The Astorian guarantees to its subscribers the largest circulation of any newspaper published on the Columbia river.

Advertising rates can be obtained on application to the business manager.

This paper is in possession of all the telegraph franchises, and is the only paper on the Columbia river that publishes genuine dispatches.

The Daily Astorian's circulation is five times as great as that of the combined circulation of the other daily papers of Astoria.

The Weekly Astorian, the third oldest weekly in the state of Oregon, has, next to the Portland Oregonian, the largest weekly circulation in the state.

Subscribers to the Astorian are requested to notify this office, without loss of time, immediately they fail to receive their daily paper, or when they do not get it at the usual hour.

WAR IN THE ORIENT.

This morning's dispatches regarding the situation in the far East only confirm previous reports that any settlement of the Chinese-Japanese dispute over Little Corea would be made only through actual war, which has already begun.

The possible result of this contest in the Orient is difficult to foresee. Contrary to the popular impression current in this country, both nations are fairly well equipped with the devices of modern warfare, and both can throw into the field a contingent of thoroughly trained soldiers.

The one thing most evident is that in the event of warfare in Corea, the independent existence of that nation is very likely to be abolished. Japan and China both claim the protection of large interests in the peninsula, and in the event of a decisive victory for either nation, the victor would probably claim its possession as reward.

ANARCHY DEFINED.

The English anarchist, Mowbray, is quite shocked at the prevalence of the notion that anarchy means violence. "The genuine anarchist," he says, "looks with horror upon every destruction, every mutilation of a human being."

The narrow escape from a watery grave yesterday of the two boys who fell out of a boat near the bonded warehouse, reminds one that a great many lives are lost in the water every summer, by the most deplorable carelessness.

water. Children or adults who go in bathing without knowing the depth of the water, and without knowledge of currents or undertow, are foolishly endangering their lives.

OREGON NOTES.

A new drug store has been opened up at St. Paul. A newspaper trust is the latest aggressive move of corporate power in Tillamook.

The Dalles is making money in her police court, but she is ashamed of it. There were fourteen cases up in one day.

A Tolo man undertook to stir up the fire with a pair of celluloid cuffs on. He now carries the burnt arm in a sling.

Eight dollars a ton is what parties are willing to pay for 1000 tons of haled wheat hay on board the cars at Hillsboro.

A steam merry-go-round in Salem is now reminding Gov. Penney of some of those populist speeches he made last spring down the Willamette Valley.

Wanting him out of the way next season, the students of Mt. Angel presented the boy who received the highest marks at the close of the school with a gulf.

The sight of a live tarantula on a bunch of bananas at Silverton is what increased the total annual consumption of "red horse" several gallons one day last week.

One of the things that makes living in Wasco a joy is the fact that the members of the Epworth League can sing "Sweet Oregon" as that the editor of the News hardly recognizes it.

Amy Stukle, of Klamath Falls, who so narrowly escaped being devoured by a mountain lion last fall, was badly bitten by a rattlesnake last week and her life saved by a liberal dose of "snake bite."

The police court book of collections at The Dalles indicates that the vermillion paint for which that city is celebrated along the Upper Columbia, brought in $87 and trimming to the city treasury last Wednesday.

Fate laughed a cruel, hard, metallic laugh that must have jarred her gold fillings loose when she had the insurance companies raise the rates at Hillsboro after the residents had petitioned to have them lowered.

A druggist at Hillsboro has a humming bird's nest with eggs in his show window for an attraction. At the last political convention held in that city a druggist sold some of his attractions to a delegate and that night the delegate saw twin alligators come down through the ceiling and hold a violent caucus in his bosom.

ROYAL WHEELMEN.

Astoria bicyclists will be interested to learn that they have a new and charming accession to their ranks in the person of Queen Marguerite, of Italy, who has been seized with the prevailing cyclomania, and every day she spends a couple of hours practicing in the gardens of the Quirinal.

In the lower house there are no less than eighty knights of the wheel, headed by the duke of Sermoneta, head of the grand old house of Caetani, and the former mayor of the Eternal City.

