THE SAME OLD STORY

The Conferrees Did Not Agree as Expected.

WHERE ARE THEY AT?

No Idea When the Muddle Will Be Straightened Out and an Agreement Reached.

Associated Press.

Washington, August 11.—The expected did not happen in the senate today. Twenty-four hours gave the Democrats time to consider their policy and plans to such an extent that they were ready to take action upon the important Hill resolution, which caused the parliamentary battle of yesterday. Today the proceedings were interesting, but they did not reach the high pitch of excitement that was expected. There was too much talk about parliamentary, and not enough about causes of the differences between the conferrees to make the scenes rival those of the senate when the first tariff disagreement was discussed. There was just enough to whet the appetites of spectators for more, but a final vote on Cockrell's motion to go into executive session showed that the Democrats were going to make one more effort to pull themselves together. This showed that many Democrats believe that Senator Hill's resolution was intended to defeat the bill. The proposition of Senator Turpie that the present conferrees should resign and others be appointed, indicated a desire which has long been known to exist among the many Democratic senators that conferrees should be appointed who would make reasonable concessions to the house, agree upon a compromise more secure, and report to the senate, and that the senate pass upon it.

The discussion has developed the differences of opinion as to which body has possession of the tariff bill, Senator Cockrell saying emphatically that the house has, and others declaring that it should by right be in the custody of the senate.

ALL IN A MUDDLE.

The Tariff Bill is as far from a Decision as Ever.

Washington, August 11.—The tariff bill is in a cloud tonight, and there are as many opinions as to its present status and as to its future as there are political groups. The surface Democrats today showed the Democrats of the senate were willing to pull together again for the time in order to see if the caucus of the house Democrats would offer any solution of the house, approved by the speaker and requested by the house conferrees showed that the leaders of that body have become greatly concerned over the fate of the bill, in the acknowledgment that it is in a critical state. But neither the action of the senate in delaying the Hill resolution nor the call of the caucus by the house Democrats insures the passage or defeat of the bill, nor yet does it certainly mean the senate bill or nothing. There are many who believe the Democratic caucus Monday will result in the final success of the senate bill, and that this action will be taken because the Democrats of the house, or a majority of them, will not want to risk any vote whatever in the senate for fear of killing all tariff legislation. This feeling, however, was stronger at 2 o'clock than at 6 today, it is quite probable the time which has been granted will be devoted to reconciling differences, making a compromise bill hurriedly, and with the least possible friction, and passing it as quickly as possible providing such action will be acceptable to the house caucus. The parliamentary tangle in which the bill is now passed, if no report is made by the senate conferrees, has caused considerable discussion and the opinion is divided as to the course opened to the house. As those tangles, however, would all unravel at once if the wings of the Democratic party again flapped in harmony, and the agreement on a report were reached by the conferrees present, the questions remaining unanswered are: Will the house caucus decide to take the senate bill, or will the decision be reached to make one more effort to agree on a compromise bill. It is conceded by almost all parties now that fewer concessions are to be expected from the senate than could have been obtained a week ago; that the outlook now is between no bill, the senate bill, and the senate bill modified, but not to a great degree.

AMERICANS GETTING IT HARD.

Cowes, August 11.—The American yachtsmen are being generally abused owing to Gould's refusal to sail the Vigilant against the Britannia in the match proposed by Lord Wolverton, fifteen miles to the windward and return, for a 100 pound cup. It was claimed the match was proposed in order to give the Vigilant one race on the line of the recent contest for the American cup.

COXEYITES DRIVEN OUT.

Washington, August 11.—Four hundred Coxeyites, camping at Rosslyn, were driven from Virginia at daybreak this morning, by the militia and their huts burned. They crossed the bridge into the District of Columbia. All moved without a word of protest except the California men.

DEFEATED ON EVERY TURN.

London, August 11.—The Field today, in its yachting article, says: "The Britannia has now defeated the Vigilant under every condition of wind and sea except a hard reefed sail in a heavy sea. The contests are becoming monotonous to the public."

A TERRIBLE FATE.

Warsaw, August 11.—The coal mines near Dombrowa, Poland, are burning, and 700 miners are entombed. All hope of rescue is abandoned.

RAVAGES OF THE CHOLERA.

Russia's Great Army and Formidable Fleet at the Seat of War.

Associated Press.

(Copyrighted, 1894, by Associated Press) Berlin, August 11.—Cholera is slowly but surely spreading westward. The disease has obtained a foothold in nineteen Russian provinces where deaths by the hundreds are recorded daily. Cholera exists in seven districts of Galicia and scores of deaths from the disease take place every day in that section. In Prussia, and especially in Danzig, the situation grows worse in spite of the closing of the frontier at Goltub, on the river Drewens opposite Dobrozin, Poland. The rest of Germany appears to be free from cholera, although a few sporadic cases have occurred here and there.

Two strongly armed new cruisers, Cormorant and Condor, now in reserve at Kiel, will be sent to Eastern Asia. The gunboats Hils and Wolfe are already in Chinese waters, and with the cruisers sent to the far east last week, and the Cormorant and Condor, Germany will have a total force of seven ships and a thousand men in the vicinity of Corea.

