EVERY MAN who enters a tailor shop in this city owes us his good will that we have made it so difficult to sell unweavable goods, so easy to buy the best and buy it for so little compared to San Francisco or Portland prices.

The Gambirino opened his doors last night to the public and was visited by a large number of people. The Gambirino celebrated beer frolic like water, which showed the appreciation of that excellent beverage. Mr. C. Utzinger, who is agent for the Gambirino brewery, of Portland, has his office in this building, and his stock is kept in cold storage so that it can be served quickly and practically fresh. The new resort is one of the finest and best conducted places of this sort in the city.

The busiest and perhaps the most sought after man in Astoria today, will be Duncan Stuart, assistant to D. K. Warren, assignee of the estate of I. W. Case. Yesterday Judge McBride made an order for the assignee to distribute the sum of $15,000, and today the debtors will be paid 15 per cent of their claims as together with interest on the same to 31st Feb. 1895. Before the second assignment of Mr. Case, he made two payments of 15 per cent on all claims, amounting to 30 per cent in all. Today's settlement makes a total of 45 per cent and interest. With prospects for better times in the near future, it is altogether probable that the next payment will be even better than the one to be made today.

DR. WALKER'S VICTORY. The Jury Finds for the Defendant in the Case of Olsen vs. Walker.

Yesterday the final arguments were made in the case of Olsen vs. Dr. Walker for the recovery of $125, alleged damages for property destroyed by the defendant during his term as health officer at a time when another man named Olsen was confined in the pest house with small-pox. The chest was said to be the property of the plaintiff and was burned at the instigation of the health officer. The jury retired at 11 o'clock a. m. and re-emerged until 8:30 last evening. About 8:15 p. m. they sent for Judge McBride for further information. They wished to know that if they found a verdict for the defendant, if the plaintiff would still have a right to recover from the city. The Judge told them that he would not at that time give an opinion on that question, and that it was not for them to know. The case for them to consider was as to whether the plaintiff had a right to recover from the defendant, Dr. Walker. Judge McBride then retired, and fifteen minutes later the jury came in with a verdict for the defendant.

The findings of the jury were as follows: At the time of the destruction of the property was the defendant actuated by malice or revenge or a desire to unlawfully or unnecessarily destroy property.

Answer—No. At the time of the destruction of the property had the defendant any motive or desire other than to prevent by the destruction of the property the spread of the small-pox?

Answer—Yes. Was the property destroyed by the defendant in exercise of his judgment or discretion as city physician?

Answer—Yes. Verdict—We the jury in the above entitled action, find for the defendant. John T. Ross, Foreman.

A NEW THEATRE. Fisher Brothers Having Plans Drawn for a First-Class Amusement House.

It will, in all probability, not be many weeks before Astorians can enjoy a first class show in a first-class theatre—in a playhouse which many cities much larger than Astoria would feel extremely proud of. Fisher Brothers have decided to change over their hall on 12th and Exchange streets and by adding thereto, make a comfortable and convenient theatre, so arranged inside as to give a seating capacity of between 600 and 700. Architect J. E. Ferguson has the plans well under way and will finish them within a day or so. It is proposed to erect an addition of the east side of the main building 50x55 feet, and taking out the intervening partition have a room 57x100 feet with 22-foot walls. The stage will be in the east end of the room and at the other end a gallery will be built. The walls will be lathed and plastered and beautifully decorated. Instead of the ordinary chairs heretofore used in Astoria theatres, elegant opera seats will be put in. Running from a point on Exchange street to the stage entrance, a roadway will be built so that a wagon can be taken to the very door of the theatre. They estimate that these improvements will cost about $5,000.

The hall above the theatre will remain as it now is, with the exception of a few needed improvements which are to be made. The owners have already provided a habcock engine which is kept in the building, and with a liberal supply of buckets filled with water, it will be pretty hard for a fire to get started in that place. To avoid any accident, however, several iron fire-escapes will be run down to the sidewalk on 13th street from the windows of the hall.

