

Somekinds

Of ready-made trousers will know if you can stand in a barrel all day. They're hardly safe to wear about the streets.

Some kinds of ready-made clothing look very well behind plate glass windows, when all dressed up, embellished with bright satens and millinery bouquets. It never looks as well elsewhere.

The prices on such goods will positively surprise you. It may even sometimes occur that you'll wonder how they are sold so cheap. You'll wonder less if you ever try them. Experience is a powerful teacher. Better profit by the other fellows' whenever you can.

We're the apostles of good "honor bright" clothing, preaching it all the time, and practicing what we preach.

CHAS. McDONALD,
The Tailor,
533 Commercial Street.

THE BEST

Goods to get for the money—are what we sell.

We have the best reasons to attend to business courteously and strictly. We only have the Hope brand of whiskey, and are selling more of it every day. Its goodness and our customary business methods answer to make it well known.

During the past few years the tonnage of American vessels entering Indian ports has fallen off considerably. In five years it has decreased to seven-eighths. Last year only five vessels, with an aggregate tonnage of 6,000, visited India. On the other hand, the tonnage of vessels trading to India has doubled in five years.

Portland's papers are still pointing with pride to the alleged fact that the Iroquoise came down the river drawing 24 feet. The real facts are that the American ship Iroquoise passed out over the Columbia river bar drawing 24 feet, but not until she had taken on over 1,000 tons of cargo at this port. She was towed out at extreme low water.

Mrs. E. S. Cherry, of this city, has received a request from the ladies who compose the executive committee of the "floral department of the Oregon State Horticultural Society, that she inform them what prospects this city and county can hold out towards an exhibit at the chrysanthemum show to be held in that city on the 21st and 23d of the present month.

The case of the city vs. Thomas Howard, charged with assault on a woman named Flo. Atkinson, was continued until today. The woman is still in jail and is badly disfigured about the face. This case was equally as brutal as the Wroten case, and it is thought the evidence will be sufficiently strong to put young Howard on the streets for a number of days.

The Peruvian bark Adalgisa, says the San Francisco Commercial News, 218 tons, will be offered for sale to the highest bidder on Monday next at 1:30 p. m. The sale will be conducted by Harry Baldwin, U. S. Marshal, and to be held in front of the Merchants' Exchange. Nothing but U. S. gold coin will be recognized. The vessel put in here in distress, and has been condemned.

It is understood that a secret session of "citizens" met last night in a down town hall, for the purpose of discussing the advisability of putting a citizens' ticket in the field at the coming municipal election. The Populists vow that they will have a ticket up, and with the Republicans, it would seem matters will be decidedly interesting before the day of election arrives. But where do the Democrats come in?

Dr. Bushong preached to a large and attentive audience Sunday night, and handled his subject without gloves. He pointed out to the officials evils known to exist in this city, and in a manner that almost anyone could understand. Dr. Bushong is sincere in his efforts to rid the city of gamblers and another sermon or two like that of Sunday night will make Astoria a pretty warm nest for that element to remain in.

ing the best line of office desks, all styles, and typewriters ever offered on the coast, every article sold on trial guaranteed, subject to return.

Mr. Samuel E. Mors, the consul-general at Paris, has sent to the state department an abstract of the official report on the wheat crop of France for 1894. It is estimated by the French statisticians, says Mr. Mors, that the crops of 1894 throughout the world will be 25 per cent in excess of the world's demands for consumption and seed.

Mrs. Sarah Ross gave an impromptu party to a number of her friends last evening at her millinery parlors on Eleventh street. The evening was pleasantly spent with music, refreshments and dancing. The mandolin club was in attendance and gave several selections besides furnishing music for the dancing. Several songs rendered by the guests were highly appreciated.

Ross, Higgins & Co., who can be found at the old stand now and all the year around, wish to inform their customers that they are selling the choicest quality of fresh meats at lower prices than similar cuts of meat, can be bought for from peddlers, and invite all who are interested to get prices. You can buy from them in quantities to suit, a nice piece of cheap boiling beef or a rich, juicy tenderloin.

Supervising Architect General Dumont, of the steamboat inspection service, in his annual report states that of the 600,000,000 or 700,000,000 people carried on steam vessels during the fiscal year, only 96 passengers lost their lives through casualties. During the same period 159 officers or persons employed on steam vessels were lost, an increase in the total over 1893 of 27. Nearly 11,000 boilers were inspected.

