

Tide Table for July, 1894.

Table with columns for DATE, HIGH WATER (A.M., P.M.), and LOW WATER (A.M., P.M.). Rows include SUNDAY, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and SUNDAY.

YESTERDAY'S WEATHER.

Local weather for the twenty-four hours ending at 5 p. m. yesterday, furnished by the United States Department of Agriculture weather bureau.

AROUND TOWN.

Notice is hereby given that delinquent county, state, city and school taxes will be received at my office in the court house for the year 1893, until Tuesday, July 31st, 1894, 5 o'clock p. m.

Mrs. George Flavel is spending a few days with her parents over at Knappa.

The Rev. J. C. Appel will preach at the Baptist church in this city today, at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m.

The steamer Queen seemed to have her share of the freight and passengers in and out yesterday.

Survivors have been for some time working in the vicinity of Gray's river, surveying government land.

Mrs. Perry Trullinger will be the assistant teacher in the Astoria Select school during the coming year.

The chief amusement now with the bike riders is to get on the Uppertown road at night and race with the street cars.

Captain Killman, of the barkentine Sudden, expects to be married when his ship reaches Redondo Beach, California.

The receipts from the county offices have not been enough to pay the salaries this month, so reports the county treasurer.

There was a good sized audience present at the Rescue Club entertainment last night, when a splendid program was rendered.

Yesterday's boats brought down the largest crowds of the season, both Clatsop and North Beaches receiving their full share of visitors.

Don't spoil a nice plate of berries with milk, when you can get sweet cream fresh every morning of C. B. Smith, the Ice Cream Dealer.

There were plenty of wild blackberries coming in from Deep River all day yesterday. The price paid by the dealers towards night was 6 cents per pound.

Judge A. A. Cleveland has entered upon the duties of Grand Sachem of the reservation of Oregon for the Order of Red Men, to which he was recently elected.

The funeral of the late August Nelson will take place from Pohl's undertaking parlor on Monday, at 1 o'clock p. m. Interment at Greenwood. Friends are invited.

The body of August Nelson, the man who was drowned on Friday near Booth's cannery, was recovered yesterday afternoon in almost the same spot where he went down.

Prince Paul and Laurine have been drawing large houses at Utzinger's popular theatre, and Mr. Utzinger desired to have them remain longer, but other people have been engaged for the coming week.

Services today as usual in the Presbyterian church. Preaching by the pastor, Rev. Robert Liddell. Subject, morning, "The Kingdom of God on Earth;" evening, "Experimental Religion; Is It a Rational Thing?"

Captain B. F. Packard has returned from Seattle, to which point he accompanied his wife on her way to the east, via the Canadian Pacific. Captain Packard reports the city of Seattle very lively, but in Tacoma, things are as quiet as a subsidy committee.

Mr. Ripa, A. M., will speak in the Finn. Ev. Luth. church this evening at 7:30. The morning service will be held at 10:30 a. m. Mr. Ripa has been visiting Ilwaco and the sea coast during the past week. He will start for New York tomorrow morning.

In Spain, water in which a new wedding ring has been dipped is thought to be good for sore eyes. As there has been so much time between weddings in Astoria this year, a man with sore eyes would have become blind unless he had the foresight to dip the new ring in a citizen.

Dick O'Brien and John Petty are what Justice Abercrombie assessed these gentlemen for being too free with their fists during a row in Swilltown, in which John McIntire was the unfortunate victim.

The steamer State came down an early hour yesterday morning and after taking on 4000 cases of salmon, 1000 bundles of shooks, and six tons of assorted freight, left out before the sun was fairly up. Her passenger list was lighter than usual.

The boats that bring passengers in from the country and small towns about Astoria should either accommodate their passengers with a railed gang plank or a grased pole. The little planks that are used for lady passengers to get on and off the boats are simply abominable, and no doubt keep many female patrons at home.

At the matinee at the Cosmopolitan theatre this afternoon, Prince Paul, in his inimitable ventriloquist act, and Laurine, the grotesque contortionist, will appear for the last time in Astoria. Those who desire to see them should be sure to be present. The entire performance will be given, according to the program, with the orchestra in attendance.