Yesterday the case of the state of Oregon vs. N. Bains, charged with illegal fishing in the Columbia river, was tried before Judge McBride on an appeal from the justice court. Bains was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Weeks some time like a year ago for fishing out of season and the case tried before Judge Cleveland's court. He was found guilty and a fine imposed. His trap is located abreast of the Fort Stevens light house, and he claimed it was not in the Columbia but on the open coast. It is a valuable trap and he was prepared to fight hard for his claims. A number of pilots and marine men, together with Supt. Hegardt, of the jetty, were present and gave testimony both for the defense and the prosecution. Judge McBride was inclined to the opinion that in framing the law prohibiting salmon fishing on the Columbia it was intended to cover such cases, but the evidence introduced tended to show that the law was defective, and it would be rather far-fetched to include the location of Mr. Bains' trap within the boundary lines of the Columbia river. In rendering his decision Judge McBride did not attempt to define what included the boundary lines of the Columbia river, but the inference was that the river extended to where fresh salt water met and formed what is known as the Columbia River bar. The case was dismissed.

CARD OF THANKS. Astoria, Or., March 6, 1895. Today I was handed over $50.00 by Messrs. Lund, Parson and Halseth, as the result of "Minerva's" entertainment last Saturday night, for my benefit. I hereby wish to extend my most heartfelt thanks to the citizens of Astoria and the members of "Minerva" especially, for all their kindness and generosity towards me, without which my troubles would have been twice as hard to bear. Thank you all. ELLEN CHRISTOFFERSON.

AROUND TOWN. Inspector Thos. Corbett went up the river last night.

The Columbia is due from San Francisco this morning.

A. A. Cleveland left for Portland last night on legal business.

The South Coast is at the Clatsop Mill dock taking on a cargo of lumber for San Francisco.

Sheriff Hare went to Salem last evening accompanied by Peterson, who will serve fifteen years for mayhem.

The Telephone yesterday brought down from Portland two mammoth wooden tanks for Kopp's brewery.

An old time concert is being arranged by the ladies of the Presbyterian church to be given in the near future.

John M. Eagen, of Chicago, and ex-Senator Sanders, of Montana, did not arrive in Astoria yesterday as was expected.

Health Officer Wheeler, of Portland, was in Astoria yesterday. He was summoned as a witness in the Olsen-Walker case.

Yesterday in the circuit court in the case of the Astoria Savings Bank vs. W. H. Smith a demurrer was urged and submitted.

The only excitement at the courthouse yesterday was the application of Lars Lampi, a native of Russia, to be admitted to citizenship.

At the close of business yesterday the total amount of taxes collected at the sheriff's office was $11,314.12, as follows: In county warrants, $1,043.04; city tax warrants, $1,472.89; balance, cash.

The British ship Carnovan Bay arrived down from Portland yesterday morning loaded with grain for Europe. In the afternoon the Relief towed her to sea, Pilot Staples being on board.

The steamer Iwaco was run into the slip west of Ross, Higgins & Co.'s store yesterday and at low tide, the damages received to her propeller coming up the bay the night before, were repaired.

L. C. Parker, of The Dalles, grand master of the grand lodge I. O. O. F., of Oregon, will pay Beaver Lodge a visit today. The members of the lodge and visiting Odd Fellows will give him a reception.

Five Chinamen were landed from the Signal at the bonded warehouse yesterday and four others who failed to pass examination will accompany the Signal to Portland, and probably upon the return trip make another effort to land.

Mrs. Mary A. McKenzie is a passenger home this morning from San Francisco where she has been the past month selecting her spring millinery. During her sojourn in the metropolis Mrs. McKenzie has spent her entire time "trimming" in the leading wholesale houses of that city. The ladies of Astoria may well expect the very latest styles on hats this season.

"Doc" Madden, who has been traveling through China and Japan for the past four months, returned to Astoria yesterday. He says that he has heard more about the Oriental war since his return to the United States than he did during his whole stay in the far East. In Japan, of course, they talk war a great deal, but in China, a few miles from the coast, such a thing as war between that country and Japan is unheard of.

"Minerva's" meeting last night was well attended as usual and a good program rendered. On account of the lively interest taken in the debate: "Should church property be taxed," it was delayed over for further discussion at the next meeting. The society unanimously passed a resolution of thanks to all those who so kindly participated and also to the school directors for letting them have the hall and piano free of charge.

Lovers of the wheel were out in full force yesterday, and several young gentlemen who heretofore have not ventured to cope with the uncertain pranks of the silent steed, created no end of amusement for a large number of people who lined both sides of 11th street between Bond and Commercial. The streets are in excellent condition now, and wheelmen are taking advantage of the fact and making up for the inactivity of rainy days.

