AROUND TOWN.
"JEFF'S"
The Only Restaurant.

J. C. Dement and wife returned from Seattle yesterday.

Today is the last day to pay your water rates.

Services at the Congregational church as usual. Rev. F. C. Clapp, and Rev. T. McClelland, president of Pacific University, will occupy the pulpit.

There will be a meeting at the new hall of the Salvation Army Friday night which will be followed by an ice cream festival, and they expect a large attendance.

Tonight at 8 o'clock the Salvation Army will hold the usual meeting at their new hall on Main street. At 9 o'clock an ice cream supper will be served. Everyone invited.

C. B. Smith, the confectioner, has secured the agency for the famous Golden Gate compressed yeast, and is supplying every first-class grocery and confectionery store in the city. Ask for the Golden Gate.

"Forgiven, or the Gambler's Wife," drew another crowded house last night. Tonight and Saturday will be your last chances to see it. On Sunday the beautiful play, "Mills," with all its scenic effects, and Miss Millie Freeman as Mills.

Sunday services at the First M. E. Church. At 11 a. m., services by Rev. Dr. Bushong. Subject, "The World's Greatest Wonder." At 7 p. m., a young people's rally. At 8 p. m., sermon by Rev. J. W. Bushong, D. D. Subject, "Furious Driving, or the race and racers of the age." The citizens of Astoria cordially invited.

The Scandinavian Benevolent Society's excursion and picnic next Sunday to Seaside promise to be a great success, and it seems that everybody is going. The committee of arrangements are doing everything in their power to please everybody. The commodious large belonging to Capt. Balte is being fitted up with seats, well covered with cloth, and which will accommodate between 350 and 400 people, besides the two steamers, which will tow her to the trestle at Young's Bay.

Mr. W. A. Wenig, of Camp Wenig, Gearhart Park, has been called home for a couple of weeks by business, but will be at the camp Sunday to help entertain the U. F. E.'s, who are to meet there the first of the week. Mr. Frank Spittle, who is taking an outing, has been requested to be present during the meeting, and it is expected that the society will be fully represented. Mr. Robert Livingston, of Chicago, is still at camp, and will remain until after the first of next week.

This morning at 6 o'clock a jolly party will leave for a few days' outing on the Fishhawk near Jewell. Two Chinese cooks went out yesterday and will look after the culinary department during their sojourn among the big trees of the Nehalem. The party consists of the following: C. W. Fulton and family, G. C. Fulton and family, W. L. Robb and family, George C. Flavel and family, F. I. Dunbar and family, P. A. Stokes and family, Alice Fox, Miss Nora Nickerson and Miss Nellie Nickerson.

Henry Pitts, the negro who eloped with 14-year-old Alice Burton (white) several days ago, and was subsequently married at Cathlamet by a justice of the peace, was arrested yesterday at Tacoma by the chief of police of that city. Sheriff Hare was notified by wire, and as soon as requisition papers can be obtained, which will probably be today, an officer will be sent to bring the prisoner back to this city. He will be prosecuted on the charge of enticing a girl under age, away from her home without the consent of her parents, the Oregon statutes making it a penal offense.

Michael Riley, who until a few months ago worked on the lightship, but who has been fishing since the season opened, was found dead on the deck of the steamer Queen as she was on her way up the river early yesterday morning. He was making the trip out of pleasure, and intended to cook breakfast for the crew. It was when he was called, that his dead body was discovered. He was brought to the coroner's office last evening and an examination made by physicians who pronounced the probable cause of death as heart trouble, aggravated by excessive cigarette smoking. Riley is well known in the city, having lived here for several years.

LANDED IN JAIL.

Deputy United States Marshal H. A. Smith Makes an Important Arrest.

A Timber Land Schemer Placed Behind the Bars.

Last evening Deputy United States Marshal H. A. Smith made an important arrest in the person of John Woods, alias Henry Moyat, alias George Barker, alias George Johnson, alias William Johnson, alias John McFadden. The arrest was made on the receipt of a Telegram from Marshal Grady, the charge being "perjury," connected with some land dealings at the Oregon City land office. Woods is wanted at Oakland, California, where several months ago he carried on extensive fraudulent land locating operations. Of late he has been endeavoring to locate parties on timber lands in this county, and across the river in Pacific county. Deputy Smith has been looking out for him for several weeks past, and a day or two ago, learning that the man he wanted was working up "timber claim locations" out on the Nehalem, telegraphed the United States marshal for the necessary papers to arrest him. Luckily, yesterday morning, Woods came into the city on horseback, ostensibly to do a little business, and before his departure Deputy Smith had him under arrest and behind the bars of the county jail.

Once in Pacific county he tried to work the same racket, and succeeded in filling his pockets to the extent of several hundred dollars, from various parties who took up with his schemes. C. C. Pratt, proprietor of the Central Hotel, at Ilwaco, was victimized to the extent of $90, and when he found that he was not the only mourner, he began to lay plans to get hold of Woods and try and make him disgorge, as he was always known to be well supplied with money. Securing the services of J. J. Voorhees, he sent him to Portland, where Woods had gone, and instructed him to get into the confidence of the land locator. This Voorhees managed to do, on the plea that he wished to get hold of some timber lands, and Woods was just the man that should do it. To make a long story short, they came to Astoria, Voorhees going to Ilwaco and notifying Pratt of his success, and Woods to the Nehalem country to look up some lands.

