THE REPUBLICAN POSITION.

The president and his advisers are said to be in a state of gloom bordering very close onto utter despondency re garding the rapidly approaching crisis in the financial affairs of the government. That this alarming condition is due to the mistake of the present Dem ocratic reform tariff goes without say ing, but the point is to devise some remedy. In his despair at the hopeless it is reported that the president has turned to the Republicans in congress -as he did in the repeal of the Sher man act-and is imploring their assistance in formulating some plan for the relief of the country.

The answer and probable attitude of any currency measure, the Republicans Democrats in giving to the treasury sufficient revenue to meet the expenditures of the government, and will, while so doing, emphasize the fact that this is more a question of revenue than of currency. If the Democrats desire to prevent the steadily increasing deficlehey Republicans will suggest a pian, as follows:

Let the tax on beer be increased $1 a barrel if revenue is needed, and they argue that by this method something more than $30,000,000 of additional revenue can be collected speedily and easily, for the last internal report shows that en goods under the present tariff, the this amount was collected under the present tax of $1 per barrel. If Democrats believe this will not be sufficient to meet the deficiency, Republicans will this class passing through the custom also suggest the advisability of a hortsontal increase in existing tariff rates cent upon their value, as stated in their of between 15 and 20 per cent. This invoice—the way it was under the Mcincrease, they say, can be made to con- Kinley tariff-but a specific sum is now tinue in operation for a definite period only. Precedents will be quoted to of the goods regardless of what their show that such an increase has been value may be. made in the past to provide for an emergency, once in particular in 1873. The fact that the Democrats attempted to decrease the revenue in the horizontal manner would be quoted to show that they would be justified in increas- nicotinized nerves, climinates the nico ing it in the same way. This and noth- time poison, makes weak men gain publicans, and any attempt to do more will nest with opposition on the part of a vigorous minority. There is nothing more will be agreed to by the Reof a vigorous minority. There is nothing in the situation to warrant the belief that any kind of financial or
