ADJOURNED UNTIL TODAY.

The Subsidy Committee Took No Action Yesterday on Any of the Propositions.

Another Party of Capitalists Arrive in the City—They Visit the Government Jetty.

Yesterday the subsidy committee held an adjourned meeting at the regular rendezvous, and after discussing matters for an hour or more, another adjournment was taken until today. Just what transpired within the sacred walls of the committee room is not known on the outside, but it is said that no effort was made to close up a contract with anyone now before them with a proposition.

The Kerr-Campbell-Chandler delegation were around during the day, and didn't seem to feel any anxiety about the result of the meeting. They still maintain that they will be able to produce the necessary evidence today, that they are gilt-edged, and capable of doing all that they say. On the other hand, Mr. Stanton and his associates are still hopeful that the good people who have the subsidy in trust, and are endeavoring to secure a railroad for Astoria, will see their proposition in the right light, and turn it over to them. As the matter stood last night it is very probable that either party are able to bring Astoria out of her sleep of a century, and today will likely see an ending to the affair, as the propositions will undoubtedly be decided upon before another 24 hours.

A new factor in the field, in the person of two Montana gentlemen, put in an appearance yesterday, though whether they are here for the purpose of adding a proposition to those already in, has not been given out. The party which arrived on the Telephone consisted of Mr. E. L. Bonner, and Mr. A. B. Hammond, of the firm of Bonner & Hammond, Missoula, Montana, accompanied by Messrs. L. B. Sealey, Mr. Turney, and several other Portland gentlemen. Arriving in the city, a steamer was at once boarded and a run to the jetty taken. They returned to the city after a short stay, as the rain was coming down in torrents and the wind blowing a gale on the bar. The Montana gentlemen are wealthy business men in that state, and if they interest themselves in the Astoria-Columbia road it will not be the first time they have dabbled in railroad matters, as during recent years they have figured in several extensive railroad contracts.

Mr. E. L. Bonner, one of the Montana gentlemen who arrived yesterday, is an old acquaintance of J. H. D. Gray, though neither gentleman was aware of the fact until they met last night in the corridor of the Occident hotel. Away back in '63-4, when all the freight used in the Upper Columbia and Snake River country was carried by steamer from the seaboard, and the rates on merchandise to Lewiston, Idaho, was $120 per ton, Mr. Bonner was conducting a general store at that place. He had an extensive business throughout that section of the country, and was one of the heaviest buyers and shippers on the coast. Judge Gray was captain of one of the O. S. N. Co.'s steamers at that time, and saw Mr. Bonner frequently when on the upper river. Associated with 'Capt. Gray, as purser, was Col. Stone, and last night the trio met and called up many pleasant reminiscences of the early days, when a $20 gold piece was of no more consequence to the hardy pioneer than a battered two-bit piece is to a railroad promoter these latter days of Democratic hard times and Populist uprisings.

Wreckage is reported by the Kyunot Indians to be plentiful along the northern coast of Vancouver Island. The steamer Mystery which returned to port Monday from that locality, heard the reports from the Indians, but brought no news of the identification of the wreckage. The Mystery had been on the coast procuring crews for a number of sealing captains who made the round trip on her. She reports whiskey as being freely used among the natives along the coast, the wholesale nature of the spree being indicated by the statement that one dusky Siwash had as much as 100 bottles in his possession at one time. A little American sloop is blamed for the mischievous work. The sloop has, it is said, been carrying on an extensive business in this connection, and her operations have as yet been in no wise interfered with. The Mystery left last evening for Seattle with the ship Saga in tow. The Saga has been chartered to load lumber at Port Blakeley for the United Kingdom.

Yesterday morning the steam schooner Bandorille left up the river after unloading a cargo of salmon at this port. She carries a large quantity of broom handles to Portland. Yesterday's Sun has the following regarding the coaster: "The coasting schooner Bandorille will be sold by the sheriff on Friday, November 30, to satisfy a judgment for $10,000, obtained against its owners, G. A. Williams, and E. H. Hagbhorst, by Philip Buchner. Buchner sued for that amount on a promissory note and was allowed a judgment by default last Saturday by Judge Shattuck. Interest, attorney's fees and court costs will swell the claim against the schooner to about $10,000. The schooner plies between Portland and San Francisco, also landing at Coos Bay. It is now receiving a cargo at San Francisco. It was recently sold to satisfy a judgment of $500."

Fish and Game Commissioner McGuire is in the city on business connected with his office. In yesterday's issue of the Oregonian it was stated that Mr. McGuire was in Astoria for the purpose of compelling the cannerymen to give in their annual statistics, and he would get them even if it were necessary to resort to the courts. Considering that the report of the commissioner does not have to reach the printer until after January 1st, it is scarcely probable that he is going to go to such harsh measures. The statistics furnished by the cannerymen are, first: The pack—the number of cases of each variety, number of boats, nets, traps, seines, capital invested, and number of men employed.

Col. Ed. Hughes has returned from a trip to the Nehalem, where he went for a few days' duck shooting. He had a good time while away, and was so impressed with the grandeur of the scenery from Elk Creek south to and over the Necanicum mountain, that he says another trip must be made over the same route during the summer time before he will be satisfied. He went over Necanicum astride a horse, and that alone takes a pretty cool head, for in places one can look down perpendicular cliffs a distance of 700 and 800 feet into the foaming surf.

Last night the wind must have blown a regular hurricane outside the bar, if the way it carried on inside the city limits was a criterion. Along the business streets signs creaked with each gust of wind and the people who were forced to remain out on the streets for any length of time were in hard luck. It cleared off about midnight, and the stars shone brightly for a while, but it didn't last long, and before morning was raining harder than ever.

The bark Procyon took on 200 tons of wheat from a barge yesterday. She will probably go out today.

From High Government Authority.

No authority of greater experience on food products exists than Dr. Henry A. Mott, of New York. Dr. Mott's wide experience as Government Chemist for the Indian Department, gave him exceptional opportunities to acquaint himself with the qualities and constituent parts of baking powders. He understands thoroughly the comparative value of every brand in the market, and has from time to time expressed his opinion thereof. On a recent careful re-examination and analysis he finds is superior to all others in strength, purity, and efficiency. Dr. Mott writes:—

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder

"New York, March 20th, 1894.

I find Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder to be superior to all others, for the following reasons:—

1st. It liberates the greatest amount of leavening gas and is consequently more efficient. 2nd. The ingredients used in its preparation are of the purest character. 3rd. Its keeping qualities are excellent. 4th. On account of the purity of the materials and their relative proportions, Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder must be considered the acme of perfection as regards wholesomeness and efficiency, and I say this having in mind certificates I have given several years ago respecting two other baking powders.

The reasons for the change in my opinion are based on the above facts and the new method adopted to prevent your baking powder from caking and deteriorating in strength.
