the committee who are laboring with all their might and main to get matters in shape for Mr. Hammond to get to work on the Goble road. There is one matter, however, in connection with the right of way, which should be called to the attention of the people of Astoria, and especially to our merchants and shippers, and to the common council, who may be asked to nein the committee out may be asked to seip the committee out in the future, and I write this more to call the attention of our people to the matter, that they may observe the course pursued by certain parties, who, while they make many pretentions of friendship for Astoria, and assert their willingness to do the "dear people" a kindness, are, nevertheless, apparently placing obstacles in our way. I refer the O

They Lack Life_

There are twines sold to fishermen on the Columbia river that stand in the same relationship to Marshall's Twine as a wooden image does to the human being-they lack strength-life -evenness-and lasting qualities. Don't fool yourself into the belief that other twines besides Marshall's will do "just az well." They won't. They cannot.

As time goes on, and as the people have understand the whole situation come to understand the whole situation, to the disappointment of certain croakers, they have come forward nobly to meet the crisis of the situation and win a battle for the establishment of the permanent pre-tige of the port of Oregon in the front ranks of the world and the development of the unlimited wealth of the entire Northwest tributary to the Columbia river suitet. the Columbia river outlet.

The report of Jas. W. Welch, the chairman of the inside city right of way com-mittee, made yesterday, is a most flat-tering one. From that report is taken the following names of loyal and patriotic citizens who have promptly and freely given their deeds to the right of way for the railroad, extending from John Days' to the Seaside Cannery:

ing in good shape, besides much effective work being done by the committee and its chairman on right of way matters.

The truth is that all are alive to the importance of the situation and the irresparable loss to the city, community and entire state if the present opportunity is not taken advantage of at once. There can be no doubt but that all will now quickly complete their deeds and add their names to the list, as well as to the outside right of way and subsidy lists.

Too much cannot be said in commendation of the various committees and their hardworking chairman. All have worked like beavers, with only one object in view—the prosperity and advancement of their city and state. Great credit is also due to those public spirited citizens and hard working ranchers and lumbermen who, many of them, out of their poverty have responded quickly to the call and given all they could to make good the people's guarantee for the read.

The transportation lines, also, who have thrown open their boats to the use of those investigating as to future business enterprises, and the working committees, come in for their meed of deserved commendation.

The cyclone was followed by a furious rain storm which had not ahated at an early hour this morning. Numerous victims were count defend. at an early hour this morning. Numerous victims were found lodged in trees where they had been hurled by the storm. Where had stood fine buildings were left a few twisted timbers, while strewn all over the ground were portions of buildings and furniture bearing not the least resemblance to the original form, and useless except for kindling. The fields of sprouting grain are now bare, trees uprooted and all is desolation along the path of the cyclone.

A pitiful feature of the disaster is the number of youthful lives crushed out. time for hearing the application arrived, Mr. McNeill very discreetly staid away from the court; but the Hon, Jos. Elmon, who is one of the attorneys for the Farmers' Loan and Trust' Company, who are the trustees of the bondholders, appeared and objected to the matter being tried in the state courts, and instated that the case should be tried in the United States court at Portland. I am informed that the said Jos. Simon has saif that he did not intend to appear and make any de-nation proceedings; but that Mr. McNeill represented his clients in that matter, and that whatever McNeill agreed to would be all right.

Now if Jos. Simon is not going to defend for his clients, then why is it important to him where the case should be tried? If McNeill does not want damages, why does he not consent to the case being tried here, where it can be tried at much less cost to our people? It looks very much as if McNeill was giving us taffy on the one hand, and nighting ing us taffy on the one hand, and nighting us, with Jos. Simon, on the other. I understand that Mr. McNeill says that he persons who are circulating the re-ort that he is opposing us and the onstruction of the road, are interested nen Are Suspicious of American Horse Jockeys.

construction of the road, are interested in rival steamboat companies. I did believe for a time that such was the case; but I am almost beginning to believe those persons know what they are talking about, and that they are telling the truth when they say that McNeill is throwing every obstacle in the way of the building of the road that he can it behooves our people to watch not only McNeill, but also Jos Simon, and they can rest assured that there will be no real difference between Jos, and McNeill, however matters may appear on the sur-London, May 4. The way Americans are running their horses here has begun to arouse criticism which promises to increase. It is impossible to ascertain in advance what horse they intend to run owever matters may appear on the sur-in any event.

