that we have enumerated from time to time, seems to be in the nature of things, for no great enterprise that the world ever saw has been brought to a successful complexion without a constant display of vigilance and a hard and bitter battle against obstacles in its path.

Whatever action these officials in their wisdom see fit to take against the men who continue to threaten the life of Oregon's greatest industry, should receive the moral support of every citizen of the

A correspondent has complained to the Toledo Blade that Republican papers are making a mistake in placing the currency issue before that of the tariff. He thinks the Democrats should not be permitted to divert public attention from the rest cause of our financial panic, which, he save, beyond a doubt, was caused by the earlif tinkering of the last congress. The Binde replies to th's suggestion in the following characteristic manner: "Evperatic tariff law is far from being a radical "tariff for revenue only" measure; pet it has demonstrated that every departure from the sound principles of protection is fraught with disaster to the people. If the equare issue of protection or free trade were presented to the voters of the nation, protection would win by an almost unanimous vote. Hence, the Democratic leaders, knowing that it is impossible to obtain any recognition for their ground, and ere tatiking the currence leaders, and ere tatiking the currence leaders, and ere tatiking the currence leaders are shrewd in this Circumstances aid them. A BRIGHT SOLDIER.

Adjutant Isabel Wood of the Washington Salvation Army.

Washington Star, When the redcoats invaded Washington and burned the capitol and white house in the war of 1812 quite a large force was used to accomplish the task. But this week one little red-jacketed war-rior from the British isles will enter this city and proceed to "take the town," as she has captured many another American city. Adjutant Isabel Wood of the Salvation Army is coming.

She is regarded as one of the most remarkable young women in the entire army. She was born in Kent county, England, and has been in this country about five years. She beltes her Saxon birth in appearance by looking just like a little Spanish Gypsy ,but if she be not British in height and coloring she is in grit and conquesting powers. Her record is considered a wonderful one. No matthe corps to which she is sent, immediately a spirit of new life is infused, converts are many, good soldiers all the result of the personal attraction of the little adjutant. Those who know her realize that the secret of her success is in her rare spiritual power. She is called "the blessed damsel," and a rich blessing she has proved to be to thousands of weary, unsattisfied hearts.

While she has won many lives from the depths of sin and degradation, it sometimes seems, so those seems to the seems her work my, as if her mission was

On the way to Chicago to uccom plish her musical triumph, Captain Dunlop stopped to visit a friend, went to a Salvation Army meeting, was converted, and immediately entered a western garrison as a cadet, and now her beautiful voice is heard night after night

RISHOP IRELAND ON SCHOOLS

He Favors Public Schools and Thinks All Catholics Should Do So.

Archbishop Ireland was the principal peaker at the golden jubilee of Notre Dame university in Scuth Bend, Ind., June II, and his address was devoted to sulogizing the work of Father Edward Sorin, the four-ler of the university, and the deliverance of a powerful argument in favor of higher education. A large number of the chief dignituries of the church were present and took part in the exercises, including Archbishop Elder, Cincinnati; Archbishop Hennessey, Dubuque, Iowa; Archbishop Feehan, Chi-cago; Bishop Keane, rector of the Cath-olic university, Washington, and many others of the clergy and prominent laity. The St. Paul prelate said the Roman Catholic church made a mistake in war-ring upon the public schools; that the state schools were necessary and that Roman Catholics should take advantage of the benefits which they afforded. He deplored the absence of religion from such educational inistitutions, but declared that the fault was irremediable could. It was the duty of Roman Catho lies, he said, to have their children edu-