It is estimated that nearly 30,000 Russian troops are in Eastern Siberia, and they have with them 64 heavy guns. This, in connection with the fact that Russia has sent eight warships under sealed orders to Corea, and that the commander in chief of Eastern Siberia has been ordered to hold troops in that district in readiness to march at any moment, is regarded as significant. The Japanese diplomats here express perfect confidence that the powers will not permit China to annex Corea.

THE CHINESE VICTORIOUS.

A Naval Battle in Which the Japanese Fleet Were Forced to Retire.

Shanghai, August 11.—A dispatch from Chee Foo says the Japanese attacked Port Mandillon (Fort Arthur) yesterday evening and were repulsed. A special dispatch to Chee Foo confirms the report that the Japanese fleet attacked the Chinese fleet at Wei Hai Wei yesterday morning and were repulsed at one entrance of the harbor and subsequently attached at the other entrance. The dispatch says the Japanese made a daring attempt to capture the forts and arsenal at Wei Hai Wei. The Japanese attacked in force, four cruisers and several smaller vessels holding the advance. The first shots were exchanged at daylight, but the Chinese were on the alert and the gunners returned a vigorous fire from the forts. The Japanese apparently expected to take the Chinese by surprise, while the latter's warships were away. The Chinese squadron, with the exception of some small gunboats and torpedo boats, sailed the day before for another port. The gunboats at the fort kept up such a well-directed fire that the Japanese were unable to enter the harbor. The Chinese torpedo boats were then ordered to advance, and when they did so, the Japanese fleet retired. The same fleet of the Japanese attacked the harbor entrance later in the day. The result was not known when the dispatch was sent.

A BIG NAVAL BATTLE.

Shanghai, August 11.—Dispatches received here say that a second attempt of the Japanese fleet upon Wei Hai Wei has been defeated. Another dispatch says the Pei Yang fleet engaged with the Japanese fleet, and a stubborn battle is being fought.

LET THE CHINAMEN FOLLOW.

Portland, August 11.—The Japanese residents of Portland met tonight and formed an association known as the mutual protective association. The meeting was addressed by M. Odagiri, chancellor of the imperial consulate of Japan, at San Francisco. All the Japanese present signed the constitution requiring loyalty to their country, and signifying their willingness to enlist and go home in defense of their country.

TODAY'S WEATHER.

Portland, August 11.—For Washington, Oregon and Idaho, fair weather, warmer; light northerly winds.

TORTURED BY HIGHWAYMEN.

Strange Story Told by Anton Storsart—Footpads Steal $32.

Chicago, August 11.—Anton Storsart, a Bohemian moulder, early this morning was assaulted by four men. He had gone early in the morning to visit a brother in South Park avenue, and some time after midnight started to return. Storsart has no idea where he was when assaulted, but it is thought he was in the vicinity of 47th and State streets when he was seized. The men went through his pockets, and he says, when they failed to find any money they began to torture him with a sharp knife. Weak from the loss of blood, Storsart fell unconscious. He does not know when he regained consciousness, but in a weak condition he wandered to 47th street and Wentworth avenue, where Officer Andrus found him and took him to the Halsted street police station. There Dr. Abbey was called. A hasty examination showed the injuries to be of a serious character, and he was sent to the county hospital.

MEXICAN SOLDIERS DEFEATED.

Hermosillo, Mexico, August 11.—The forces of government soldiers that were sent against the Yaqui Indians are meeting defeat in all the attacks so far made. A courier has just arrived here bringing the news of an encounter with a detachment of soldiers and a band of Indians near the village of Chille Pines, which resulted in fifteen soldiers being killed and a large number wounded. The Indians lost about ten killed. The Indians ambushed the holders and after firing a volley into their ranks fled into the mountains.

AGED MAN ROBBED.

Newport, Or., August 11.—The residence of M. Gillette, an aged bachelor, living two miles from here, was entered by two masked men early this morning. Gillette, who resisted their intrusion, was severely beaten and cut about the face and neck, but not seriously. The robbers secured about ten dollars in money, a watch, shot gun, and a pair of field glasses. It is thought the robbers are Indians.

THE MARKET BROKEN.

Chicago, August 11.—The drought and the market were both broken today. One break caused the other. The government report, which at the time of its receipt yesterday, was considered a very bullish document, and really was so, and altogether surpassed in its influence, by the prediction of general rains throughout the corn belt. The wheat lost 1 cent of its previous value. Corn lost from 1 to 1 3/8, and oats, 7/8.

THE BATTLESHIP OREGON.

San Francisco, August 11.—The Union Iron Works expect to get the new battleship Oregon out with the high tide on Monday, and she will probably make her first trip Tuesday morning for the purpose of testing her engines. The Oregon in abeyance of her armor plates and guns, lacks 2,000 tons of her contract weight, and will therefore draw only about seventeen feet of water.

GOOD FOR ALTGELD.

Springfield, Ill., August 11.—Governor Altgeld today issued a letter to the privates and officers of the Illinois National Guard, expressing the gratitude of the people of the state for the sacrifices made, and the services rendered during the mining and railroad riots throughout the state. He says the entire regiments were mobilized and transported 200 miles in five hours.

SHOT BY A TRAMP.

Endicot, Wash., August 11.—Word was received here this afternoon that James Towe, a farmer of Rock Creek, was shot through the lungs and fatally wounded by a tramp at Winona about 1 o'clock. Both men had been drinking and quarrelled over a game of cards. The offender escaped. Deputy Echo passed here pursuing him.