Messrs. Frank Gunn and Fred Overbeck make a good team when it comes to soliciting for an enterprise like the proposed regatta, their subscription paper being already nearly filled with signatures. Those who have not subscribed need feel no alarm, however, as they have tacked on another yard of blank paper, and will call on each and every one of you before they are finished.

The Camera Club will take a day's outing on the Lewis and Clarke today, and it goes without saying that they will have a jolly time—weather permitting. A number of invited friends will go along, and help make the day a success. These jaunts into the country are getting to be a regular feature with this popular club, and anyone so fortunate as to receive an invitation is to be envied by those who are left behind.

Two little fellows who live in Uniontown were out rowing yesterday in a small skiff, and when near the bonded warehouse, a careless movement of the older boy caused the boat to capsize. Fortunately a fishing boat was near, and the captain promptly fished the two youngsters out. They were both good swimmers, which probably saved their lives, as the tide was flowing out very fast at the time, and at this particular point runs like a mill race.

Harry Hamblet came from a country where they had good country roads, and took pride in them. There is no more enthusiastic believer in or would-be worker for good roads than Mr. Hamblet, and if there are any committees appointed from the young business men of this county, to secure good country roads, it is suggested that for the public's good that Mr. Hamblet does not escape committee work. A man that believes in an enterprise is the one who is willing to work for it, and he will do that work successfully.

Sometimes when an Astoria man wants to stop a street car he snaps his fingers at the motorman. It seems as though the carman would be exasperated by that, but he doesn't seem to be. Some people lift a hand high in the air and hold it there, and some wave an umbrella or a cane. But the majority of people have discovered that for all practical purposes in stopping a car a toothpick is as good as a fence rail. All that is necessary is to catch the motorman's eye. It isn't necessary to shove a house on the track in front of him.

James Jamieson and Henry Cline, two seiners at work on Taylor's Sands, met with a serious accident early yesterday morning. They were winding up the winding of the slip, and one of them losing his hold on the handle, it slipped and striking Cline on the jaw, sent both flying to the sand below, a distance of eighteen feet. Jamieson received internal injuries and concussion of the spine, while Cline had his face crushed and was injured internally. Jamieson was brought over to St. Mary's hospital, but Cline was so badly injured that he could not be removed. Dr. Mullinix went over to the sands yesterday afternoon to attend the injured man, who will be removed to this city as soon as the circumstances will permit.

"There was a large fish story told that I overheard," said a drummer at the Occident yesterday. "When the A. O. U. W. Supreme Lodge of the United States visited Portland, they were given an excursion up the Columbia on the steamer Potter, and I went along. We ran pretty close to the bank where some seiners had about a wagon load of salmon in plain sight, and there was great excitement on board over them for a while. Then commenced the fish stories among the passengers, and the one I heard emanated from a Chicago man, and his listeners were delegates from Kentucky and Missouri, where they never see anything except hilly gars and mud cats.

"Yes," he said, "I was up in this country eight years ago, and went out with a friend of mine on the river about ten miles from Astoria, where they are the thickest, and just as fast as we threw in our lines we hauled them out. Some weighed as high as 40 pounds. That Missouri fellow's mouth just fairly watered, and I came very nearly telling him that he could catch just as many salmon off the Eads bridge on the Mississippi with a hook and line as he could on the Columbia, as salmon never bite on a hook when going up river."

THREE BIG DAYS.

All Sorts of Sailing and Rowing Craft to Participate in the Sport.

A Splendid Program for the August Regatta.

Three days of regatta. That is what the football directors decided on last night, and the program which they arranged, speaks for itself.

There will be all kinds of races, from a free-for-all fishboat race, to a go-between the crack crews of the men-of-war which will be present on that occasion. The various committees have not been decided upon yet, and a great deal of preliminary work will have to be done, August 17th, 18th, and 20th are the days set for the races, and it is expected that the city will be filled with visitors from all parts of the northwest.

As has been published before, the club has opened up correspondence with several boating clubs on the Sound and at Portland, and already very encouraging answers have been received from one or two of them. It is certain now that one, and probably two warships will be present during the regatta, and, as is well known, they carry some crack crews with them. Then there is also a strong probability that from the Sound will come a couple of yachts that have cleaned up all the loose cups and prizes offered in the regattas held on that body of water during the last five years.