Captain Owens, of Liverpool, England, owner of the British ship Carnovan Bay, which cleared yesterday for the United Kingdom, is in the city. He has been in the city for several days and made the trip to Astoria to witness the departure of his splendid vessel. He speaks very highly of Astoria's harbor and the Columbia's entrance, and predicts a great future for this port in the event of railroad connection with the interior. He will return to England via New York City.

The Gambirino opened his doors last night to the public and was visited by a large number of people. The Gambirino celebrated beer frolic like water, which showed the appreciation of that excellent beverage. Mr. C. LOOK UP, NOT DOWN Spring Days Bring Good Cheer to the Weak.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND IN THOUSANDS OF HOMES.

On Every Hand People Are Getting Well.

The Great Spring Remedy Makes One Strong.

Now Ordered by Physicians Everywhere in March.

Ab! What avail the largest gifts of Heaven When drooping health and spirits go amiss? How tasteless, then whatever can be given; Health is the vital principle of bliss.

Weak, tired-out men and women with nerves "unstrung" and bodily unrefreshed need Paine's celery compound. They are especially urged to take it during these early spring days of March and April, when the body is most susceptible to its strengthening influence.

Of the thousands of men and women with brains and hands all day actively engaged, but whose physical powers are little used, who imagine themselves more dangerously sick than they are, the vast majority are merely reduced in strength and spirits and need nothing but a vigorous tonic in the spring to recuperate their tired nerves. They need nothing so much as Paine's celery compound. It exactly fills their need.

The infirmities peculiar to the aged come from stagnating blood and the tardy, scanty, production of nerve force. They should take Paine's celery compound—there is no time so favorable as March.

The rheumatism, neuralgia, sleeplessness, and lack of strength that Paine's celery compound so rapidly dispels are thus found to be mere temporary conditions to which their time of life is liable, and the cause of needless anxiety.

Needless if they fully perceive the meaning of these infirmities and take pains at once to correct the beginnings of weakness and debility, as it is so easy to do now in the spring.

Paine's celery compound is the great spring medicine. It is prescribed by countless physicians in cases of rheumatism, neuralgia, sleeplessness, and the many results of starved nerves and depleted blood. In every drug store in the country Paine's celery compound is always to be obtained.

It is the world's great remedy for weakness. Its use year by year through so large a part of the civilized world tells something of the good it must be accomplishing. If men and women who feel the effects of too close application to work would use Paine's celery compound, there would be less insomnia, less pain in the back of the neck, fewer days of utter physical exhaustion and incapacity for anything but suffering. Its extensive use today is the cause of a vast alleviation of human misery and despair. It is present in the world is a blessing. Its presence the family circle whole in thousands of homes that are happy and grateful today. Try it.

CITY COUNCIL. The city council met last night in regular session. Absent, O'Hara, who has been granted a two-months leave of absence by the council. The liquor licenses of George Bartley, Alex. Gibbons and Geo. W. Smith, and August Erickson were approved. A recommendation from the committee on streets for the improvement of Irving avenue from 15th to 18th, was adopted. The monthly payroll for the city employees and officers was ordered paid. Unions' petition for a policeman was not granted. Ordinances were passed to improve 30th street in Astoria from the north side of Franklin avenue to the south side of Duane street; to improve the alleyway through blocks 2, 3, 4 and 5, from the west line of 3th to 4th street in Astoria; to improve blocks 5 and 6 in Astoria. Resolutions were passed that the mayor appoint a committee to act in all matters relating to the Young's Bay bridge and that a plan be adopted for rearranging the council chamber and city offices, also that the city attorney and committee on fire and water investigate the safety of the public halls in case of fire. Max Young and J. H. Maxwell were appointed as street assessors for the ensuing year. Other minor business was transacted during the evening.

SALMON MARKET. It has been many years, says the San Francisco Herald of Trade, since the market was so well cleaned up. The largest packers on the coast, the Alaska Packers' Association, are well cleaned up. It looks as though supplies in first hands will be cleaned up before the next season opens. Cannons on the Sacramento and Columbia rivers are getting ready for the new season. The Alaska Packers' Association is fitting out vessels with supplies. There will not be any increase in the number of vessels sent north, which we should think indicates that the pack will not be increased.

The London Grocers' Gazette February 29th says: Business has been considerably hindered by the severity of the weather during the past week or two and only a moderate demand can be reported. Holders have not been disposed to force sales by offering at lower prices, and rates are consequently quoted steady. The Loabene, with 25,000 cases of salmon from San Francisco, is the next arrival expected at Liverpool, will be about the city street for London is the Crown of England, with 47,000 cases.
