Of ready-made trousers will answer if you can stand in a barrel all day. They're hardly safe to wear about the streets.

Some kinds of ready-made clothing look very well behind plate glass windows, when all pressed up, embellished with bright satens and millinery bouquets. It never looks as well elsewhere.

The prices on such goods will positively surprise you.

It may even sometimes occur that you'll wonder how they are sold so cheap. You'll wonder less if you ever try them. Experience is a powerful teacher. Better profit by the other fellow's whenever you can.

We're the apostles of good "honor bright" clothing, preaching it all the time, and practicing what we preach.

Work is progressing rapidly on the Cascade locks, and preparations are being made for putting in the lower gates. Pumps are being put in to pump out the lower part of the canal, and this part of it will be completed. The lower guard walls will be finished so that by spring boats can be run into the lower lock. A large force of men are at work excavating for the upper guard walls.

The survey of the harbor has been completed, and the steamer Lincoln left for Portland yesterday evening. Mr. Warrack, the engineer in charge of the work, stated that it was impossible to tell what changes had been wrought by the influences of flood and jetty, until a chart had been made; but apparently the main channel was unimpaired, although the middle channel had not been improved as was expected.

Fame, not satisfied with giving Portland the reputation of having local talent enough to run a circus and a kirmess, must take the pencil out of History's hand and dot down to her credit a "Prince of the Royal Blood." Also, it is James L. Ord, a telegraph line-man, who tells the Sun that he is the great grandson of George IV, who, as Prince of Wales, married the beautiful and fascinating two-times widow Mrs. Maria Anne Fitzherbert. Now let the galled jade Seattle wince, or else produce Charlie Ross.

Ross, Higgins & Co., who can be found at the old stand now and all the year around, wish to inform their customers that they are selling the the choicest quality of fresh meats at lower prices than similar cuts of meat, can be bought for from peddlers, and invite all who are interested to get prices. You can buy from them in quantities to suit, a nice piece of cheap boiling beef or a rich, juicy tenderloin.

The ships Isle of Arran and Torridale arrived down from Portland yesterday. The Elder came in from Nainaimo with 500 tons of coal for this port, 10 Chinese passengers, a woman and child being among the number. The Fiery Cross left up the river during the afternoon, and the Detroit Line's new steamer the Allee Blanchard, came in and proceeded up the river. The Elmore passed out for Tillamook, and the schooner Allen A. was towed to sea.

The Monterey is expected here to coal daily. Her 100 tons of $2 coal, all that was in the bunkers when she last called, did her better service than any coal she ever used. She steamed ten knots an hour through the straits and twelve knots an hour against the Columbia river current with only six of her eight boilers in operation. This was the best record made since her trial trip. This time she will get the best coal of the new mine, which is undoubtedly superior to any bituminous coal on the coast.—New Whatcom Revue.

Sunday morning the Astorian contained an article that was somewhat misleading—so Pilot Doig thinks. It stated that the British bark Tenuisium had been outside several days awaiting a tug. This Captain Doig thinks was doing the tugboat service an injustice, as it was on account of the heavy fog that had been prevailing for several days that they were unable to be made out by the tug. He went on board the vessel Friday, and the tug took hold of her Sunday at 10 o'clock. The tug reached her by following up the sounds of the bark's fog whistle, which was kept constantly blowing. So thick was the fog that the tugboat was only a few feet distant before they were able to make her out from the Tenuisium. The splashing of the tug's propeller could be distinctly heard long before she was sighted.

According to a dispatch to the Astorian, the Monterey left Portland yesterday morning for Astoria. She will probably be in the harbor at an early hour this morning, and will doubtless proceed at once on her way to the Sound. When the Monterey was here in August, Capt. Kempff stated to an Astorian representative that he could think of no more delightful place to spend the summer months than on the northern coast, and particularly in the Astoria harbor, but he drew the line when the winter rains set in. His reasons for not caring to remain on this part of the coast during the winter was that vessels of the Monterey type were unfitted for so damp a climate everything below becoming musty after a few days' successive rain. If the recent statement as published in a Tacoma paper is true, that the Monterey is to winter on the Sound, then Captain Kempff has a disagreeable and dreary season before him.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Ross entertained a number of their friends last evening with a musicale, and the affair was in every respect a great success. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Finck, with Mrs. Th. Olsen as accompanist, and the music, vocal and instrumental, was of that high order for which the performers are noted in musical circles. Among the songs rendered by Mrs. Finck were: "When She Comes," a most beautiful soprano solo written by Prof. E. J. Finck; "Four digest," by Lotti; and an Aria from Ernani. Mrs. Finck was heartily encored after each of her songs, and responded in a manner which captivated her hearers. Mrs. Ross sang "The Grenadiers," by Schumann; "Who's Coming to See me?" and "Somebody Loves Me," and was heartily encored. Mrs. Olsen, in addition to contributing to the success of the songs by her accompaniments, gave an imitation of a musical box, and in so realistic a manner that it was almost impossible to believe that the music did not emanate from the instrument whose tones it reproduced with such exactness. A duet by Mrs. Finck and Mrs. Ross was one of the gems of the evening, and a baritone solo by Mr. J. T. Ross, "It Was Not Thus To Be," was warmly received. Games, for which handsome prizes were awarded the successful ones, and a delicious collation about midnight, made up the remainder of the evening's program, with which everyone present was greatly delighted.