The Sporting Times today says: The Americans played a bold game in entering a horse like Banquet to be sold for 200 pounds. Four thousand pounds went on him and a good thing came off in fine style. He was bought in for 760 pounds and it is said would not have been sold for twice that amount.

The plungs on Banquet was the talk of the day as we have become unacquetomed to such heavy betting. We cannot say we welcome this return to the sort of racing which has always been held to be vicious. The object of selling races is defeated when for gambling purposes a horse is entered for sale at one-tenth of his value with the intention to rebuy him at whatever cost. From all we can hear the Americans have not yet played their cards.

There seems to be little doubt that China and Japan have both ratified the treaty of Shimonoski, which complicates the position of the European protesting powers. face.

If Mr. McNeill were in earnest in his professed desire to help us, he would determine where he wants the road to pass through the company's property; but this he neglects doing, and his conduct in this respect is causing us delays. I am not interested in any rival steamboat lines; but it behooves the people of Astoria to know who their friends are, and if Mr. McNeill and his friends and his company want to oppose us in this matter. McNeill and his friends and his company want to oppose us in this matter, we of Astoria should, to a man, oppose riving his steamboats one pound of freight, or one passenger from the town, or, in fact, from the county. There is one steamboat company whose stockholders and officers work unceasingly for the building of the road, and it is time for Astoria to know who her friends are, and patronize them. I say, watch both Mr. McNeill and the Hon. Jos. Simon, and if either one of them makes opposition to us in any way, don't fail to understand that there is a thorough understanding between them. McNeill was appointed receiver at the instance of Joseph's clients, and they are working in harmony.

The suggestion made through your columns a few days ago, to the effect that the committee would endeavor to have Mr. Hammond refuse to locate a depot at any place along the line where we are compelled to purchase or condemn a right of way is a good one, and the same principle should be applied to the transportation lines. Patronize your friends, and those who patronize you, is a good and those who patronize you, is a good suggestion. who paironize you, is a good RIGHT OF WAY.

DARING JAIL BREAK.

Three Prisoners Escape and Are Killed by the Sheriff,

Woodward, O. T., May 4.—A bold jell break followed by the killing of the escaped convicts, and the seriously wounding of Officer Wolfort, occurred this afternoon. About I o'clock Prisoners Hill, Waddell and Heffen, the first two confined for liberating prisoners about a month ago, secured a gun and forced the guard to open the cage. They armed themselves with Winchesters in the house and started for the hills. Sheriff Odin summoned a number of deputies and gavechase. Within a mile of town the convicts were overtaken. They were afect, while their pursuers were well mounted and escape was impossible. A demand to surrender, however, was answered with a volley from the convicts, who had taken refuge behind a large rock. This was kept up sharply on both sides for was the signal for general firing, which was kept up sharply on both sides for fully half an hout. Officer Ben Wolfort received a bullet through the arm and Officer Prior's horse was shot from under him. As soon as Prior's animal fell, the officers scattered and surrounding the rock poured shot after shot into the convicts. At the first volley, which was given in concert, Hill and Heffen were made to bite the dust, and soon Waddell who had laid flat on the ground gladfy surrendered.

PREPARING FOR TROUBLE. Several Virginia Military Companies Go to Graham.

Roanoke, Va., May 4.—In accordance with orders from Hichmond the following military company passed through here this morning en route to Graham: Two detachments of Richmond Howitzers, with two Gatling guns and 5.00 rounds of ammunition; Monticello Guards of Charlottesville; Lynchburg Home Guards. They were joined by the Roanoke Light Infantry and Machine Works Guards, and it was understood that the Jeff Davis Rifles of Salem and the military company of Radford would get aboard the train. The receivers of the Norfolk and Western Road have had notice for the recent injunction granted by Judge Jackson was intended for use in the coal regions. It states the company is in the hands of the United States courts and warns all persons at their peril not to interfere with the property or traffic of that company. The officials of that company regard Sunday as a critical day and all preparations seem to have been taken with a view of preventing trouble on that day at Pocahontas.
