

OREGON NOTES.

The Salvation Army at The Dalles have added a large bass drum to their band.

Fendleton has a Fruit and Flower mission so well organized that it is a positive pleasure to be under the weather in that town.

Mr. Simmons, who resides at the upper end of Lake Labish, Marion county, claims to be the pioneer in the raising of cranberries in Oregon.

An Arago boy made a steam engine out of an old salmon can. The doctor who attended him says he can't cure him without leaving a few scars.

The good-hearted mayor of Eugene City named Friendly, has appointed a bright man named Day as night watchman for the town on account of so many burglaries.

L. C. Hill was discharged in the circuit court at Grant's Pass last Tuesday. He had been charged with attempting to wreck the northbound passenger train near tunnel No. 9 in 1892.

In spite of its being so dry around Grove City that you have to soak the water over night like codfish before they can drink it, the mower is making music over the second crop of alfalfa.

A rising young preacher named Horn was married at Elmira on the 19th to Miss Inman. Here's a chance for to hear a woman blow up one of Gabriel's Horns if true love does not run smooth.

The men who hold the collegiate high jumping records all over the East could make good wages coming to Oregon now and helping harvest the hop crop. Their presence will save step ladders.

One of those gold-plated, jewel-set and indestructible boons of Providence has been set down in Gold Hill where a deaf and dumb barber plays his trade, wittily oblivious that in his silence lies his fortune.

The fruit farm of F. B. Watson, lying east of Eugene, sold one day this week to Mr. W. T. Halliday, recently from California. The farm contained 45 acres, and brought $9,000. Frasier & Svarverud made the sale.

A Vale hotel keeper intends pushing business. He advertises that he has received a force pump for his saloon.

The Oregon hop crop this year comes pretty near making up for the slump in the price of the wheat crop.

Union county has just issued a call for all warrants indorsed prior to May 1st, 1887, for redemption. Seven and one-half years' expenses would naturally seem to be a pretty good-sized debt for the county to pay interest on.

The difference between Salem girls and Albany girls is thus defined by a literary Oregonian: "The Albany girls act like the woman in 'Ships that pass in the Night,' while the Salem girls act more like Dodo" than anything else.

Edmund Bosquet, a bad man from Hitter Creek, who threatened to kill his wife and burn down the house, was jailed down hard on the floor of the justice court at Junction City, and bound over to appear before the next grand jury.

Deputy Sheriff Veatch, of Cottage Grove, reports that Helfrich, the horse thief, received five bushels from Constable Linton at the time of their meeting near Creswell. Helfrich says he will not be taken alive; and the officers think he is hardly worth killing, so he may go his way for some time yet.

It was written on the shining book of fate that the Cook family, of Umatilla county, would rise to burnished glory, but nobody expected that they would choose the way by being put on record as having the youngest taxpayers in the state. Willie, aged seven, pays taxes on $3,000, and his four-year-old brother's assessment is $125.

SHE WAS A WOMAN.

"What kind of a postoffice is this, anyway," said a lady as she stepped to the general delivery window about a week ago. "I wrote to a lady friend in Portland over two weeks ago, inviting her to spend a week with me, and so far I have failed to receive an answer. I know there must be a letter at this office for me."

"But there has been no letter for you," said the obliging clerk.

"That's all right; I'll see about it."

Saturday the same lady came back. "Here is a basket of peaches for the office; it is my treat. My husband kept that letter in his pocket, where I found it yesterday, and I feel like apologizing. Take these peaches and the next time that I blame this office for my husband's mistakes, I'll know myself. Good day."

IT MAY DO AS MUCH FOR YOU.

Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for several years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so-called kidney cures, but without any good result. About a year ago he began the use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure of all Kidney and Liver troubles, and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Price, only 50 cents for large bottle, at Chas. Rogers' drug store.

NEW CAUSE.

Thousands Flock to the Standard.

When a new cause is presented to the public it always excites attention. A prominent physician has said that in the grippe during the last three years has done more to weaken the hearts of the world than any other cause that has ever existed. Those who have had this malady, and subsequently found themselves subject to palpitation, short breath, irregular pulse, wind in stomach, pain in side or shoulder, smothering spells, fainting, dizziness, etc., may feel assured that they have heart disease, which, unless checked at once, may result fatally. Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is the only remedy that can be relied upon to effect a cure. Sold by Chas. Rogers, on a guarantee. Ask for the doctor's new book, free.

Blue Devils

The business man who says that advertising does not pay does not advertise. He is the one that always doubts the prosperous trade reports he hears of his competitor, who does advertise. He sits in the back of his store, smokes his pipe and wonders why he isn't making any money. He has the blues when he should have trade. He not only lets his neighbor get that neighbor's share of the business, but a good part of his also. He sets people whom he thought old friends of his go into his competitor's store and come out with bundles of goods, when he has the same articles on his shelves, and perhaps at lower prices than they paid his competitor for them. Why is this so? It is because his competitor lets the public know in an intelligent way through the local papers what he has to sell and when he has it. The successful advertiser looks after his advertising space as he does his clerks. He changes his ads. in such a way the people are attracted by them. He feels that to make money he must be willing to spend money; that there is strong competition in all lines of business, and to get his share of the trade he must advertise, and to do it in the most skillful and intelligent way. If he cannot write advertising matter himself, he seeks the aid of some one who has made the writing of advertisements a study—some specialist, who will see that it is properly written in a catchy and displayed way—some one whose duty it is to take off the shoulders of a busy man all the worry of making up an ad. No business man attempts to cure his own sickness, pull his own teeth, make his own clothes or attend to his own law cases. He employs specialists for each of these various services, and saves money by doing it. It is through its language and arrangement that an advertisement gets its business-bringing qualities. There must be something to attract public attention and hold it; something of interest, something out of the ordinary, something that is different from others of the same line of business. To give it these peculiar features requires experience, and the owner of The Astorian has engaged the services of such a specialist for the benefit of its advertising customers who may wish to take advantage of his services.

The Evening Star, of Washington, D. C., has an advertisement writer connected with its business department, and its terms to advertisers are, "So much blank space, so much money. The same amount of space, with the assistance of the advertisement writer in getting up ad. attractively, so much additional."

The Astorian charges nothing extra, the services of the expert being thrown in.

ON THE SAFE SIDE.

Everybody knows this is a good place to be, but everybody does not take measures to be there. An efficient preventative places us on the safe side of incipient disease, and there is no more reliable than Hostetter's Stomach Bitters in cases where the kidneys are inactive, which is the preliminary to various destructive maladies, which disregarded have a fatal termination. Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, oedema, are but the outgrowths of neglected inaction of the kidneys and bladder. They should be checked at the outset with bitters, which will prevent their progress by arousing the renal organs to activity, and thus place those who resort to this saving medicine on the safe side. This preservative of safety also conquers constipation, liver complaint, malarial fever, nervousness and dyspepsia.
