

Tide Table for August, 1904.

Table with columns for DATE, HIGH WATER (A.M., P.M.), and LOW WATER (A.M., P.M.). Rows list days from Wednesday to Friday.

TODAY'S WEATHER.

Portland, August 14.—For Washington, Oregon and Idaho, fair weather, warmer, except slight temperature changes on the immediate coast.

YESTERDAY'S WEATHER.

Local weather for the twenty-four hours ending at 5 p. m. yesterday, furnished by the United States Department of Agriculture, weather bureau.

Parties sending communications for publication in the Astorian will please wherever it is convenient to do so, have them typewritten. It will save a great deal of annoyance if this rule is strictly complied with.

"JEFFS" The Only Restaurant.

Katie Kehm Smith, who lectures here at Fisher's hall this evening, has a wide reputation as an orator and thinker.

Court Astoria, No. 8212, A. O. F. of A., intend giving a Grand Regatta Ball August 17 at Fisher's hall, and a splendid time is assured.

S. Schmidt, the sturgeon packer of Portland, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Schmidt will commence packing sturgeon Monday.

The games of the A. O. U. W. and Nob Hill Baseball clubs play Thursday, August 16th at Smith's Point. Game will be called at 2 o'clock.

An eye doctor from Portland found one per cent of the inhabitants of Brandon, Coos county, so cross-eyed that they have to wipe one another's noses.

People interested in the taxation of church property, and a complete separation of church and state, should hear the lecture at Fisher's hall this evening. Admission, free.

A Portland girl unexpectedly met her last year's Seashore lover in the surf one day last week. She was undecided at first whether to cut him dead or renew last summer's engagement.

C. B. Smith, the confectioner, has secured the agency for the famous Golden Gate compressed yeast, and is supplying every first-class grocery and confectionery store in the city. Ask for the Golden Gate.

Married—In the Finnish Evangelical Lutheran Church, last Sunday evening, Matt Puskala and Katrina Hendrickson in the Suomi Hall at Uniontown yesterday evening, Joseph Kelski and Helga Wirkkala, Rev. J. J. Holikka officiating.

There will be a social given in Uppertown on Friday evening, at 8 o'clock, by the members of the Scandinavian M. R. Church. A good program will be given by the Epworth League. All the friends of the Church are heartily welcome. Come one, come all!

At the regular monthly meeting of Alert Hook and Ladder Co., No. 1, Tuesday evening, two delegates, Messrs. F. M. Green and B. L. Ward were appointed to attend the Firemen's tournament Association meeting to be held at Oregon City September 21 and 24th.

The lightship stationed outside the bar will probably be moved by Saturday next, and possibly as early as Friday. If so, an effort will be made to have her stationed in the channel opposite the Telephone dock, to be used as a starting dock. She will be profusely decorated.

The steamer Telephone company will probably give an excursion on the river Saturday evening, the Fourteenth Infantry band furnishing music for the occasion. A large crowd will no doubt avail themselves of this opportunity for a moonlight (almanac not consulted) ride on the Columbia.

On Friday, the 17th inst., Mr. Maple, representing the well-known house of Newberger, Reiss & Co., will show the latest novelties in dress goods, silks, etc., for the coming fall and winter. Special orders will be taken from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. at C. H. Cooper's, the leading house of Astoria.

Hurray for the Sarah Dixon. She will carry passengers from Portland to Astoria during the regatta for $1.25 the round trip. Tickets good from 16th to 23d of August, leaving Portland Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday, at 3 p. m. Leave Astoria Tuesday, and Thursday, at 6:30, and Sunday after Ilwaco steamer arrives.

At last the old Pathfinder, the screw propeller tug belonging to the Fishermen's Union, has been pressed into service. It has been leased to the owners of the big barge now being constructed at Alderbrook, and will be used for lifting piling therein. Five men from this city will go up the river and work on the vessel. She has powerful machinery on board, and is just the thing for a business of this kind. The Pathfinder has been idle for several years.

