They Lack Life

There are twines sold to fishermen on the Columbia river that stand in the same relationship to Marshall's Twine as a wooden image does to the human being—they lack strength—life—evenness—and lasting qualities. Don't fool yourself into the belief that other twines besides Marshall's will do "just as well." They won't. They cannot.

ROBBERS IDENTIFIED

Men Who Held Up Southern Pacific in Custody.

CHILD FALLS OUT OF A WINDOW

Little Ruth Emmons, of Portland, Meets Untimely Death—New York Jail Delivery.

Roseburg, Or., July 5.—John Case, held at Riddle under suspicion of train robbery, was today identified by Engineer Wain, Fireman Gray, and Brakeman Norman as the man who went through the train and compelled the passengers to shell out.

SUSPECTS HELD.

Roseburg, Or., July 5.—Albert Poole, under indictment for cattle stealing, was held under $500 bond on each count by Circuit Judge Fullerton today.

James Poole, one of the train robber suspects, and under indictment by the last grand jury, for cattle stealing, was brought to Roseburg in the custody of a deputy sheriff on today's freight and taken before the circuit court in relation to the amount of bail and discharged on a demurrer for the reason that the indictment did not state the ownership of the cattle. He was immediately re-arrested for complicity in the train robbery. Sheriff Catcart takes Poole to Riddle on the 3:30 freight this afternoon. The preliminary examination will probably be held at Riddle Monday. Diligent search is being prosecuted for the other suspects.

SPAIN TO BE REPRESENTED.

Washington, July 5.—Senor Du Puy de Leon, the Spanish minister, says Spain will take part in the next international monetary convention, as she is interested in the solution of the bimetallic question. Spain uses both gold and silver, the latter being coined at a fixed ratio with gold, and there is also an issue of paper currency. Two of the Spanish colonies, Porto Rico and the Philippine Islands, use silver almost exclusively. For these reasons Spain's policy is definitely favorable towards the use of both metals and her interests, particularly in the colonies, are towards the enlarged use of silver.

The belief is expressed by some of the best posted representatives for foreign countries that the international agreement should embody certain essential features. To assure its power it must secure the adherence of the United States and of at least one of the three great money centers of Europe, Great Britain, France or Germany, and the adherence of as many lesser countries as possible.

PAUL WEBB MAY LIVE.

Spokane, July 5.—The report given out last night that Paul Webb, who tried to go down a chute into the lake in a barrel was dead, was incorrect. Although the doctor says his back is broken in two places, he clings to life with wonderful tenacity, and the physicians now say he has a chance for life. Webb is quite rational, and speaks of recovering as though death were not to be considered. To a reporter he said: "From the time I struck the rocks as they say I did, I was only semi-conscious until midnight last night. Since then I have been able to talk and understand everything going on. I had a presentiment that this trip would be disastrous. One thing is sure, I must get over this very quickly, for I have agreed to go over Post Falls the 14th, and over Spokane Falls the 21st. Then we go to Seattle; in fact, we have dates right ahead all summer until I shall finally go over Niagara."

CHILD FALLS FROM A CAR WINDOW

Spokane, July 5.—Ruth Emmons, aged four years, was instantly killed by falling out of a car window of the Great Northern passenger train near Glasgow. The child was with her mother from Portland, on a journey east to visit friends, and was standing upon a seat looking out of the window. The train was stopped as soon as possible and returned to the spot. There, lying in the ditch, alongside the track, was found the child, dead, her neck having been broken. The mother's grief was pitiful. She would not be consoled, all the time blaming herself for neglecting to more closely watch her child. Mr. Emmons, the father, was telegraphed, and arrived from Portland last evening. The sorrowing parents took the boy with them back to Portland this morning.

NEW YORK JAIL DELIVERY.

New York, July 5.—The escape of Kilcran, Russell and Allen from the Ludlow street jail yesterday morning promises to develop a lively scandal. They were detained there pending extradition to Illinois for the robbery of the Springfield Postoffice. The officers at the jail have pretended to be greatly puzzled over how the prisoners secured their freedom. It develops, however, that the three prisoners had been allowed the greatest freedom. Wagonmen were allowed to come into the jail and associate with them, and only recently they spent the whole evening in the reception room playing bagatelle and dominoes with women visitors.

THE DEPARTMENT DISGUSTED.

Washington, July 5.—Postmaster General Wilson and other officials of his department are greatly disgusted over the escape of the accused postoffice robbers from the Ludlow street jail. Mr. Wilson today offered a reward of $1,000 each for their capture and he also wrote a letter to United States Attorney McFarland in which he asserts that he cannot avoid the conclusion that some one is criminally responsible for the escape. He declares his belief that those whose carelessness or criminality made the escape possible, should be held to strict accountability.

THE MURDER CLEARED UP.

Omaha, July 5.—The trunk murder mystery, which has disturbed all Omaha since Tuesday, was cleared up tonight when the frightfully mutilated body of the victim, John Seljan, was found in the river and the four prisoners first arrested were formally charged with the murder.

