ALBERT DUNBAR.

In the Hill Lot Club drawing yesterday, George Johnson secured Lot 22, Block 20, and Jas. Reed, Lot 24, Block 20.

In ancient times advertising was sometimes done from the tops of the houses; in modern times, however, the tops of columns are preferred.

Several small vessels were reported off North Beach last evening. They are supposed to be the sloops and schooners from Bay Center, bound in for the regatta.

Quite a number of business houses were being decorated last evening. It is hoped that everyone will take a hand today and cover their buildings with flags and bunting.

Married—August 13, by Rev. J. McCormac, Jacob Karki and Ida Harold. At the Finnish Lutheran church yesterday evening. Alack Lampi and Henrika Toumala, both of Ilwaco.

The moonlight excursion Saturday evening August 18th, under the auspices of Grace Church Guild, will leave the Telephone dock at half past eight o'clock sharp. Tickets, 50 cents.

Albert Dunbar is now receiving daily sample patterns of the new styles of fall dress goods, and he will be pleased to show them to the ladies at any time. Mr. Dunbar will also deliver the goods thirty-six hours after they have been ordered through him.

Max Stral the enterprising second-hand dealer on Upper Commercial street, has leased the adjoining store-room to his place of business, and is having an archway cut through the intervening partition. He is getting ready for a heavy fall trade.

The most artistic window in the city last night in the way of decorations was that of Griffin & Reed, the stationers. A model of a two-masted schooner under full sail was set in a background of bunting and colored tissue, making a beautiful and striking effect.

The sealing schooner Kate and Ann, which arrived in a couple of weeks ago from Japan waters with a cargo of sealskins, left out again early yesterday morning, bound on a cruise down the coast, hunting for sea otter. She will put into San Francisco at the end of her trip.

Tomorrow, the 17th inst., Mr. Maple, representing the well-known house of Newberger, Reiss & Co., will show the latest novelties in dress goods, silks, etc., for the coming fall and winter. Special orders will be taken from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. at C. H. Cooper's, the leading house of Astoria.

Thomas Jewett last night had the misfortune to lose a $200 check made payable to Smith, Bain & Co., or bearer. Although a careful search was made for the missing paper, up to a late hour it had not been found. All the stores and business houses are notified not to cash the same if presented by other than the parties in whose favor it was drawn.

A delighted audience greeted "American Born" at Stults' Theatre. The neat little house was well filled with the critical theatrical admirers of Astoria. Mr. Reader as Loben Brood and Sylvester, did good work, and demonstrated to his many friends that he was capable of playing any role in the line of drama. Miss Freeman and Carlton, in the comedy, could not have been improved upon. Mr. Leon Gillett as Don Andre became a favorite in the part, while Mr. and Mrs. Stutta came in for a share of the applause. American born tonight.

There was not a vacant seat in Fisher's hall last night when Katie Kehin Smith commenced her address on "The Fiction of the Christian's Easter Day." The violin solos by Miss Olds, accompanied by Miss Christensen, were loudly applauded, while the recitations delighted everyone. Mrs. Smith speaks this evening on "What Secularism has done for Women." The admission is free. Mrs. Smith is lecturer of the First Secular Church of Portland, and Miss Olds is superintendent of the Portland Secular Sunday school. They are now enjoying a vacation and traveling about the state, addressing audiences on the subject of "Secularism." They will go to Tillamook after remaining in this city for about a week.

"There is but one way of thinking," said Dr. Estes yesterday, "and that is that better protection should be afforded the bathers at Clatsop beach. There should be a life boat and crew stationed there constantly, and it could be done with but little expense to the people owning property at Seaside. I myself will give $10 toward a new surf boat, and it will not be a very heavy expense to keep it manned during the bathing hours of the summer. I dare say there are plenty of young fellows at Seaside who would be glad to volunteer their services if a good life boat were procured. Bathers should be compelled to go and come at certain hours, and if that rule were strictly followed, there would be few cases of drowning at any of the beaches."

PROGRAM ARRANGED

Tomorrow Begins the Mid-Summer Season of Yachting Festivities.

The U. S. Gunboat Monterey Expected in This Afternoon.

Today is the last day before the regatta. Tomorrow the first of the races take place, and from all indications it will be a big day. The Monterey is expected in this evening, or the first thing tomorrow morning. Her arrival off the bar will probably be made known by signals from the No. 2 fire-bell, though that arrangement has not as yet been settled upon.

The schooners and sloops from Bay Center will leave Shoalwater Bay today and arrive in the evening. Captain Harris' boat will also come over today.

The horse race will take place on Saturday, and promises to be one of the big events of the day. The boys have raised a purse of $50, which will be divided into first and second prizes. No. One, Two, and Three, will participate and probably a company from Ilwaco. It is given out that positively no professionals will be allowed to run in the teams, and only members of the companies can compete. The race will take place in the afternoon, but at just what hour has not been decided.

The I. R. and N. Co. have made a $1.75 rate from Nahotta to Astoria and return. This is equal to the rate made by the Seashore road.

W. S. Dunway and R. H. Austin, in the boat "Percy S. Austin," and J. C. Ensign, and John Copeland, in the canoe "Bug," arrived down from Portland yesterday afternoon, and will participate in the racing events. Their boats are anchored in Seow bay.