One of the most interesting events however, will be the free-for-all sailing race for the fish boats of the Columbia river, and the idea of seeing several hundred white-winged vessels skimming at once the blue waters of the bay, is certainly bewildering.

The finance committee have been exceedingly successful in their efforts, and when they finished up last night over $600 had been subscribed. They expect to raise $1000 before the week is out, with which sum they can handle the affair successfully. Following is the program decided on by the directors, though it is subject to additions:

- Friday, August 17— 1. Single scull, free for all. Cup. 2. Double scull, free for all. Cup. 3. Double scull, whitehall. Two gold medals. 4. Double scull fish boats. Cash, $25. 5. Man-of-war boats. $25. 6. Two master schooners, Columbia River tenders. Cup. 7. Sloops, free for all. Cup. Saturday, August 18— 1. Ship's boat race. Cash, $20. 2. Man-of-war. Cash, $25. 3. Life saving crew. Cup. 4. Sloops, free for all. Cash, $25. 5. Fish boats, Columbia River. $25. 6. Sloops, cannery tenders, Columbia River. Cup. Monday, August 20— 1. Sailing boats, six scull. $25. 2. Man-of-war. $25. 3. Whitehall sailing, free for all. Cup. 4. Fish boat consolation. $20. 5. Single scull. Cup. 6. Double scull. Cup.

"Times are hard and expenses must be cut down," is the slogan that has been heard throughout the land. It was heard and taken up in Astoria by first one person and then another, but no one dreamed when he noticed Magnus C. Crosby with pencil and paper in hand yesterday morning that he was figuring the cost of the flour and meat it took to keep the muscles of his face strong enough to agitate that beard which has for years been the envy of half the male sex of this city and the admiration of the fair ones. But he was, and when he found to his satisfaction that the cost of the beauty of those lace curtains was on the wrong side of the ledger, he bled himself to the barber and had them shaved off. He not only had his beard shaved off, but he had the barber run the lawn mower over his head and he stepped from the shop looking so much like the late tragedian, John McCullough, that people stopped and stared with wonder.

Harvey T. Findlay has returned from Cannon Beach, bringing with him a pound or two of a substance which, if it proves to be all that he thinks it is, he has made a lucky find. What he found floating among the drift on Cannon Beach is pronounced by those who pretend to know, as "ambergris," which is worth $48 an ounce at present market prices. He had Mr. Conn, the druggist, experiment with some of it, and while Mr. Conn states that it had the festing and the color, and dissolved after being placed in alcohol as ambergris should, yet he was not certain that it was the genuine article. He advised Mr. Findlay to send a sample of his find to some firm in the East, which he did, and if they return word that he has found that which every sailor dreams of finding, when he dreams of finding anything valuable at all, he will consider that he combined profitable business with pleasure when he picked out Cannon Beach as the place to spend his vacation.

AN OBJECTION. From Harper's Bazaar. Mr. Gotham—How do you like the city girls? Mr. Spodunk—Oh, they're all right enough to look at, but I can't say I get along with them very well. Mr. Gotham—I always find them very jolly.

Mr. Spodunk—Yaas, mebbe, but when I see 'em all standing around in low neck dresses, I don't seem to have nerve enough to slap 'em on the back and joke with 'em, as I do with the girls up our way.

Awarded Highest Honors—World's Fair. DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER MOST PERFECT MADE. A pure Grape Cream of Tartar Powder. Free from Ammonia, Alum or any other adulterant. 40 YEARS THE STANDARD.

TO MAKE THE PICNIC SANDWICH TEMPTING. From the New York World. To make tempting sandwiches the loaf which is used should have all the crust cut off of both sides, being made straight before slicing. If ham is to be used, cut off as much as necessary in thin slices across the grain. Chop the ham thus sliced very fine, moisten it with cream, add pepper and mustard. If liked, a well beaten egg. It is then almost a paste and easy to spread. Cut the bread very thin, butter carefully, spread with ham, and see that all the edges are neat and regular.

PATRIOTISM. "Johnnie," said the young man, "what is your idea of patriotism?" "Patriotism," replied the boy, after some thought, "is what makes ye holler for the home nine when it's in the eleventh place."

A WREQUE. There was a young man had a cheque. He dallied with Fortune; her beque. Led him straight to the course Where he bet on a horse, And he got it right square in the neck. —Truth.
