one great basis principle of the Pal-ace Restaurant is mutual dependence. To abrise and grow, each dish must be botter than any one else's. Our aim is to reach the only roomy trade place, the top. No lower idea can be per mitted. And when the top, our top, is reached by any other restaurant, we will lift the top.

REPAIRING IN ALL ITS BRANCHES

When the tide sets one way there is always a cause for it.

Women don't come here to buy roasts steaks, and all other kinds of meat steaks, and all other kinds of meat simply because it's Christensen & Co.'s. Of course there are a few, a very faw, who buy out of compliment, or from ignorance, but the great mass of houseksepers buy where they can get the best and for that reason we supply the majority of the families in Astoria for they know by experience that we have only the best.

argy of the past and will soon be in the front rank of progressive cities, the ter-minus of a transcontinental railroad, and fort for a large part of the commerce o

The many friends of Miss Lillian Hulett will be pleased to know that she is now assistant superintendent of Clinton county, Iowa. Miss Hulett, who is a niece of Mrs. Dr. August Kinney, it will be remembered, resided in Astoria sev-

The following were passengers for Portland on the Potter last evening: E. F. Harris, Mrs. P. H. Johnson, Miss Enberg, J. H. Smith and family, P. J. Glans, A. S. Dresser, T. C. Wills, F. Ganyon, O. Vickers, H. Strong, A. G. Barker, Mr. hchilds. D. H. Welch.

Mr. Duncan Stuart is very much in-censed at the story being circulated that the reported hold-up of Mr. Bain is only a hoax. The broken window catch and other evidences of forcible entrance to the residence are sufficient to show that it was a clear case of burglary.

Tax payers are coming up quite liberal-ly just now, and as the time for paying before the roll closes is growing short, it is expected the rush will continue. The books close on the 10th and after that date property on which the taxes remain unpaid will be advertised and sold.

Mayor Kinney is in receipt of a letter from Mr. Hammond, in which he ex-presses his gratification at the result of the work of the right of way committees. He is anxiously awaiting the time when affairs will be closed up here so that work of construction can be commenced.

The funeral of Alice Johnson, the un-fortunate woman who died at St. Mary's Hospital Morday night, and who was buried yesterday at Greenwood, took place from Pohl's undertaking establishment. Quite a contingent of fallen sisters from the lower end of town, followed the remains to the grave.

At a meeting of the directors of the Astoria Building and Loan Association list evening the following were elected for the ensuing year: C. S. Wright president; F. L. i arker vice-president; Frank Patton treasurer; W. L. Robb secretary; J. Q. A. Howlby, attorney. Thomas Dea-iy, rl. F. Prael, and J. E. Ferguson, fi-

The following were passengers for Port land last evening on the steamer Balley Gatzert C. Redland, Mrs. E. E. Johnson, Mrs. J. R. McDonald, Mrs. Hart, W. C. Hart, W. C. Irish, P. T. Fisher, Miss Mc-Coy, Miss Everson, L. D. Williams, Mr. Colwell, Earl Leeland, G. Dixon, H. B. Parker, W. M. Kelley, J. Roberts, W. Thompson, L. Rasmussen.

Mr. J. W. Welch last night organized the first Rebekah lodge of Odd Fellows in Astoria. Mr. Welch was in his usual happy mood and the exercises went off very smoothly. The grand lodge of the same order meets in Salem on the 13th 14th, 15th, 16th and 17th, to which Mr.

Weich is a delegate. Yesterday evening a Greek fisherman became involved in a quarrel with a prossitite named Rose Jackson. The brutal Greek clutched the frail damsel by the illy-white throat and gave it such a grip that great red and blue marks were apparent for some time afterwards.
The woman was equal to the emergency, however, for she grasped a slung shot and gave the Greek a terrific blow over the head leaving an ugly gash from which the blood flowed profusely. He escaped and coming up town met Sheriff Hare who took him into Dr. Strickler's drug store and had the wounds sewed up. No arrests have been made as yet. Yesterday the Astoria Iron Works shipped the first of the Eliptical Oval Can Soldering machines to be used on the river. It was consigned to J. G. Megler at Brookfield Another machine will soon be finished for the Cutting Packing Company and still another is under course of construction for an up-river cannery. This machine, which has been described heretofore by the Asto-riant and is the invention of Mr. Troyer riant and is the invention of Mr. Troyer of the Pacific Can Company, is somewhat expensive, but is the first really successful oval can soldering machine ever manufactured. One is now in use in the Pacific Can Factory, for soldering bottoms on cans, being the first machine turned out by the iron works.

will be a novel exhibition on the river mewhere between Astoria and the outh of the Willamette. The old aban-ned steamer Reed, from which the magiven point she will be set on fire and burned. Of course the old vessel will be well saturated with kerosene, and a liberal supply of colored lights will be burned about the upper decks. The steamer belongs to the O. R. and N. Co., and they chose this way of getting rid of her. Excursions will be run from both Portland and Astoria, the entire arrange ments being in the hands of Mr. Wills, who has lately been here on a Fiesta

The subsidy committee yesterday re-ceived the deeds of Elmore and Sanborn, and the Astoria Investment Company, and Chairman Welch, of the inside right of way committee received the deeds of H. D. Gray and Edee et. al. One by one the roses fall and day by day the affairs of the railroad are approaching the point where construction can commence. All seem to be anxious to get into line on the winning side. A report was current that Jacob-Kamm had positively refused to sive his right of way, but the rumor could not be confirmed. Chairman Wingate has returned to the scene of his labors along the line and will finish the work in that section. Chairman Kinney yesterday was too busy to say anything he simply "sawed wood."

