Stanton and Hammond Will Ask for More Time.

THE ROAD WILL BE BUILT. Says Mr. Stanton—Will Arrive With Engineers this Morning's Steamers What Then?

Associated Press. Portland, March 26.—John C. Stanton, who is prominently connected with the proposed Astoria-Coos Bay railroad, arrived here today and left tonight for Astoria. Mr. A. B. Hammond, one of the purchasers of the Oregon Pacific, left New York with Mr. Stanton, but stopped in Missouri on business. He is expected here in a few days. Mr. Stanton said:

"So far as the building of the Astoria railroad is concerned, it may be considered as an assured fact. Mr. Hammond is an indefatigable worker in the enterprise, and it is his courage and indomitable will that will make the scheme a success. The present has been a most inauspicious time to negotiate any new securities on the market, and what has been done is due entirely to the effort of Mr. Hammond."

A party of engineers also accompanied Mr. Stanton to Astoria tonight for the purpose of going over the proposed line of road, preparatory to its permanent location. Mr. Hammond writes no definite information concerning the future plans of those interested in the construction of the road will be obtainable. In a general way it is known that the promoters of the road will apply to have some extension of the time granted, and it is also probable that some changes in the existing contracts will be asked.

Mr. Bonner, the business associate of Mr. Hammond, will not be actively identified with either the construction of the Astoria road or such plans as have been devised for the future of the Oregon Pacific. He is not in the best of health, and enjoying a comparatively long vacation, but he is in the new venture, thus leaving such labor in the hands of Mr. Hammond.

THEY SEEK THE POOR HOUSE.

Once Wealthy Kansas City Women are Now in Want.

Kansas City, March 26.—Once rich, and not many years ago, possessing wardrobe and diamonds deemed consistent with women of their reputed means, traveling in Europe as wealthy tourists, Mrs. Alexander Majors and her daughter finally return to Kansas City, their old home, their diamonds in pawn, their costly wardrobes almost depleted, and being no longer able to pay for the modest lodgings. They confessed to Judge Stone, of the county court, that they were destitute and asked to be sent to the county poor house. They are the family of Alexander Majors, once classed as being one of the wealthiest citizens in Kansas City. Mrs. Majors sold Judge Stone she had sister living in Chicago whose husband was a millionaire, but rather than appeal to him for help she chose to go into the oblivion of the poor farm with her daughter, who is about 21 years of age. The elder woman said they parted from Mr. Majors some years ago, and that while in Europe he had become penniless in California and wrote them that he could not provide for them. Since then everything of value they owned has gone to pawnbrokers. Judge Stone asked them why they did not make an effort to find work, and Mrs. Majors replied that they could not, meaning that they were physically unable to do so, or were not so disabled. Judge Stone did not inquire Judge Stone told the applicants that while he deeply regretted the necessity they would have to appear before the county court, as he had no authority to do so. They went away saying they would appear before the court tomorrow, but they did not. Alexander Majors, who is 30 years of age, is now living in Los Angeles.

MONEY FOR RAILWAYS.

The London Market is Kindly Disposed Toward American Roads.

New York, March 26.—The Evening Post's London cable says: Money is tight and the stock markets good; Americans were more active and stronger. Interest in Americans is aroused, but at present the purchasers are practically confined to professional men who are gorged with the profits in the Kaffir market and have an eye to American, basing their belief in the rise on the better price for wheat and the signs of revival of trade in the States. The public here are nibbling at American railway bonds. I learn a large shipment of gold will probably be dispatched to America by the syndicate tomorrow. It will probably be at least a half million sterling.

PORTLAND'S MORAL WAVE.

Portland, March 26.—The members of the grand jury now in session are responsible for the new moral wave that has just struck Portland, resulting in the closing up of some of the gambling houses and the arrest of a score or more of women who are known to be proprietors of houses of ill-fame in this city. "The action taken by the officers is no bluff," said prosecuting attorney Hume. "If an action under instructions of the grand jury, and see receiving the full assistance of Chief of Police Minto and Constable Connor

IMPORTANT DECISION

Countries Are Responsible for Acts of Insurgents.

