'TIS YET SPRING.

May, the Last of the Three Great Months.

The Close of Nature's Yearly Revival Season.

Recovery is Now the Most Rapid and Lasting.

Paine's Celery Compound Makes Vigorous Nerves.

It Purifies the Blood as Nothing Else Can Possibly Do.

As a Spring Remedy, Paine's celery compound stands easily first in the careful judgment of the physicians of this country.

This remarkable discovery of Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth college, is in fact so certainly first in the estimation of thinking men and women in every calling throughout the United States today that there can fairly be said to be no second.

For strengthening the sick, restoring the spent energies of those who have become exhausted, for purifying the blood and making people well, Paine's celery compound has never been equaled by any sarsaparilla, tonic, or nerve. It is superior to them all as strength is superior to weakness. The remarkable results from the use of this great remedy are today known at first hand in every city and village in America.

The people are today thoroughly satisfied by personal experience that Paine's celery compound makes people well.

Where the nerves have not been properly fed, and neuralgia, nervousness, inability to sleep, rheumatism, and such evidences of debility have entered, Paine's celery compound has created a new appetite, restored lost strength and given courage, new blood, and a strong, healthy will to live and get well. Try it.

RANTIER'S GOOD WORK.

Prospective Junction Town on the New Road.

It is conceded by all who are familiar with the situation that upon the opening of the new railroad there will be established one first-class town on the Oregon side between Astoria and Portland. Why should not the new town be the re-built Rantier? This town has the natural advantages, being the supply depot of a large territory back from the river as well as its large fishing industries and saw mills. Here is where Jim Hill made surveys for the bridge he proposed to build across the Columbia to connect the Great Northern with Portland and the Willamette Valley. From here, also, it is probable will be built a branch of the railroad to tap Beaver and the Salem valleys. The immense body of cedar and fir can only find an outlet to market by means of a railroad. It is evident that the citizens in and around Rantier are fully alive to their interests from the magnificent work of the construction of the new road. It is certain that the railroad will only go to that point and as far as the most liberal and wide-awake capitalist and business man are also looking to secure the road for these points, the former having organized a railroad committee. It remains to be seen which of the three cities will establish its right to be the principal town, as far as location and prestige is concerned, on the new road. The late reports from the right of way committee show that the people in the vicinity of Rantier are doing themselves proud in their donations, and no doubt as soon as all realize the importance of the matter everyone will step to the front. Good work is also being done at the other points. It should be thoroughly understood that the construction of the road cannot be commenced until the right of way is all presented to the committee of incorporation. Mr. Hammond is then ready to go ahead with the work at once. The citizens of Astoria have done nobly in the donation of the immense subsidy and the clearing of sites on the same, involving large sums of money besides the large sums spent in preliminary work, and those along the right of way cannot do less than contribute their mite.

The coming meeting promises to be one of the largest and most representative held by Republicans in the history of Oregon.

Capt. H. S. Wells, secretary of the state organization of Republican Clubs, is radically opposed to any extension by the convention on the financial or any other great question of the day.
