

THERE

Are going to be a lot of well-dressed men in the city this spring—of course we haven't made all their clothes—but we think if you ask every third man you meet where he got his suit—and of course he will say (that is, if it's (tallo made) McDonald's. He may not tell you how much he saved, but you can just get it down that it was worth saving—by the way—he may have on one of our $35 suits and you'll think it cost $50—but of course you're judging by what you usually pay others.

Your Mouths, OUR STEAKS

One great basis principle of the Palace Restaurant is mutual dependence. To thrive and grow, each dish must be better than any other else's. Our aim is to reach the only roomy trade place, the top. No lower idea can be permitted. And when the top, our top, is reached by any other restaurant, we will lift the top.

REPAIRING IN ALL ITS BRANCHES

When the tide sets one way there is always a cause for it. Women don't come here to buy roast steaks, and all other kinds of meat simply because it's Christensen & Co.'s. Of course there are a few, a very few, who buy out of compliment, or from ignorance, but the great mass of housekeepers buy where they can get the best and for that reason we supply the majority of the families in Astoria for they know by experience that we have only the best.

The Schoolmaster Says to the deserving pupil "Go up head!"

The Public has said to Grobner & Broch's "Reort," "Go up head. You are the only place in the city where one can go and get a glass of Gambrinus Beer for 5c, and order a fresh sandwich too at the same time. Business men's unch every morning.

A Poor Cigar

W. F. SCHIEBE never made. Don't expect to make, either. But make this—a-t-t-a-f-a-c-t-i-o-n of the 23-karet sort has accompanied every purchase of one of the cigars made by him since he began business. We've got the notion that a satisfied customer "cuts a big figure" in building up a business. That's the reason La Belle Astoria takes so well.

Little Giant.

Seems as if half the mothers in Astoria have bought a pair or two of those LITTLE GIANT school shoes for their children. The other half will as soon as they hear of the wearing qualities of those that are being worn about the city. You can have your choice of leather, kid, grain or calf.

It is said that the Beaver Hill Coal Company, of Coos Bay, will in the near future erect commodious bunkers in this city. Their coal which is now being tested on the light-house tenders, of this place, has proved so far highly successful, and with the increased demand for domestic purposes it is thought it will be necessary to construct a suitable place to store a quantity for this market.

Last evening while a couple of messenger boys were passing Jeweler Smith's store on Commercial street, a vicious dog belonging to that establishment attacked the boys, biting one of them quite severely on the leg and tearing the clothing of the other. The dog, referred to is one of a number that should be kept in a kennel, or better still, dumped into the river of company with a sack of rocks.

A good coat of whitewash to the buildings along the waterfront would give this city a different appearance, and strangers passing through on the ocean steamers a far better impression of the place. It is doubtful if there is a more dingy looking city in existence than Astoria, viewed from the passing steamers, and the impression left on the minds of travelers who have had a glimpse of Astoria only from the decks of the California steamers is not the most flattering.

The following were passengers for Portland last evening on the Bailey Gatzert: P. P. Halferty, M. Maston, S. F. Edgell, J. H. Bester, A. Rustad, L. B. Seely, S. Cooper, M. J. Connolly, Capt. In the absence of a public park, would it not be a good idea for the city council to arrange for the use of the Federal wharf, where a number of benches could be placed for use of the public? It commands about the best view of the bay of any spot near the heart of the city, and just at this time of the year the scene on the sheet of water from Tongue Point to the Cape is one to draw expressions of admiration from even those who have been in the habit of viewing the same pleasure day after day during the fishing season for many years.

The O. R. and N. Co. have extended and invitation to the Chamber of Commerce to go on the excursion today at 1:30, on the steamer Potter, to Parrel and Fort Stevens, in honor of the replacing of the remodeled Potter on the Portland-Astoria run. The steamer has been practically rebuilt and is one of the handsomest boats on the river.

The Astorian is in receipt of a letter dated at Port Townsend from Capt. N. P. Olsen, of the schooner Francine, in which he calls attention to an article published in a recent issue of this paper stating that they had no charts with them. The article referred to is evidently an Associated Press dispatch sent from Port Townsend upon the arrival of the little schooner from the rough and perilous cruise of the Washington coast. In the letter Capt. Olsen states that they had charts with them, and at no time were lost. They were driven far out of their course by terrible winds and on account of a constance of head winds were unable to make much progress toward the straits. At no time were they out of provisions or water.

The annual bottle has been found. This time it was picked up by some fishermen on Sunday, April 28th, near the bar, and turned over to the life saving crew. The bottle, which was covered with barnacles, contained a note in a fair state of preservation, and in order to get the contents out it was found necessary to break the bottle. The note, which is as follows, is somewhat broken, and without grammatical construction: "Frank Hamilton—We was drowned in 1832, Oct. 16th—under please let my father know No. 34 St. George. Other men with me were drowned to escape Indians. Thos. Blanch."

In view of the special revival services which are being held at the Presbyterian church under the leadership of Evangelists Holdridge and Dickson, Prof. Theilhorn has very kindly consented to postpone the concert which was to take place in the M. E. church on May 3. For this very generous act I assure the professor that he merits the thanks of all the ministers and Christian people of the city, and it is to be hoped that when the concert is given every one will put forth their best efforts to make it a great success, both by working for it and by being present. Such a course would only be a fitting recognition of the professor's generosity. ROBT LIDDELL.

Mr. T. C. Wills, the promoter of outdoor sports and amusements, with his associates, will endeavor to arrange today for the final arrangements with the citizens for the grand Fiesta to be given here during the regatta. It is proposed to give a series of new and unique evening entertainments on both land and water, which will be additional attraction, and to which the transportation lines will bring crowds of people nightly from Portland. The entertainments will be on the same high plane as those given in Los Angeles recently and will be a permanent feature of the future regatta.
