washington, fair weather, followed by showers; slight temperature changes, followed by cooler weather Wednesday.

YESTERDAY'S WEATHER.

Local weather for the twenty-four hours ending at 5 p. m. yesterday, furnished by the United States Department of Agriculture weather bureau.

AROUND TOWN.

See the program for the Congregational concert tonight. Mr. Thos. Ryrie was showing 107 trout to his acquaintances yesterday.

P. F. Henderson, for vagrancy, was fined $40 in police court yesterday. Several Sunday drunks were disposed of.

Ten applicants for carriers and six for clerks, applied at the postoffice today. Blinks must be all in by tonight at 6 o'clock.

Mrs. J. S. Dellinger has added herself to the number of lady owners of bicycles, having received a new wheel yesterday.

A rare chance to hear good music; go to the Congregational church tonight without fail, for you will not be disappointed.

The North Beach girls will fairly die of envy when they find out that the ratio of young men now at Gearhart is two to one.

Try Foard & Stokes' plug cut tobacco at 60 cents a pound. It does not burn the tongue and gives a better smoke than all others.

Don't spoil a nice plate of berries with milk, when you can get sweet cream fresh every morning of C. B. Smith, the Ice Cream Dealer.

There will be a meeting of directors of the Astoria Football Club tonight, and it is desired that there be a full attendance. Business of importance.

President Fox, of the board of Pilot Commissioners, accompanied by Commissioner J. A. Brown and Alex Mesler, went down over the bar yesterday on the tug Escort.

The steamer R. P. Elmoro arrived in from Tillamook yesterday with passengers and a cargo of general merchandise. She will leave for Tillamook Wednesday July 25, at 7 a. m. from the Union Pacific dock.

For the W. C. T. U. excursion to Gearhart Park Thursday, July 28th, take either the Dwyer or Electric at 8 a. m. sharp. Returning, train leaves Seaside at 3:30 p. m. Tickets, $1; children under 12, 50 cents; under 7, free.

Charles Hendrickson, who beat an old man, living opposite Kinney's cannery, in the head with a mallet, was to have his trial yesterday before Judge Osburn, but as the wounded man was not able to appear, it was postponed until some future time.

The steamship Columbia came down at an early hour Monday morning, but did not leave until nearly noon. She took on freight at this port consisting of 4,500 cases of salmon, 3000 bundles of shooks, and 100 sacks of oysters. The passenger list was light.

Mr. Adolph Ripka, A. M., the editor of "Surtolainen," was the leading orator at the Finlanders' Suomi day celebration in the California Midwinter Exposition June 23. He is now visiting his friends in Astoria. Last Sunday evening he held an instructive discourse in the Finnish Evangelical Lutheran church.

The sale of seats for "Regina," which opens Stutz' new Parlor Theatre on Thursday night, commenced yesterday morning, and the advance sale indicated a crowded house on that occasion. There is a genuine surprise awaiting the public when the new theatre is thrown open, it being one of the handsomest playhouses inside, on the coast.

A curious accident brought Dr. Fulton a patient Saturday evening. Two fishermen met and in the friendly hand shaking that took place one of them squeezed the other's hand so hard as to break the second finger of the right hand. The surgeon set the finger, and the chances are that instead of shaking hands with any friend again, this patient will make his hand for it.

The trolley wire in front of Rogers' drug store broke loose from the attachment overhead, yesterday, and gave a good many people a fright. It was soon repaired by a lineman, who created no little astonishment among the onlookers by grasping the wire with his bare hand and handling it as carelessly as if it were only an old clothesline.

Dr. Smith and Charles Higgins returned last evening from a days' outing at Gearhart Park. They took the steamer Saturday evening for Flavel, and from there made the trip on their wheels. They report the sixteen mile stretch of beach from Fort Stevens to the park a magnificent roadway at low tide, and they made the run in a remarkably short space of time. A larger party will make the trip next Sunday.

The annual Sunday school picnic for Grace church and Holy Innocents' will be held on Thursday of this week around Smith's Point. The football club has very courteously offered the use of their grounds for the games. The scholars are entitled to a free ticket, others 10 cents. The motor will leave the foot of Main street at 10 a. m. returning from Young's Bay at 5 p. m. If the weather proves stormy the picnic will be held the next fair day.

Forest fires are raging over on the Washington side, and from all appearances are destroying a vast amount of valuable timber. Over at Deep River, a great cloud of smoke can be plainly seen from this side of the bay, and judging from its size the whole country must be on fire. The blue hills from Fort Canby east are veiled in a mist of smoke from the burning forests. Another smaller fire is burning just back of the Knappton Mills.

When Uncle Sam makes postal cards and sells them for a penny each with no discount for cash, he intends that they shall be used precisely as he makes them. The cards must not be mutilated in any manner, for if they are, they become useless and the post-office department will not handle them. The trimming of a card, for instance, in order to get it into an envelope for an answer, is prohibited, although such prohibition is not generally known.

Saturday evening, as the Potter was going up the river, she injured one of her wheels, and was compelled to make the balance of the trip, about 60 miles, with a single wheel. It took until 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon to repair the damage and it was 8 o'clock in the evening before she arrived in Astoria. She was in good trim last evening, however, and the last seen of her she was chasing the Telephone across the sandbars between Tongue Point and Pillar Rock, both steamers kicking up enough spray to make a good-sized waterspout.

