They Lack Life

There are twines sold to fishermen on the Columbia river that stand in the same relationship to Marshall's Twine as a wooden image does to the human being—they lack strength—life—evenness—and lasting qualities. Don't fool yourself into the belief that other twines besides Marshall's will do "just as well." They won't. They cannot.For

COMPTROLLER ECKLES

Speaks Upon the Silver Question in New York.

COUNTRY'S HONOR AT STAKE

He Believes in International Bimetalism—Other News From All Parts of the World.

Associated Press.

New York, May 2.—Comptroller of the Currency Eckles spoke tonight at the banquet of the Chamber of Commerce, his subject being the currency.He said:
"I believe we have come to a point in this discussion of our monetary system and the agitation for complete change in our standard of value, when this mass of opinion should not only be aroused but should make itself an active force in putting an end to the currency vagaries of which the free silver movement as today presented is the culmination. There can be no political interests to be served, no party considerations to be advanced of sufficient import to warrant any man in long debating as to the position he should take when the financial honor of his country is at stake and the prosperity of a great country is threatened. Their demand today, interpreted today in the light of facts, is that the United States shall at once abandon its present standard of value and substitute therefor, irrespective and without the cooperation of any other country, the single silver standard. Nowhere is this latest tenet in the silver creed that this nation shall even undertake to maintain at home the double standard. No where is there the promise given of any attempt through international agreement to make every dollar of silver which shall be coined the equal in value of every dollar of gold which comes to the mint and fairly interchangeable therewith. They no longer give recognition to the fact attested by every monetary union, that a nation which holds that no nation can isolate itself from those with which it has commercial dealings and maintain independence of then a distinctive standard of value. The position which they now assume of necessity eliminates from their ranks all who heretofore have struggled to bring about a larger use of silver in the country's currency at an increased ratio, and drives into the arms of the advocates of unlimited issue of irredeemable greenbacks and from that issue of free currency of the period of the continental congress to the end of colonialism. The end always sought by commerce, the great arbiter of every monetary system since the discovery of the mint, has been to have in every metallic money such intrinsic value as makes the unstamped coin of the same value as a commodity of merchandise of the same weight. The currency of the world has been to have with equal rigor insisted that of bank currency there shall be immediate redemption upon presentation. The commercial world has with unvarying precedence drawn the rule of distinction which exists between the true value in a national currency and the value ascribed to it, and standing upon that line of demarcation it has been as indifferent to the laws of great nations as of small."JAPAN WILL GIVE IN.
Paris, May 2.—The Matin today said that Japan is treating with Russia, France and Germany and a peaceful settlement of the matter in dispute arising from Russia's objections to the terms of the treaty arrived at between China and Japan is probable. The Gaulois asserts that the three western powers are about to achieve a diplomatic victory, adding that Japan is inclined to accept the territorial concessions in another direction which is agreeable to Russia.

A PATAL QUARREL

Baker City, Or., May 2.—Thomas Goldworthy and John Preston, miners at the Virtue mine, last evening engaged in a quarrel at the supper table and after exchanging blows the latter whipped out his pistol and fired five shots, three of which took effect in the body of the latter. A physician from the city was summoned, who found Preston in a dangerous condition. Goldworthy made his way through the hills to leave the town and after a long search he was found.
The shooting is the result of an old feud, and Goldworthy says he fired in self-defense.

STRIKERS GO FREE.

San Francisco, May 2.—Local federal officials have received word from Attorney General Olney to drop all legal proceedings against the Oakland strikers. When the jury disagreed in the protracted Clady case, Olney was said to have ordered a new trial.
District Attorney Poole, however, was averse to another such trial, and instead of his advice the matter will be dropped. The A. R. U. men are much pleased at this decision.

STREET RAILWAYS CONSOLIDATE

Portland, Or., May 2.—The Oregonian will say: A deal is in the making to consolidate the street railways of Portland under one management. J. M. Lively, of Portland, representing the Portland English syndicate, has an option on the road, and has given assurances that the deal will be carried out.
There are 125 miles of road representing an outlay of close to $2,000,000.

GREAT BRITAIN ACCEPTS

Washington, May 2.—The department of state received this afternoon a telegram from Ambassador Bayard stating that Great Britain had accepted the guarantee made by Salvador for the payment of the indemnity by Nicaragua in London within a fortnight, and as soon as Nicaragua confirms and so informs the British admiral, he is instructed to leave Co-rinto.

NEARING AN END.

London, May 2.—The dispute between Great Britain and Nicaragua, the Associated Press learns, will be settled within a few days. United States Ambassador Bayard and the Salvadoran minister who is representing Nicaragua, are in conference with the Earl of Kimberley, secretary of state for foreign affairs today.

TROUBLE BREWING

New York, May 2.—Passengers on the Colombia from Colon report that Nicaragua is in a ferment over President Zelaya's arbitrary rule. One passenger says "the plans for Zelaya's overthrow are well under way and when the coffee crop is harvested there will be an uprising."

STILL BATTLING

of counsel in the contest for governorship was resumed today before the joint legislative committee.