THE VENEZUELA COMMISSION. Decides That $143,500 is Due the United States for Seizure of Three Ships.

Associated Press. Washington, March 26.—After months of deliberation the Venezuelan commission today concluded its labors and announced its decision, being a judgment in favor of the United States for $143,500, about one-third the amount of claims. Of the total award the Venezuelan Steam Transportation Company, of New York, received $41,500 American gold with interest, and Capt. A. G. Post, Jacob J. Maurina, and David Sturgis received each $30,000 with interest. The claim of Cornelius J. Brinkerhoff, master of San Francisco, was the only one disallowed. The claims date back to 1871, when in the course of a revolution in Venezuela three vessels of American corporations were seized by the Venezuelans on either side in the controversy, and much damaged by use in war. The ships were finally recovered. The principle involved in the judgment rendered today is of great interest to Central and South America, which are subject to revolution, for it amounts to a declaration that such countries are responsible for the acts of insurgents against the rights and property of foreigners, even if these acts are beyond their control.

MURDERED HIS WIFE.

The Bloody Deed of a San Francisco Assayer.

San Francisco, March 26.—Frank Satter, an assayer, shot and fatally wounded his wife tonight, and then killed himself. The couple quarreled and separated several weeks ago. Tonight Satter called on his wife at the Lexington house and asked to go to her room. She refused, saying, "You want to kill me." At the same time running into another room. Satter pursued her, and shot twice, one bullet striking her wrist and lodging in her hand. He then turned the weapon on himself and sent a bullet into his brain.

Walker, a citizen of this State, and formerly United States consul at Madagascar, has been unjustly imprisoned by the French government under sentence of court-martial, without sufficient cause. I respectfully urge that the department of state take active measures at once for his protection and release."

BARTLETS HEARD FROM.

Santa Barbara, Cal., March 25.—The schooner Star, of Freedom, reported stolen from Captain Johnson at San Francisco, was here March 1st. Bartlets was in command. The name had been painted out, and the boat rechristened "Natalie." Bartlets is well known here and said he was going South. He was very reticent and indefinite.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

The Associated Press News Contained in the Afternoon Report.

Washington, March 26.—Hearing on the application of Eugene V. Debs and others for a writ of habeas corpus for release from imprisonment was resumed in the supreme court today at noon. Attorney General Olney made the first argument, speaking in opposition to the application. He said the single question before the supreme court was whether the court below had jurisdiction in the case made under the original bill, and proceeded to show that as he viewed the matter it had. Olney was followed by Darrow, for the petitioners, who declared the attorney general overlooked the interest of countless millions of working people and the range that civil liberty embraced in the case. He declared the state had been ever anxious to be able to preserve peace.

Chicago, March 26.—The Bell, the largest clothing store on State street, burned this afternoon. Loss, $75,000. Four men, overcome by smoke and unconscious, were taken out of the upper story by firemen. J. H. Smith, a salesman, was fatally hurt by dropping from the second story. Two firemen fell with a ladder and are probably fatally hurt. The fire at 1 o'clock was spreading and endangering the Owens building, a steel structure 13 stories high.

Chicago, March 26.—A special to the Daily News from Washington says: The chief subject discussed at the regular cabinet meeting today was the validity of the law creating the monetary conference commission. The president is strongly inclined to the opinion that the Wolcott resolution is invalid, and there is a strong probability that he will refuse to appoint the three commissioners authorized by the last congress. No conclusion was reached.

New York, March 26.—Richard Croker, the well known politician, will sail for Europe tomorrow.

WESTWARD BOUND.

St. Louis, March 26.—Miss Helen Gould and her brother, Frank, her physician, Dr. Munn, and a party of friends are here. The party is on the way to the Pacific Coast, where Miss Gould will try to get rid of the grippe, with which she has been suffering recently.
