The Astorian guarantees to its sub-scribers the largest circulation of any newspaper published on the Columbia

Advertising rates can be obtained on application to the business manager. This paper is in possession of all the telegraph franchises, and is the only paper on the Columbia river that publishes genuine dispatches.

The Daily Astorian's circulation is nee times as great as that of the com-lined circulation of the other daily pa-pers of Astoria.

The Weekly Astorian, the third oldest weekly in the state of Oregon, has, next to the Portland Oregonian, the targest weekly circulation in the state.

Subscribers to the Astorian are requested to notify this office, without less of time, immediately they fail to receive their daily paper, or when they do not get it at the usual hour. By doing this they will enable the management to place the blame on the proper parties and to insure a speedy remedy. Handley & Hans are our Portiand agents and copies of the Astorian can be had every morning at their stand on First street.

What will it be if the conditions are cessities increase. So far as known, ings, at 9 p. m. J. W. SHAVER. the strikers have no definite plans of relief adequate to meet their combined needs. They cannot expect to remain idle permanently, and most of them are too wise to expect new resources to fall to them from the clouds.

It is eminently necessary that the Pullman strikers and all other hodies of unemployed men who may be in the the warning such a forecast will give them and then consider whether they have any plans which will carry them through the winter. Some plans they likely to prove serious.

Some admirer of the great parliamentary and scholastic and autorial woodman had brought over Gladstone's ax, hoping that it might be accepted as a symbol and rallying aegis of the new society, forgetting that it was the emblem of the destruction and not the preservation of the trees. Nothing came of the plan, and nothing has since been heard of the ax. Professor Harper, of the University of Chicago, was called into Two b consultation and it was his opinion that if the chair were founded in the university, it should be endowed with a sum of at least $300,000. There is really no matter of more pressing national-interest than the preservation of the forests, and up subject on which the public need more persistent and systematic culighterment. ELECTION NOTICE.

The condition in which the strikers in Pullman find themselves at the present time, says the Chicago Record, is one that should impel them to sober and thoughtful consideration of the facts. Throughout the long-continued strike they have maintained a courageous front, hoping in the face of adverse circumstances and waging a battle of endurance. Throughout this period, also, they have won public appreciation by their deference to law and their preservation of the peace.