A regular tour de force has just been made by three Roman nobles, Prince Colonna Sonnino, the Duke Grazioli and Marquis Santilli, in going from Rome to Naples, over 200 miles, in twenty-four hours, and Prince Quarto de Belgioioso, the Duke Cellere, Prince de Bagnara, Prince Carlo Brancaccio, whose mother was a Miss Field, of New York, and Prince Julio Pallavicini are enthusiastic wheelers.

The craze has spread to Vienna, where the Arch Duke Albert Salvador won several races on a safety, while at Brussels the heir to the crown, young Prince Albert, has become so passionately attached to this form of sport as to fill with dismay the commander of the cavalry regiment in which he is serving.

SMUGGLER'S COVE.

A Splendid Place for Small Vessels to Land Contraband Cargoes. Down the Oregon coast, a few miles from the mouth of the Columbia, beyond the enchanted stretch of sands known as Cannon Beach, an abrupt headland defies further passage except by the mountain trail, and marks a point known to mariners as Cape Falcon, or more commonly called, by landmen, False Tillamook.

When President Cleveland is confronted by a question between official etiquette and administrative policy, official etiquette is bound to get the worst of it.

There are several congressmen who seem to regard it as entirely ridiculous that they should be expected to do something in return for their salaries.

In Colorado and some other localities of the far west (nearer at home) one of the gravest insults which can be given a man is to call him governor.

What a tremendous popular hit congress might have made two months ago by doing something and adjourning.

One consoling feature of the present situation is the temporary inconspicuity of Mr. W. C. P. Breckinridge.

David Pythias Hill is still waiting for a move of reciprocity on the part of Grover Damon Cleveland.

For sale—Complete patent rights on my model town—George M. Pullman. The strike appears to be virtually all over except the talking about it.

goods, sailing straightway into this protected nook, where the water loses its turbulent motion and small boats could easily be landed.

Of course it is not recorded that smugglers have ever taken advantage of this retreat, but the settlers over on the south side of Necarney recall several instances when small vessels have taken refuge behind the protecting walls of the famous old mountain, from raging storms at sea.

The government charts show that the little cove has splendid anchorage for small craft, the water a few feet from the beach being 13 feet in depth, deepening rapidly to 11 fathoms. There is a straight course in from the open sea with no sunken rocks to fear. Strange to say, but few if any, of the captains running on coastwise vessels have any knowledge of the place, the coast line from the regular course taken by vessels at sea having the appearance of an abrupt and inaccessible cliff.

Up to date seventeen vessels in Uncle Sam's new navy have earned premiums amounting altogether to $2,264,586, of which about $1,000,000 has gone to the Cramps. Ten contract vessels remain to be tried; but the conditions of their contracts only give two of them a chance to carry off the laurels of the Minneapolis as a premium winner.

One of the ten is the torpedo boat Ericsson, which will probably take the place of the Minneapolis as the fastest craft in the navy, since her contract calls for twenty-four knots in a two-hour's run; but she only gets $2,500 per quarter knot of excess up to twenty-five knots, and $3,500 per quarter beyond that point.

FOUND THEM THE BEST.

This is to certify that I have used Krause's Headache Capsules periodically for over a year, and have very much pleasure in stating that they have always proved very beneficial and have relieved me in from ten to fifteen minutes. I have been a sufferer from headache for many years, and have never found anything to do me as much good as Krause's Headache Capsules. Yours Truly, LOUIS HERMAN, 234 Poplar St., Wichita, Kan. For sale by Chas. Rogers, Astoria, Or., sole agent.

ON THE SAFE SIDE.

Everybody knows this is a good place to be, but everybody does not take measures to be there. An efficient preventative places us on the safe side of incipient disease, and there is no one more reliable than Hostetter's Stomach Bitters in cases where the kidneys are inactive, which is the preliminary to various destructive maladies, which disregarded have a fatal termination. Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, oedema are but the outgrowths of neglected inaction of the kidneys and bladder. They should be checked at the outset with bitters, which will prevent their progress by arousing the renal organs to activity, and thus place those who resort to this saving medicine on the safe side. This preservative of safety also conquers constipation, liver complaint, malarial fever, nervousness and dyspepsia.