The steamer Portland came down yesterday having a cargo of wheat for San Francisco. There is not much left to remind one of the old Haytian Republic, for not in recent years has the vessel looked so bright and clean and new as it did yesterday coming down the bay with the early morning's sun shining on her newly painted upper works, which are of pure white. She will go on the dry dock at San Francisco and have her bottom coppered, after which it is thought she will go on the Island run.

Sunday the steamer Thompson went over to McGowan's cannery and took off a load of salmon. In returning she crossed directly over the sands at extreme low tide, and many people who stood on the docks and watched the approach of the steamer, ventured the remark that she would never be able to make the channel opposite the city. But she came right along, and apparently never touched bottom once. Yesterday the Baker went across the bay over the same course and loaded salmon at McGowan's. She made the trip without any mishap.

Henry Wroten was before Judge Osburn yesterday charged with assault and battery on Bessie Brown, a frail denizen of the burnt district. He now languishes in jail, and this morning will probably go to work on the street. He is an old offender, and has been before the police judge on numerous occasions. When he first started out his brutal work was confined to men, but of late he has been in the habit of mistreating women. His last affair was a most brutal one, and when Judge Osburn fined him $50, there was not a man present, unless it be the prisoner himself, but thought the sentence too light. It seems that Wroten and the girl were shaking dice, and she took offense at certain names which he persisted in calling her. The quarrel terminated in an encounter in which Wroten struck the girl a downward blow in the face, breaking her nose and otherwise bruising her badly.

Last evening the Columbine crossed in over the bar, and at 12:35 was securely docked at the foot of Main street. She has been away for over two weeks, cruising about on the Sound, and in that time has done considerable work inspecting buoys and stations and delivering supplies. Coming down the coast yesterday they met with a very smooth sea, though up to 9 o'clock they encountered heavy fog. A stop was made at Destruction Island, leaving there at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The keeper of the Destruction Island light and his wife were brought to this city. Captain Richardson reports a pleasant voyage from the time of leaving this port until his return. Coming over the bar last night the bright moonlight made the dancing waves look like rolls of molten silver, and so clear was the night that one could almost see the frowning muzzles of the big guns on the heights at Cape Disappointment. It was a night such as poets love to dream about but seldom experienced in this part of Oregon.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. John Hume returned yesterday from an extended trip through California.

Mr. J. A. Devlin has returned from a trip to his cannery at Friday Harbor, Washington.

ASTORIA'S DAY AT THE KIRMISS.

The Kirmiss, which is to be given in Portland November 13th to 17th, will no doubt prove a grand success. The 15th will be Astoria Day, and in order to give all Astorians a chance to attend, the O. R. and N. Co. have made a round trip rate of $2.00, which includes admission to the performance. The tickets will be good going on the fast and elegant side-wheel steamer T. J. Potter, leaving on the night of the 14th, or on the commodious steamer R. R. Thompson on the morning of the 15th. Tickets good for return until the 16th inclusive.

Oregon's Great Seaport.

The prediction of shrewd old John Jacob Astor is about to be fulfilled. The city of Astoria, Oregon, is about to become the greatest seaport and metropolis of Northwestern America.

Its location and resources have attracted the attention of capital, and it is today the best field for the investment of money, brains and muscle on the American continent.

This "largest civilized city in the world without a railroad," is to experience the impetus of a connection in different directions with two of the greatest continental railway systems.

Astoria's harbor advantages (the best on the whole Pacific Coast) are now understood and appreciated; its fishing interests (already paying to the hands employed in the salmon canneries alone over $250,000 of wages each month) are to be augmented by the investment of outside capital and the erection of large and latest improved plants. The immense forests of Oregon pine surrounding the city are to be converted into lumber for the Australian, Chinese, Japanese, and South American markets.

The great coal fields within a few miles of the city are to be immediately opened, and the product thereof shipped in every direction.

A dairying region unsurpassed in the whole world is to be opened up and afforded an outlet to market.

A harbor, better than that of San Francisco, and the only one with this exception on the more than two thousand miles of Pacific coast, is to be supplied with increased dockage and coaling facilities, and immense grain elevators will be built to store and load the wheat of the Columbia basin directly on the merchant fleets of the world.

Astoria offers openings for many new industries, namely, grist mills, saw mills, paper mills, stove, box, barrel and tub factories, shoe case works, rash and door factories.

There will be room for many live, energetic and wide-awake men and women with or without money. All inquiries promptly answered. Papers and data supplied on application.
