It does me good to see him writhe, under Mr. Goff's torture. It was not powerful in Sheehan to give it as his solemn judgment that the Parkhurst Society had organized disorderly houses. That was rather feeble in the commissioner. But he had to say something. Dr. Parkhurst should take into consideration the pro-

All that's Yellow is not Cottolene. There's hardly a housekeeper in the country but has heard of Cottolene the new vegetable shortening. It is a strictly natural product; composed only of clarified cotton seed oil, thickened for convenience in use, with refined beef suet—pure and sweet. So composed, COTTOLENE

Was bound to win, and to drive out lard from the kitchens of the world. When housekeepers wish to get rid of the unpleasant features and results of lard, they should get Cottolene, taking care that they are not given cheap counterfeits with imitative names, spuriously compounded to sell in the place of Cottolene. COTTON RAW MATERIAL.

It is encouraging still to see that there are a few people left down South who do not believe the low price of cotton is because silver is demonized by the government purchase and conversion into money since 1875 of fifteen thousand tons of the metal. There are questions in the states of North Carolina and Tennessee and Arkansas whether cotton can any longer be profitably raised in these states, and Judge Clark, of North Carolina has presented an important paper, in which he says: "The price of cotton does not bid fair to go up." The new area added every year in Texas will continually overbalance the world's increased consumption. Then there is the steadily increasing production in India, Egypt and Brazil. In Mexico the cotton plant lives eight years and produces two crops a year. Production there has heretofore been small, owing to lack of railroads and reliable labor. This is being remedied. To compete with a country which can produce sixteen crops of cotton from one planting, is like using a muzzle-loader against a sixteen-shooter.

One planter urged that there was money in a bale of cotton to the acre at five cents a pound, and he put the points in a row this way:

"It is not so very long since we got nine cents for our lint cotton. Then we threw away the seed, for which we now receive three and a half cents for every pound of lint cotton we raise. This, added to the five and a half cents for the lint, makes nine cents which we are really getting for our cotton—and for those nine cents we can purchase nearly twice as much of the necessities of life as we could before."

We quote these passages from the North Carolina correspondence of the New York Evening Post, and the cotton seed item is new and important. Two things seem clear: First, that the South must diversify her industry, and second, the use of cotton as free raw material should be commended to the Southern people, and the Democratic jappers requested to tell why with this material we do not clothe the world in cotton manufactures spun and woven on the soil where the fields are white with it in a raw state.

Sidney Dell has been getting into hot water again over his pet hobby the "Neff" case. An attempt has been made through him and his statements to dirty the character of Mr. Budd, the Democratic candidate for governor in today's election. The Examiner of Friday morning, which came to hand yesterday, repeats the authors of these insinuations in good shape, and publishes dispatches sent to Mr. Hearst by ex-Governor Thayer, ex-Judge Strahan, and Attorney Stevens, all of Portland, denying the charges in toto. The following is ex-Judge Strahan's dispatch:

"I was and am perfectly satisfied with Mr. Budd's connection with the Neff case was altogether honorable and regular and that charges of fraud had no sort of basis. This was unanimous view of the court. As a matter of fact, Sidney Dell's statement appeared to be at variance with the great volume of evidence in the case which the court deemed material and the case was decided according to the preponderance of evidence."

Dr. Parkhurst is developing the quality of cruelty. He is quoted as saying in reference to John C. Sheehan: "Sheehan is now writhing on Mr. Goff's gridiron, and I want to say that

AS THE BATTLE BEGINS.

The following forecast of today's election was handed in by a well-known local politician: As the campaign closes and the balloting begins, indications point to the election of Morton over Hill in New York, although the re-apportionment will very likely be rejected, which would be a partial victory for the Democrats, and on which Hill really made his greatest fight. In Nebraska, Judge Holcomb, the fusion candidate, will probably defeat Tom Majors, for governor, and a Bryan, legislature is almost certain. In Illinois, the Republicans will elect their state ticket, while the Democrats will carry Chicago's city officers, and on account of gerrymandering, they will most probably have the legislature, thereby securing the election of McVeagh in place of Senator Cullom, which will, however, be offset by the election of Ex-Senator Sewell to succeed Senator McPherson. The congressional fight seems favorable to the Republicans, although it is very probable that the Populists may hold the balance of power.

California is another doubtful state, although Estee seems to have the best of it, with prospects of a Republican legislature. Indiana is expected to be in the Republican column, while in Connecticut it is a fight between the A. P. A., and the anti-A. P. A., Cofin, Republican, being supported by the former, and Cady, Democrat, by the latter. Of course Washington, Colorado, Michigan, and Minnesota, are safely Republican, as Georgia, Texas, Arkansas, and the other Southern states are Democratic, with the exception of West Virginia, where a strong fight is being put up against Chairman Wilson.

EXTENDED SYMPATHY.

"Do unto others as you would have others do unto you," is sympathetically shown in the following lines, the presumption being that sympathy is born, or akin to pain or sorrow: "Gentlemen—Please send Krause's Headache Capsules as follows: Two boxes to Flora Seay, Havana, N. Dak. Two boxes to Lillie Wilcox, Brookland, N. Dak. I have always been a great sufferer from headache and your Capsules are the only thing that relieves me." Yours very truly, FLORA SEAT, Havana, N. Dak. For sale by Chas. Rogers, Astoria, Or., Sole Agent.