In the meantime Pratt was skrimishing around hunting up evidence against the man, with the intention, when arrested, to confront him with it and try and get him to hand over at least a portion of the money that he had been bilked out of. This, however, he has been unable to do, $60 being the entire sum of money found on the prisoner when searched at the county jail. Just how many people he had been able to land in Astoria with his misrepresentations, is not known, but probably not many, as his operations here have been confined to the last few days.

The following from the Oakland Tribune of April 4th, shows his method of obtaining money:

"The following article appeared in the Daily Humboldt Times, of Eureka:

"John Woods, of Tacoma, Wash. is no more; that is, he is no longer in Humboldt; but he is doubtless somewhere on earth wearing a handsome fire opal pin and a Grand Army button, and posing as the benefactor of the poor. Mr. Woods came here in an unostentatious way and established himself at Arcata very quietly. He managed to intimate, however, that he was engaged in the timber business, and was the agent for some Washington capitalists, who were coming on the heels of Mr. Woods and his fire opal to develop the country and incidentally benefit the poor people who had a few dollars to pay him (Mr. Woods). The scheme that Mr. Woods exploited was to get maps of a quantity of vacant land on the South Fork Mountain, in Trinity county, and locate people thereon.

"For his services Mr. Woods was to receive $50, $25, or anything he could get, for that matter, and then the bloated capitalists were to purchase the claims from the locators at an advance of $400. Mr. Woods would supply the money required to prove up on each tract of $400, and as soon as proof was made, the company stood ready to pay $400 advance thereon.

"The scheme worked nicely, and Mr. Woods induced Thomas McGowan, James Hennessey, Stirling P. Cunningham, William J. Whalen, and James J. Brophy, of Arcata, William H. Brown, of Freshwater, and Mrs. Sarah Young, of Eureka, to take up land. These parties he located on the valuable (?) timber land of South Fork Mountain, and they filed their applications in the United States Land Office. But Mr. Woods was not yet through, there were others who had money, and from these he obtained a $10 installment on his fee, he agreeing to go with them to the land, which looked very attractive on the black and red maps.

"The law requires that parties who take up timber land shall visit it more than once, and that it contain no mineral deposits. But Mr. Woods was superior to the law, and as it is a long way to South Fork, and the water was high, he induced one of the party of his dupes to make a start, saying it would be sufficient, they could swear they visited the land and no one would dispute them. The party got as far as the north fork of Mad River, camped there one night in the rain, and returned home.

"Fortunately for the community, an article warning people against men of his character appeared in the Times, and Mr. Woods hastily departed, taking his fees with him, and the bloated capitalists have not yet appeared upon the scene.

"There is what would be called good sugar pine timber in the east, on the South Fork Mountain, but that of any prospective value in the far distant future is either unsurveyed or in suspended townships. The ground has been thoroughly cruised by reputable locators in this county, and they some years ago came to the conclusion that they could not locate entries there. It is beyond the summit of two ranges of mountains, and can never be reached except by a railroad built especially for that purpose.

Five or six years ago another man named Woods, not of the fire opal, invented a lot of people into filing upon some of the South Fork Mountain timber. Woods, of the fire opal, claims to have met his namesake in Tacoma, and to have obtained from him a description of the timber. It is not likely that the second Woods was ever on the ground which he so glowingly depicted as being covered with a heavy growth of timber. It is not likely that the parties who have made the entries will ever perfect them, and they will lose their right, the $7.50 paid for advertising, and whatever money Woods secured. Woods was not at all retiring in his nature, and did not hesitate to seek the acquaintance of a prominent citizen one day and give him as reference the next.

"Woods carried a large sum of money on his person, which he would always manage to show where he was operating. He admitted to a gentleman in Eureka that he had been arrested in the north, but that the company he was operating for came to his rescue.

"The government authorities have been notified to look out for Woods, and he will have to take extra good care of himself for some time to avoid falling into their hands."

Woods, it is said, was released from the Oregon penitentiary in December last, having served two years, but for what crime was not learned. Deputy Smith will take his man to Portland tonight.

A STOLEN BOAT.

Four Men Arrested Yesterday With Stolen Goods.

About ten days ago a ship's boat was stolen from a relative of L. B. Seeley, at Portland, and authorities here were notified to keep a lookout for it and the thieves, as it was supposed that they were headed this way. On the down trip of the Telephone yesterday, Captain Crang from the description he had of the boat, felt positive the steamer passed it a few miles above the city, and so notified Constable Oberg. A naphtha launch was brought into requisition by the constable, and accompanied by Chief Loughery, they started up the river, coming up to the boat off Harrington's Point. The boat had been repainted from white to red, and Oberg, in running up, hailed the man on the lookout, asking him if he wanted a tow. Before the man answered, the launch was alongside, and the constable, noticing a revolver on the seat, jumped into the boat and picked it up, at the same time telling them they were under arrest. There were four men in the boat at the time of arrest, and it is supposed that they were on their way to Tillamook, as the boat has air-tight compartments and could stand the sea. It was filled with such articles as saws, augurs, potatoes, four revolvers, and two Henry rifles, but all of an age that indicated a second-hand store had been depleted somewhere. The parties were taken to jail awaiting the arrival of the proper authorities from Portland.