A book has been opened at the regatta headquarters where visitors can register. Already a large number of names have been placed on the book.

The Fourteenth Infantry band will be down on today's regatta, and will remain during the three days' regatta. Sunday they will go to Gearhart Park, returning in the evening.

Following is the official program as revised by the regatta committee: Friday, August 17th—

9. 2:30 p. m.—Columbia River schooner cannery tenders, 13 3-8 knots. Cash, $50.
10. 3 p. m.—Four oar boat race, two miles. Cup.

BASEBALL TODAY.

There will be a game of baseball at Smith's Point today that will without a doubt prove exciting. It is between the A. O. U. W. nine and a team from the Nob Hill club. Both sides claim a victory in advance, and when they get on the field, no quarter will be given by either side. Here are the players on the A. O. U. W. side: Catcher, S. Koser; pitcher, W. Belcher; first base, R. N. Wright; second base, W. N. Smith; third base, F. Crang; short stop, Wm. Schofield; left field, A. J. Crang; center field, Nelson Troyer; right field, J. V. Marten. Substitute, C. B. Harnden, and Jan Taylor.

The following array of hard hitters and swift runners will try and hold down honors for the famous Nob Hill Association: Catcher, F. L. Parker; pitcher, Pete Grant; first base, H. G. Smith; second base, D. Smith; third base, C. Bain; short stop, H. G. Van Dusen; left field, J. N. Griffin; center field, J. H. Smith; right field, George H. George.

The city is filling up fast with visitors to the regatta. Nearly every hotel in the city reports a heavy influx of guests during the past two days.

Robert Lowe was yesterday displaying a piece of the old wreck which came ashore at Arch Cape last spring. The wood, which is evidently a piece of cedar, though not of the variety found on this continent, is well preserved, having lain for the past 80 years or more on the rocks south of Necarney Mountain. It is supposed to be a piece of an ancient vessel that went ashore at that rugged point many years before the first white man ever set foot on the Pacific slope. Visitors at the beach are carrying bits of the wreckage away until now only a small portion remains of the large piece that came ashore several months ago.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mrs. Wiswall, of Vancouver, left for her home last evening.

Capt. in Edwards and wife, of Portland, are at the Occident. They will remain until after the regatta.

P. B. Whitney and daughter, Miss Louise Whitney, of Arlington, are at the Occident until after the regatta. Dr. Estes came up from Seaside yesterday and will remain in the city during the regatta. His family will come up during the four days' carnival.

J. W. Rankin, Northern Pacific timber inspector, of Tacoma, was in the city last evening. He has been across on the Ilwaco side for a few days, and leaves up the river this morning. He will return for the regatta.

Wm. Raymond startled the waterfront loungers yesterday morning by cutting a series of antics on the river with his water bicycle. He will place it on exhibition during the regatta. The booming of big guns was heard again at Canby this morning, which indicated that the inspection of the batteries was still going on. Long lines of white smoke could be plainly seen from this city, as the big harbor defenders were fired, but several minutes would elapse before the report could be heard.

Mr. Nordland, of Hare, who had been in Astoria, Monday doing some trading, when on his way home in a fish boat, had the misfortune to capsize. He remained on the bottom of his up-turned boat all night, and was finally rescued by Messrs. Williams and Hellstrom, of Blind Slough. He was taken to Svenson's Landing.

Hurrah for the Sarah Dixon. She will carry passengers from Portland to Astoria during the regatta for $1.25 the round trip. Tickets good from 16th to 22d of August, leaving Portland Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday, at 9 p. m. Leave Astoria Tuesday, and Thursday, at 6:30, and Sunday after Ilwaco steamer arrives.

Yesterday morning the two-masted schooner Caroline and the sloop W. F. Tucker came in from the Flattery harbor banks loaded down with deep sea fish, principally halibut. They anchored in mid-stream until late in the afternoon, when they moved over to the Hume dock and the Caroline began selling her cargo of halibut. It was not long before the streets were lined with men, each carrying a big fish he had purchased from the enterprising fishermen. They sold at 50 cents each, and hundreds were disposed of before night came on.

Henry Pitts, the colored man who has been having much notoriety during the last two weeks, and is now on ball awaiting trial for enticing a minor from her home, etc., is again head-over-heels in trouble at Kalama. As will be remembered, the case was postponed until the arrival of his wife from Tacoma. He went to Kalama yesterday to meet her, when the wide-awake sheriff recognizing him, placed him behind the bars of the county jail, despite his protest and explanation that he was under bonds in this county to appear on Thursday for trial. Sheriff Hare was telegraphed, asking what should be done with the man, and his answer probably secured Pitts his liberty. He is expected to arrive today, but on account of the Bain trial, his case will probably go over to some future date.

The case of the State of Oregon vs. H. M. Bain, for illegal fishing, was on trial before Justice Abercrombie again yesterday, and as in the case of the day previous, the jury disagreed. Five stood for conviction, and one for acquittal. A new jury will be drawn today, and another hearing given, and if there is another disagreement, the case will be repeated. Justice Abercrombie says that this must be a test case, and he is going to have a verdict one way or the other, if it takes all month to get it.