Cathlamet, has been missing since Mon-

The always popular and ever polite Captain Richardson, of the Columbine, spent the afternoon yesterday in visiting fflends. The captain's ship is at the buoy depot undergoing repairs. In attempting to return to the vessel in the afternoon the captain was stopped so many times by friends and held upon the street corners to talk that it was fully two hours after the start was made before he fairly got under way for the ship.

Yesterday was a perfect April daysunshine and rain alternately all day long. The wind changed to the Northwest during the early part of the day, and kicked up quite a sea on the bay.
Fishboat books were out by hundreds it seemed, and they scudded over the water under close reefed sails, with remarkable speed. It was a pretty sight, and admired by many strangers in the city who had never seen anything like it

An immense congregation in Fisher's Hall last evening listened to the sweet gospel songs by a very large and efficient choir, led by Mr. Dickson, and to the very direct and pungently poetical words of Evangelist Holdridge. The text of the svangelist was 2 Kings 9-20. The fast driving of Jehu was made the basis of some very appropriate suggestions as to the fast driving of the whole country along business lines, political lines, along along business lines, political lines, along social lines, and so on. So much attention is given to these material things that the great mass of men and women are become oblivious to the maters of the soul. The sermon from beginning to end was profusely and beautiful the to end was profusely and beautifully il-lustrated. These men are evidently pro-foundly in earnest in all their work, and appear supremely desirous of helping the citizens of Astoria to better modes of Revival services have been in progress in this city, conducted by Evangelists Holdridge and Dickson, now nearly three weeks, and while there have been no treat outbursts of enthusiasm and ex-itement, yet there has been a decidedly leep underucrrent of feeling among a large class of the citiezns of Astoria, and many have been influenced to start upon a christian life; while many church nembers who have been living out of ommunion with God have "hunted up he old ways" and are found walking in hem. Meetings of unusual interest are conducted every morning at 9 a. m. in Rescue Hall; also at 3:30 p. m. in the Presbyterian church, and at 7:30 in Fisher's Hall. The citizens of Astoria who do not attend these meetings are missing. rare opportunities. Fisher's Hall is now comfortably Reated for these evening services. Mr. Dickson has returned from Portland and will be in charge of the Major Blakeney, superintendent of the life saving service on the Pacific coast, was at Ilwaco, on his return from Gray's Harbor, when the drowning accidents occurred yesterday, and reached the city in the afternoon. After regretting the inability of the gallant life saving crew, the major gave some valuable information concerning his department. He stated that the Cape Disappointment Life Saving Station will soon be furnished. Cathlamet, has been missing since Monday night. He started out fishing on that date, and when last seen was in the vicinity of the jetty. As a rule he was very prompt about returning home every night or morning as the case might be, and in view of the storms of the past three days, and his continued absence, the belief is growing among his friends that some accident, has befallen him. There is hope, however, that Hansen might have some to anchor in some sheltered place, and preferred to remain there to venturing out during such rough weather.

Later—A report was current late last evening that the body of Hansen had been found near Sand Island, but as to the truth of the rumor i toould not be confirmed at a late hour. the left is saving district, he re-located a site on Peterson's Point, near the en-trance to Gray's Harbor, for a life savinally selected could not be perfected. It is now hoped the station can be built during this season.

Last evening at 5 o'clock Sheriff Hare in company with C. J. Curtis and others went to the city jail where 25 of the 33 alleged vags were confined an the limited space of that place. Knowing that there was not sufficient accommodations in that place for so large a number of pristhat place for so large a number of prisoners, Sheriff Hare made a proposition to Captain Hallock to take any or all of the men to the county jall, and give them comfortable lodgings for the night and breakfast this morning without cost to anyone except himself. Captain Hallock informed the sheriff that he could not let the men go without an order from Chief Loughery. Sheriff Hare then informed the police captain that he would wait until the chief could be found, but up to 9 o'clock his presence had not been secured. Sheriff Hare then went home, secured. Sheriff Hare then went home, but about 10 o'clock Chief Loughery was found and readily accepted the offer of tound and readily accepted the oner of the sheriff. Seven men out of the 29 were satisfied to rmain in the city pall, but the balance were taken to the county bastile where "all the comforts of a home" were tendered them.