IRISH INDEPENDENCE.

A Convention of Irish-Americans Will be Called.

WILL TAKE A BOLD STAND

Paanell and Home Rule Movements—Flag of Irish Independence Still Waves.

Associated Press.

New York, May 2.—The following will be published tomorrow: A movement has been set on foot to hold a convention of Irish-Americans in one of the large cities at an early date.
A number of gentlemen who have been prominent in the Irish cause, and who are of various schools of political thought, have come to the conclusion that the time has come for Irish-Americans to inaugurate a new and bolder policy in the interest of Irish independence. The agitation known as the Parnell Parliamentary movement, as far as Irish nationality is concerned, is dead. The home rule question has been ruled out of practical British politics by the British people. The new movement abides by the decision, so far as the further prosecution of the parliamentary agitation is concerned, but is determined to keep the flag of Irish independence still flying and will devote itself to forcing the Irish question upon the attention of the world in such a manner as will inevitably compel the settlement more satisfactory to Ireland than any heretofore offered by any British party. Gladstone said in moving his home rule bill: "If therefore the resistance to this measure were to be better, obstinate and prolonged, the question of appeal might become an international one." The promoters of the new movement have been driven to adopt the alternative suggested by Gladstone, and will try to make the demands of Ireland the subject for international consideration.

SILVER MARKET.

New York, May 2.—Silver, 66. Lead,

As the summer season approaches there begins to be much speculation as to who will operate the Seashore road. If the old contract operates the road the public can expect no change in the rolling stock, but if Mr.
Hammond takes the road then there is a chance to get a new and more modern in time for the seaside travel.
In any event, the people who contemplate making many trips to the Clatsop beaches during the season, will hope for a change of management.run down towards the mouth of the river, and for minutes sufficed to make everything ready for their presence. Then Captain Sullivan, who evidently appreciated the situation to the utmost, pulled the whistle cord, and rumor says that he hired a runner for the express purpose of keeping a tension on it from that time till the excursion ended. Anyway the Potter didn't fail to let the unlucky thousands who had to say at home know that she was out for the day, and she shrieked with delight at the slightest provocation. As she swept down along the channel, parallel with the wharves, her decks crowded with guests and her bright paddles sending her through the water at railroad pace, she made as pretty a picture of life and motion as has been seen on the lower river for many a year. The old Potter was always graceful and chafely, and the new Potter, thanks to the efforts of brush artists who evidently know their business, is considerably more so. The lower river cameras towed out their tripods, and the eager in the warehouse held onto the cord like grim death in recognition of the salute.
In less time than it takes to tell it, the city gradually faded from sight and the boat was headed for Sand Island, where hundreds of fishing boats were rocking on the swell with their nets out, and of course right in the path of the excursionists. Captain Sullivan, however, didn't want his vessel's maiden trip marred by back talk and swear words in various languages, from the barber fishermen, and he gave his passengers an exhibition of steering that showed in a moment how splendently the boat answered every turn of her rudder. For nearly a mile her course was a series of zigzag turns with several times an entire stoppage of her wheels, and she ran the gauntlet without so much as tearing a tangle from the water. Then a swift turn gave the land lubbers another whiff of old ocean, and finally with a long circular sweep she headed up the river towards the city. Captain Sullivan "let her out" and low banks changed to trees, trees to hills, hills to wharves, wharves to streets, streets to houses, and houses burst brought her racing home to her dock with a streak of churning yellow foam in her wake that agitated the small craft for half a mile around, and made them shake with fear as their big sister flew by. The maiden trip of the new Potter was over.And now for details. The Potter has been virtually turned inside out, re-varnished, re-painted, re-glided, and very nearly re-created. The interior has been entirely refitted with handsome and costly furniture, silver drinking apparatus and riderless decorations. The Potter has been turned into a palatial drawing room, and in this part of the boat can be seen the culmination of all the artistic decoration and refinement so noticeable in every foot of her space. All the furniture of this saloon has been upholstered in sequined heavy blue plush and hangings of the richest kind are everywhere. The carpets are the finest that money could buy, and everything is so arranged that the eye is never weary of the smallest detail is harmonized perfectly.
It is all gaudy, yet nothing is gaudy.
It is all arranged in such excellent taste that the eye is never weary of the most elaborate order.The electric light plant is entirely new, and is the most extensive steamer plant contained on any craft entering the Columbia river. A four thousand and candle-power search light can turn nine-tenths of a circle and that can be worked from either the hurricane deck or the pilot house, is one of the sights. Another is the captain's cabin, a dream of luxury with electric bells, call buttons, and all the paraphernalia of a first class ocean steamer. The engine room has new valves and two exhaust heaters, which, with the absence of the old copper keel and enlargement of the wheel houses, give the Potter her new and improved appearance. The new and improved quarters are all newly fitted out, and the veteran Pat Moran, the best known steward on the Columbia, has apartments that look as if they were fitted out for a young duchess, barring of course, that most necessary adjunct to a steward's quarters—the little medicine chest and counter with beam railing.The Potter has come back to us again all and much more than was promised us when she went away.
