We ar reminded that there can be no phrase expressing greater appreciation than that used in speaking of a person as a "fine woman," while it might be a very doubtful compliment if we were to say "fine lady."

I have always liked the expression of a friend who said that "a lady is one who is not ashamed to be called a woman."

Mrs. Deland's rules and definitions are the best general guides to the correat use of the two words I have ever seen, and they will certainly be read with great pleasure, yet the necessity of exercising our judgment at all times if we would avoid offending those to whom we speak.

For my part, my judgment will incline me to say "woman" whenever it is possible in preference to "lady." MARIE TEMPLETON.

(From the San Francisco Argonaut.)
"In the heart of the great desert of the Colorado—which the Southern Pacific road traverses—there is an oasis called Indio, which, in our opinion, is the sanitarium of the earth. We be ileve, from personal investigation, that for certain invalids, there is no spot or this planet so favorable."
G. T. Stewart, M. D., writes: "The purity of the air, and the eternal sunshine, fill one with wonder and delight.

Nature has accomplished so " Nature has accomplished so much that there remains but little for man to do. As to its possibilities as a health resort,—here is the most perfect sunshine, with a temperature always pleasant, a perfectly dry soil for rain is an unknown factor; pure oxygen; dense atmosphere and pure water. What more can be desired? It is the place, above all others, for lung troubles, and a paradise for rheumatics.