AS A MAN WRITES.

The Way a woman is Gowned According to Him.

Lady journalists owe a debt of gratitude to a scribe of the opposite sex who has supplied them with a new stock of adjectives in describing the toilets worn at a recent wedding which came off in Coolgardie, in Western Australia. The function was especially interesting, as being the first wedding celebrated in that district of gold digging, and the "copy" sent in by the "gentleman journalist" is racy of the soil and leads one to suppose that his usual occupation lies rather in reporting upon mines than in chronicling social gatherings.

He described the bride as wearing a "creamy quartz colored silk with orange blossom outcrop." Another lady was dressed in a "reddish substance, with iron-stone colored leaders running around the main body, and looking so nice that many a male animal wished for a miner's right, so that he could apply for a perpetual lease." Miss B. appeared with a charming outfit, the main body being blue, trimmed all down the foot wall with hlaminated leaders of dark slate color. The dancers showed their appreciation by immediately "prospecting round." Miss M. "set envious teeth on edge as she waltzed round in a slate colored robe, the principal outcrop being decorated with diorite striped stringers and other surface indications of a highly pleasing nature."

TESTIMONIAL.

Adrian, Mich., Aug. 1, 1894.
Miller & Martin, General Agents:—
Gentlemen—I am in receipt of your circular of the Franklin typewriter. In the past nine years as a stenographer I have used the Remington, Caligraph, Hammond, Smith-Premier, and am now daily using, to my entire satisfaction, the "Franklin." I had no particular trouble to learn how to "handle the machine," in a very few moments, and today am making as rapid speed on this machine as I ever did on the others, which, to me, is in this machine's favor. I am able to make as many copies at one time, and with just as good results as before; in fact, I feel confident that I can do anything as well on this machine as on any of the machines mentioned, and that is saying a good deal, as I have had a general practice, which necessitated my doing some difficult machine work, so called. I believe it to be a first-class machine for general work, and so recommend it to the firm with whom I am now connected, having had the privilege of exchanging this machine and purchasing any other of my choice. Yours Truly,

C. A. SHARP,
Stenographer for Adrian Furniture Mfg. Co.
W. I. Crawford, collector for Coast Agency Co., general agent, will sell a limited number of the Franklin typewriters on very easy terms.

THE JAPANESE SOCIAL.

The Japanese social at the Baptist church last evening was a success. The new pastor, Rev. Mr. Trumbull, was welcomed and given the right hand of fellowship by all the protestant ministers in the city. Appropriate and befitting speeches were made by the ministers present and were responded to by Rev. Trumbull, who, by his cordiality, made friends with the large audience, after which there was music by the popular mandolin club and songs by Mrs. Crosby, Mrs. VanDusen, Miss Gray and Mr. Belcher.

Then came the little Japanese maidens with delicious refreshments which were served to all present, including a sure enough three-months-old Baptist Chinese baby, the first born in Astoria.

INVITATION.

By Astor Lodge No. 8, K. of P.

"The members of Astor and Pacific Lodges and sojourning Knights, are cordially invited to be present at their hall on Wednesday evening, the 14th inst, at 8 o'clock p. m. The Grand Chancellor and Grand Keeper of Record and Seal have been invited for the occasion, and a social time is anticipated. After the lodge adjourns, all present are invited to Jeff's Restaurant to partake of a grand supper. The committee specially invite the old members who very seldom attend lodge, and they will be sure of having a pleasant evening.

Respectfully and Fraternally,
AUG. DANIELSON,
Chairman Committee.

The World's Tribute to
Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder
Highest Honors Awarded by the World's Columbian Exposition,
Chicago, 1893.

World's Fair.
Medal and Diploma
awarded to
Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder

The highest award was given on every claim, comprising superiority in leavening power, keeping properties, purity and excellence. This verdict has been given by the best jury ever assembled for such a purpose, backed by the recommendation of the Chief Chemist of the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., who made an elaborate examination and test of all the baking powders. This is pre-eminently the highest authority on such matters in America.

This verdict conclusively settles the question and proves that Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is superior in every way to any other brand.

NOTE.—The Chief Chemist rejected the Alum baking powders, stating to the World's Fair jury that he considered them unwholesome.
