A CHANCE FOR THE CANNERS.

In these columns tomorrow we will publish a very interesting and instructive article on the subject of the mammoth Mexican exposition to be held next year in the City of Mexico. To a great many people in the United States Mexico has always been a sleepy land, of vast exhaus tent, comparatively few resources, and helding forth very little inducement for the investment of any form of captial as compared with like chances in our own country. But the truth is that Mexico with its diversity of climate, its Mexico with its diversity few resources, and thereby determine to be unmistate about mind to be unmistate aloughtened as legal tender and whall be for that money and coins and the desires what mo whole world. Naturally enough a good deal of this fog of ignorance will by the united efforts of the Mexican people through the American press be cleared away before the opening of the expositive of the exposit tion, and there is little doubt that when that event transpires it will attract many thousands of visitors and millions making it the unit and stating it to be of dollars' worth of exhibits from every country under the sun. In extent, the an area as those of the Columbian Ex-since goods may change in cost and position, while the wonderful charm of thereby change the ratio of the standard Mexican scenery and vegetation will help to goods. But the government, at least, to beautify the vast grounds and give Swelling the volume of circulation cerresentation in the City of Mexico. To argue that such representation brings of value, because a measure changing up back no return that can be estimated in black and white figures is really children the volume of circulation certainly does black and white figures is really childish. To say that such an exhibit in such a change, because exchanges to the locality could have no good effect is amount of 22 to 35 of their totals, are in incorrect, for vast crowds of people who will travel to the exposition will be men and women from this country and Europe culation, in favor of which so much has who eat salmon and who can be educated by a well conceived display at such we heard a gentleman connected with the business may the other day, that "We have no market in Mexico anyway," is, from a business standpoint, a very shaky proposition. With the immediate erection of a splendid hatchery is a fine location, and with public sentiment on production of goods. They do not bring the Columbia gradually becoming arousprevent the frost which blackens the ed in a greater and greater degree to the necessity of preservation of the salmon, we look forward to a speedy increase in the annual pack, and firmly believe that, with the continuance of such wise methods as the packers have lately seen fit to employ, our great industry is not body with a thimbleful of brains knows to die prematurely as it has done going to die prematurely as it has done eisewhere, but will live and flourish and grow larger in extent for centuries to come.

It is always wise to waste no time in opening up new markets, no matter if an immediate demand from them can be supplied at once or not. The demand duction and exchange. If a man has growth, and packers will find that the output here at home will keep pace with it. Besides, Mexico is a land of "good will not give the farmer credit who has ilving." Of course she has her classes and her masses, but generally speaking, her people, particularly in the cities of the republic, enjoy the good things of the republic, enjoy the good things of life as much as we do. They already by rain, it will not give the farmer credit who has mone now; it will not make an honest man out of a deceiver; if it raises the prices of his products it raises the prices of what he buys equally; if his soil is poor, if his land is in a region forsaxen by rain, it will not give virtue to the soil nor bring rain to his suffering crops. import annually very large consignments of French and Italian canned dainties, all of which as a rule are higher in price than the canned salmon of the Columbia river and not nearly so delicious.

Mexico, once entered and operated in legitimately and wisely with a view to the introduction of this product, affords a field for future operations of our canchanging goods; it radically differs from heryers that should be vigorously taken advantage of. Packers cannot put in a plea of "too busy" as an excuse for missing an opportunity like this, an opportunity that years of hard work could not bring about, for they can enter on the missing about, for they can enter on the missing about of daily routine business has allowed down. They made a man borrows 11,000 he borrows a claim on goods in general, and the money is only the one kind of article forming the medium of exchange. When a man borrows 11,000 he borrows a claim on goods in general, and the money is only a go-between. If a farmer, he really, borrows med, plows, lumber, food, etc., or to whatever he devotes the 11,000. And what affects the rate of interest? Obviously the kind of security and the abundance of loundble capital. Little Girl had to be Kept in a Dark Room. Could not See to Feed Herself. Remedies and Dootors All Falled. Cured in One Week by Cutleura.

My little girl had very sore eyes. I tried everything, but nothing did any good. I took her to a doctor in Atlanta, who treated her for a year, but she kept getting worse. I brought her home; was almost out of heart; I just felt sure she would go clind. An old lady told me to try CUTIOHA REMEDIES. I had no faith in them, as I had tried everything. I commenced on Saturday, and before the next Saturday her eyes were sound and well as any child's. She was almost blind, and had been kept in a dark room for more than a year; could not see to feed herself; and they have never been as yet the least particle sers of even looked red from that day until this, and it will be three years the first of May. They certainly sured her, and I think they are the greatest remedies out. I only used half a box of CUTICUTA, one cake CUTICUTA SOAP, and one bottle of CUTICUTA RESOLVENT; so you see what wonders they did for my little girl. I have read of all of these most wonderful cases, but never before thought that they might be true; but I know this to be the positive truth.