This evening, at Fisher's hall, Katie Kehm Smith, secretary of the Oregon State Secular Union, and lecturer of the First Secular Church of Portland, will deliver the first of a series of lectures on Secularism. Subject this evening, "The Fiction of the Christian's Easter-day." Nettie A. Olds, superintendent of the Portland Secular Sunday school, and a fine violinist and elocutionist, and D. W. Smith, vice-president of the O. S. U., will assist in the evening's entertainment. Exercises begin at 8 o'clock. Admission free.

James Higley, who has been spending the summer months at Seaside, was before Justice Abercrombie yesterday charged with fighting. He was assessed $25, and being unable to produce that sum was sent to jail to board it out. He was arrested Sunday at Seaside, and upon a promise to Sheriff Hare that he would appear in Court on Monday was released. Monday arrived, but Mr. Higley was not so prompt. This sort of put Mr. Hare on his mettle, and taking the evening train for Seaside, he took the tardy Mr. Higley in charge, and yesterday landed him before His Honor, Judge Abercrombie. One thing is very certain, as long as a law is on the statutes, and Mr. Hare happens around, said law has got to be obeyed. The lawless element within the limits of Clatsop county had just as well take notice of that fact, first as last.

An Astorian reporter witnessed the landing of a bull near Knappton yesterday from the steamer Eclipse which was new and novel in its way, and doubtless was enjoyed by the bovine. On reaching the desired spot the blowing of several whistles by Capt. Skibbe brought two men in a skiff out to the steamer, some distance from land. To the uninitiated mind the question arose as to the lack of capacity of the skiff to hold the animal. But men who knew their business were in charge. A rope was thrown to the men in the skiff, attached to the horns of the bull, and by leading the animal to the side of the steamer, a dextrous and concentrated pull of the crew landed the animal overboard in twelve feet of water. It only took a few moments for his lordship to appear at the surface of the water, blowing like a porpoise, with his tail slightly elevated in the air, heading for a rapid pace. The Astorian reporter believed in his younger days he knew something about handling bovines, but is perfectly contented to lift his hat to Capt. Skibbe, and conclude he knows nothing about it.

A WOMAN ON THE WOMAN QUESTION.

It will be interesting to notice what kind of criticism is evoked among the women generally by an article on the woman question appearing in the current issue of the New York Critic. The article is written by a woman, and for that reason alone its bluntness has a significance which it would not have coming from any writer of the other sex.

The writer declares in very vigorous English that women do not want to mingle in active public affairs with men because they are unfitted for those affairs, not from lack of education or capacity, but because of inherent necessities of their nature. To this writer the conduct of political affairs "is a difficult and serious duty," and imposes an added labor upon "the already burdened spirit of woman." To take up the tasks of men and at the same time retain the rights and discharge the duties of womanhood in its highest manifestations seems to her an impossibility—the impossibility of combining all the work of all the world in one sex.

The expression is so flatly antagonistic to the attitude taken by many of the leaders among modern women that it is likely to provoke brisk argument. The position taken by the writer is the old-fashioned and traditional one that woman is at her highest and best in the home. Some information of great value will be obtained if the reaffirmation of this doctrine at the present time succeeds in eliciting any facts as to what proportion of the sex still adheres to this theory against the new and growing advocacy of woman's participation in affairs of the outer world.

THE BAND WILL PLAY

The United States Fourteenth Infantry Band Will Arrive in the City Tomorrow.

The Business Hours Will Commence Decorating Today.

As the time draws near, the committees in charge are closing up the arrangements for the various events that take place during the regatta. Yesterday they got away with a whole lot of work and a large number of boats were entered. Captain Harris wired over from Ilwaco that he wanted his boat entered in every event possible, also sending its measurement. Mr. Harris will probably give someone a pretty hard race when he gets his sloop in motion.

