DEFINITIONS OF BIMETALLISM.

A leading Republican authority says there are a great many people talking about bimetalism who do not understand what the term really means.

Probably the largest number of those who use the word in the sense of the use of both gold and silver as money. This is a very broad definition, and under it the United States is at present a bi-metallic country.

France is often spoken of as a bi-metallic country; yet it is no more so than is our own. In fact, the status of silver in France is analogous to its status in the United States.

There have been for many years no additions made to the volume of her legal tender silver, and though the coinage ratio is 15 1/2 to 1, the silver is held up to parity with gold in practically the same way that we hold it to the same level.

The movement in Europe toward bi-metalism does not use the word in the sense in which it is used by the silver men in the United States. They take the term to mean an enlarged use of silver, leaving the gold the standard, as it is now.

The word as used in the United States means the double standard—that the gold dollar and the silver dollar shall both be basic money, shall be of equal value, without holding up one metal to the level of the other.

No doubt the very great majority of the people of the United States are in favor of the largest possible use of silver, and would be glad to have bi-metalism, if it could be accomplished without a derangement of values.

The real controversy is not between mono-metalism and bi-metalism, but over the method of reaching the latter.

tion which not only puzzles our railroad committee, but concerns every property owner and other person in the community.

If the committee could induce Mr. Hammond to accompany them over those portions of the right of way where trouble has been experienced in convincing the people of the reality of the railroad, he might be able to straighten out matters satisfactorily.

There is much favorable comment in school circles on the excellent suggestion regarding the keeping of a school record made by Prof. A. W. Prescott, in yesterday's Astorian.

A HOP, SKIP AND JUMP.

An athletic caper of this sort would scarcely be considered indecorous in one, even of mature age and sedate habits, impelled thereto by excess of joy on recovering his indignation against the instrumentalists of Howett's Stomach Bitters.

As the stomach recovers its tone, and the gastric juices are secreted in healthful plenty through the agency of this superior restorative, nerve tranquility, appetite and sleep return, the body gains in substance and the muscles in vigor.

"Do unto others as you would have others do unto you," is sympathetically shown in the following lines, the presumption being that sympathy is born, or akin to pain or sorrow:

THE DISCOVERY SAVED HIS LIFE. Mr. G. Callouette, Druggist, Beaverville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles around, but of no avail, and was given up and told I could not live."

Doctor H. R. Fish, of Gravois Mills, Mo., a practicing physician of many years' standing, writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery is no equal for indolent sores, scalds and burns. It stops pain instantly, heals a burn quickly, and leaves no scar."
