AMERICA AND ARMENIA.

Commenting on President Cleveland's tardiness in appointing a commissioner to join with European powers in making investigations regarding the reported Armenian outrages, the New York Tribune says:

The United States does not propose to become the "seventh European power." It has no desire to meddle with the Berlin treaty of 1878, nor in any way to become involved in the Old World politics. Even without the present extraordinary caution of the statesman who only the other day was intriguing for the restoration of the Hawaiian monarchy and offensively blustering against Japan, there would be no danger of our joining the Triple Alliance or seeking territorial aggrandizement in Central Asia. But we take it that as a civilized nation the United States is interested in all things that appeal to common humanity. "Man," Lowell said "is more than constitutions;" more, too, than treaties and red tape. And when atrocities are committed which make the blood of the world run cold, it cannot be amiss for this government to make some inquiry and some expression of its sentiments regarding them.

Such, indeed, has hitherto been our policy under more than one administration. When, in 1840, the Jews of Damascus were being sorely persecuted on account of their religion, the secretary of state, Mr. Forsyth, promptly instructed our charge d'affairs at Constantinople to interpose his good offices in their behalf; not because there were any American citizens among them, but because they were being ill-treated and oppressed, and because among their kindred were to be found some of the most worthy and patriotic of our citizens. Again, in 1872, when similar persecutions were waged against the Jews of Wallachia and Moldavia, Mr. Fish, secretary of state, instructed Mr. Curtin, minister at St. Petersburg, to express to the Russian government the sympathy felt here for the oppressed, in order that that government might be moved "to discharge its duty as a protecting power, pursuant to the obligations of the treaty between certain European states." True, as said Mr. Fish, the United States was not a party to that treaty, and had no wish to interfere in public affairs in that part of the world. But the grievance was so great as to be cosmopolitan in character, and to interest all countries in its redress.

There are other similar cases in our diplomatic history, and they are creditable to us as a civilized nation. To say that the Christians of Armenia may be outraged and butchered at the will of their oppressors, and yet this government must not speak a word in their behalf, because it is not a party to the Berlin treaty of 1878, and has not been invited by any of the signatory powers to interfere, is to put us outside the pale of common humanity. Woul Mr. Cleveland or Mr. Gresham refuse to save a drowning man simply because he "had not been introduced?"

The Japanese are getting unpopular in China. A Central News dispatch from Tien Tsin via London says: "The Chinese soldiers at Wei Hai Wei declare they will leave that place immediately upon the appearance of the Japanese." Awfully exclusive, these Celestials!

Li Hung Chang, in his secret report to the Emperor, admits that he cannot check the advance of the victorious Japanese, and deplores the want of railroads more than the lack of troops. Yes, a fellow can certainly get away faster on a railroad train than on foot.

The French are a wonderful people. They offer $300,000,000 for the new Russian loan when only $75,000,000 are wanted. The French are thrifty. Their soil is rich. They build houses that last for centuries. All the world seems to consider it an honor to [illegible] for her art and fashion, and her wines and silks. The French peasants are landlords and bond-holders. The public honor in money matters is not questioned. There is no fool party seeking to confiscate the credit of the country by depositing the land titles or the standards of value.

Col. Breckinridge's candidacy for the senate is calculated to hasten the wiping out of the small majority by which the Democrats still maintain their slippery hold upon Kentucky.

The South may furnish a presidential candidate before many years pass, but from present indications the Republicans are more likely to go there for one than the Democrats.

RESOLUTIONS PASSED.

At a late hour Tuesday night the excursionists on the Potter selected a committee composed of C. R. Thomson, D. K. Warren, P. O'Hara, H. B. Parker, and John. H. Smith, to frame resolutions which read as follows:

Whereas, by the generous liberality of the O. R. and N. Co., the members of the Chamber of Commerce of Astoria, the city council and the press of Astoria, have been treated to a delightful excursion to Portland on board the elegant excursion steamer T. J. Potter, in which every comfort and convenience have been afforded them through the attention of its agents; therefore be it

Resolved, by us, the guests of said steamer, in meeting assembled, that we take this method of attesting our high appreciation of the hospitality thus shown us by the company and its agents and representatives; and we hereby tender to them our sincere thanks for those generous favors; and be it further

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be presented to Receiver McNeill, and also a copy of the same be given to the press for publication.

"ROCK ME TO SLEEP, MOTHER."

The poem, "Rock Me to Sleep, Mother," was written by Elizabeth Akers Allen, known otherwise as "Florence Percy." It is a general favorite, for it is a sweet little touch of home life. But there isanother side to the picture. Many a mother rocks her child to sleep who can neither rest nor sleep herself. She is always tired, has an everlasting backache, is low spirited, weary, nervous, and all that. Thanks be, she can be cured. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will do the work. There is nothing on earth like it for the "complaints" to which the sex are liable. Once used, it is always in favor.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets are specific for biliousness, headaches, constipation, piles and all kindred ailments.

FACE LIKE A BURN

Bloody Water Oozed Out Constantly. No Peace Day or Night. Doctors Failed. Cured by Cuticura.

"My child's disease, which was the worst kind of eczema, started on one cheek like a ringworm. It spread and itched so the poor little fellow had no peace night or day. Then it started on the other cheek and chin, until all were raw as a piece of beefsteak, like a burn where you would rub off the skin, and bloody water oozed out constantly. His sufferings were terrible I know, although he was but six months old and could not tell how he suffered. I tied his hands that he would not scratch, then he would rub his poor little cheeks on his shoulders to relieve the intense itching. I had as good a doctor as was in Philadelphia, but he failed to relieve him. I read of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and at once purchased them. Strange to say that very night he rested without scratching his face, and from that on he improved and soon was entirely cured. I would like anyone suffering from this terrible disease to see my boy, who is in his twelfth year now. His complexion is as clear and smooth as can be. This is an unsolicited testimonial, and every word is true. I thank God for my child's recovery, and I thank the manufacturer of CUTICURA."