Tomorrow the Fourteenth Infantry band will arrive on the steamer Telephone, and it is expected the steamer Monterey will arrive in later in the evening. The outside boats will probably arrive in port by tomorrow night. The steamer Iris will be on hand every night to take the life saving crews back to their stations, as it will be impossible for them to remain away over night, consequently their drills with life lines, etc., will necessarily take place during the day time.

As announced yesterday, the Seashore railroad have made a round trip rate of $1 from Seaside and return to hold good until after the regatta. While the Ilwaco road has not announced any special rate, it is generally understood that they will do so today or tomorrow. The local steamers are preparing to carry large crowds during the races, and no doubt every available craft will be in demand.

One thing that should be done at once—without delay—is to commence and decorate your buildings. The business houses as well as the residences should be covered with bunting and flags. There is nothing that will add greater vim to the occasion than to see the city a profusion of decorations. A number have signified their intention to commence today and decorate, and it is hoped that others will follow their good example. The street cars will come out with flags flying this morning.

Fish boats will receive entries today, also applicants for swimming contests. This latter event is sure to prove a lively contest, and several of the best local swimmers will participate for the cup. Manager Seeley was in the city yesterday, perfecting arrangements for the Fourteenth Infantry band's arrival and sojourn in the city. He says there is a large contingent coming down from the metropolis. Mr. Seeley is doing good work at the other end of the line, and if he has his way, the regatta will be a howling success.

The prizes secured each day will be awarded each night from the stage of Stuts Theatre.

The horse race will be one of the liveliest features of the occasion, and a pretty good-sized purse will probably be raised. The boys are doing a good deal of side betting, and it is probable that competition will be lively for places on the line before the day of the race. Aside from the regatta proper there will be plenty of amusement prepared for the visitors. Several balls will take place and any number of private entertainments are on the program.

Last night Secretary Gunn received a telegram from J. T. Milner, president of the Willamette Rowing Association, stating that they would enter for Monday's races, two single, two double, and two four-oared boats. This makes a welcome acquisition to those already entered.

Last night Milner drew a good house. Tonight the great American play entitled "American Born." Every true American heart should see it, as the play shows what Americans can do and will do when their flag is imposed upon. Mr. Redick will appear as the villain, Labere Brood. Miss Freeman as the girl of all work. Mrs. Stuts as the heroine, and J. G. Stuts as John Hope, the American consul.

PERSONAL

O. Nelson, of Deep River, is in the city.

G. Bergman went over to Gray's River yesterday, to rusticate on his ranch.

Mrs. Borthwick and son, and Mrs. Muirhead, of Portland, are visiting Mrs. Dalglity.

Mr. Taylor, of Taylor, Young & Co., commission merchants of Portland, is in town gathering the salmon statistics.

Mr. Robt. A. Livingston, of Chicago, one of the U. F. F.'s, who has been camping at Gearhart Park the past month, has left for Salem, where he will remain a couple of weeks before returning east.

L. Mansur and family, of Knappton, accompanied by a party of friends, will leave this morning for a few days' outing in their summer place near Silver Point Cliffs. Sixteen people make up the jolly party, and they propose to make things lively while they remain at the beach.

Mr. E. S. Ferguson, formerly foreman of the Astorian, but lately of the internal revenue department at Portland is visiting in the city, the guest of O. W. Dunbar. Mr. Ferguson finds a great many improvements to the city since his absence, and says what all Astorians feel, "that all the town needs is a railroad."

Mrs. Katie Kehm Smith, the lecturer of the First Secular Church of Oregon, accompanied by her husband, Judge Smith, and Miss Olds, arrived in the city last evening, from Gray's River, where they have been visiting, and will deliver a series of lectures in Astoria. Mrs. Smith is a talented speaker, and Miss Olds has few equals as a violinist and musician.

A reward of $50 has been offered for the recovery of the body of Judge Wiswall, who was drowned at Seaside on Sunday last. This has stimulated the search for the remains, and parties patrol the beach day and night. Yesterday a rumor was circulated to the effect that the body had been found near Tillamook, but upon investigation it was ascertained that the report was without foundation.