During the past week those staying at Seaside have had enough amusements and fine weather to keep them in good spirits. The fishing, crabbing, clam digging and bathing were all at their best, and then the season of parties has commenced at the different cottages. Mrs. F. A. Fisher gave a lawn musicale at the Fisher cottage last Saturday evening, which was attended by about fifty guests of the Astoria cottage colony. The grounds about the cottages were tastefully decorated with Chinese lanterns, and a large bonfire inside the grounds added to the pretty night picture made.

A game of that old reliable sport, cricket, will be played at Smith's Point this evening by the Astoria Cricket Club. The two elevens will begin play at 6:45 sharp, and the motor will leave the foot of Main street for the grounds at 6:30 sharp. No 7 o'clock motor will run. Several people who are anxious to see what cricket is like will accompany the players to the point. The following are the teams: Chinooks—Gibson, Hitchcock, Gunn (captain), F. Parker, Bradford, Hellborn, Tallant, Meacham, D. Stuart, J. Finlayson, Jr., E. B. Anderson, Ariels—Ridgeway, McKinley, Rathon (captain), Higgins, J. R. A. Bennett, Mansell, Geo. Smith, A. Bartholomew, Crosby, McCue, Wilkinson. Umpires—Weeks and J. Finlayson Sr.

PERSONAL MENTION. Miss S. B. Roberts visited Gearhart on Sunday last. Chas. Phillips, of Ilwaco, was in the city yesterday. Jeff Crandell's little girl is still very ill with meningitis. F. F. Cole, from Hare, Oregon, was in the city yesterday. Mrs. Frank Warren visited with her folks at Skipanon on Sunday. Miss E. C. Warren visited her parents at Warrenton on Sunday last. Richard Eberman came over to the city yesterday from Seaside. John McCormack went to Seaside yesterday to remain for the summer. P. L. Parker went to Seaside from New Astoria on his wheel Sunday. Mr. D. Campbell was a visitor at the Wenig camp at Gearhart on Sunday. Mrs. W. W. Parker spent Sunday at the ranch of Eben Parker above the Wallucki. Th. Olsen and wife and J. S. Dellinger and wife were visitors at the Park on Sunday. C. A. Dolph, of Portland, was in the city yesterday, enroute home from a short sojourn at North Beach. J. A. Davidson, the Bay View canneryman, was in the city yesterday, returning home on last evening's boat. E. H. Palmer, of the firm of Palmer & Rey, Portland, was in the city yesterday, registered at the Occident. Mrs. B. F. Packard and daughters, Rita and Hattie, left via Telephone last evening for their old home in Rockland, Maine. Captain Packard accompanied them as far as Seattle, where they will take the Canadian Pacific.

Additional Telegraph.

MONTANA STRIKE OFF. Butte, July 23.—Employees of the Montana union today declared the strike off and will report for work tomorrow. Superintendent Burns says that all except those who have made themselves particularly obnoxious will be reinstated. The strike is now confined to the employees of the Union Pacific.

SOCIABLE AND FAIR. The ladies of the Norwegian Lutheran Church of Upper Astoria will give a sociable and fair at the Pacific Union cannery on Saturday evening, July 28, at 8 o'clock. A fine lot of ladies' fancy work will be disposed of. Friends of the church and of the Ladies' Sewing Society are cordially invited.

COULDN'T GET A STEAMER. Consequently the River Was Alive With Boats Saturday Night.

To one on the outside, it looked very much like the river would be alive with guardians of the law on Saturday night, as deputy sheriffs, deputy game protectors, and the gamekeepers themselves from both Oregon and Washington were bustling around in the afternoon, apparently making preparations for a night raid on whoever dared venture out fishing under the cover of darkness. Game Warden McGuire left on the Iris for Ilwaco early in the evening, but not without an understanding with Commissioner Crawford, who it was arranged should meet him on the other side later in the evening and together with a posse of deputies they would patrol the river. "As the night wore on it became plainly evident that there would be no boat carrying officers on the river that night, for the Washington commissioner retired early, announcing that he was unable to secure a steamer for love or money, all of them being "engaged." Sheriff Hare was not in the city, and the Oregon commissioner was on the other side, doubtless in Mr. Crawford and his deputies. It was too dark just then to distinguish whether there were any boats out or not, but anyone who happened on the waterfront at daybreak on Sunday morning met a sight that would have made the commissioners weep with anger. All over the broad bay, which at that hour in the morning was as placid as a sheltered millpond, dark objects moved about, the muffled sound of oars telling only too plainly that they were fishboats, and from the hurried manner in which they were being pulled, it showed they were loosing no time in making shore before Old Sol brightened up the waters, when they could easily be seen. It was hard work for them, as there was not enough breeze blowing to stretch their sails, and the homeward trip had to be accomplished by good, strong pulling.

In one of the down town cafes, where fishermen usually drop in for an early morning cup of coffee, several hardy fellows were openly telling that they had been out fishing, and from their conversation, it is supposed that fish were running heavier than usual. There does not seem to be much of a sentiment against the men who fished Saturday night, in fact many prominent men declare the law unjust and should be repealed. There is no telling just what the future will bring forth.