BY THE ROLLING SURF.

Interesting Notes from Clatsop County's Beaches.

The past week at the beaches adjacent to Astoria has been one of sunshine, and many people have taken up their summer residence at the various resorts. Gearhart, Grimses and McGuire's at the Clatsop beach are now open for the summer visitor and quite a number of people have patronized them since their opening. The Seaside hotel at the Halladay place has not opened as yet, though it is understood that it will be in readiness for summer traffic in a few days.

The cottages at Seaside and Gearhart will all be occupied this season, and many people from the interior who figured on renting a house at either of these resorts have been disappointed. The sudden demand for cottages has had a good effect, however, for now many new houses are contemplated, and this fall will see quite a building boom at those delightful resorts.

Campers will this year be more numerous than last, which was considered a big season. They will come from all parts of Oregon, and in another week or two little white tents can be seen dotted throughout the groves from Gearhart to Tillamook Head. Many prominent families prefer camp life to the more confining life in a cottage, and really, there is a great deal in their argument in favor of the free and easy life of roughing it under the green canopy of the pretty groves along the sea shore.

EARLY MORNING BLAZE.

Fire was discovered at 1 o'clock this morning in one of the boiler houses of the Clatsop Mill Company. An alarm of fire was immediately turned in but before the department arrived on the scene the building was a mass of flames. For awhile it looked as if the surrounding buildings were in danger, but the good work of No. 2's and the chemical soon got the flames under control. The building was used to get up heat for the dry house and aside from the boilers had a great deal of machinery in it. The fire is thought to have originated on top of the boilers. Mr. Kinney states the loss to be in the neighborhood of $100, which is fully covered by insurance.

At 2 o'clock this morning Manager Kinney stated that the proprietors of the Clatsop Mills would immediately rebuild the boiler house. The dry house and box factory will be in operation by Monday, and all orders will be filled promptly.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT.

Yesterday was a light day in the Circuit Court, very little business transpiring. In the suit of E. A. Betts vs. C. R. Thomson, executor of the estate of John Williams, suit was dismissed on motion of the plaintiff.

In the case of J. T. Kindred et al. vs. E. L. Dwyer et al., decree was rendered for plaintiff.

Rosenfeld, Smith & Co., vs. Ostmas, application allowed to file amended motion for new trial.

Sanderson vs. Bulger & McCann, motion for new trial allowed.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE.

Dr. Jay Tuttle is Requested to Run for the Office of School Director.

Believing that the Second Ward should have fair representation on the board of school-directors, we would respectfully request Dr. Jay Tuttle to be a candidate for the position made vacant by the death of J. P. Dickinson. We pledge our support and ask those interested in the public schools to vote for him.

(Signed by) MANY CITIZENS. Astoria, Ore., July 5, 1895.

A considerable force of men and teams went to Lyle the early part of the week, says the Klickitat Republican, to commence the work of grading the projected Lyle and Klickitat railroad. A number of men and teams were held back because of the difficulty of procuring hay for teams. This difficulty has since been met, and we expect in due time to hear that a good beginning has been made on the grading.

A. O. U. W. NOTICE.

Members of Astoria Lodge No. 50 are requested to meet at their hall on Sunday, the 7th inst., at 12:30 p. m., to attend the funeral of our late brother, Wm. Hill, of Westview Lodge, No. 52, by order of the lodge.

MR. HAMMOND ARRIVES

The West Side Subsidy Almost Completed.

ONE MAMMOTH ENTERPRISE

Astoria the Head and Center of the Columbia Valley Commerce—Seaside Railroad Deal.

Mr. Hammond is here and has come to prosecute matters to a finish. He was unable yesterday to say enough in praise of the work done by Astoria in securing the subsidy and right of way for the railroad. The unanimity of action and persistent determination to accomplish the object in view is worthy of the highest commendation.

To complete and round out the entire scheme it is necessary yet to secure the subsidy as originally agreed upon and promised upon the west side of the bay. There are three or four bargains, but it is expected these will come to time all once. The road to Astoria alone would not in any sense fully develop the traffic of the Columbia valley and the business of the city of Astoria. Astoria's limits practically include Warrenton and Flavel. Within the present limits of the city there is not room enough for the erection of all the warehouses and elevators which will be needed to carry on the business of the future. The property on the west side of the bay is almost entirely owned by Astorians, and cannot by any means be left out of the enterprise or be considered a separate undertaking. The acquisition and full development of the Seaside railroad, the bridging of Young's Bay, the opening up and development of the immense coal fields and timber resources on the west side are absolutely necessary to place Astoria in its rightful position and round out and complete the scheme as originally planned and outlined. It is quite certain that today the deal will be consummated for the purchase of the Seaside road, but its development and connection with Astoria will depend upon the completion of the subsidy deals to the west side property which have been promised.

There can be no reasonable doubt but that the same spirit which has so creditably been displayed in closing matters on the east side will be shown in the west side part of the deal, and that the few who are still in arrears will come to the front and make it possible for the carrying out of the entire proposition and the early starting of the work of construction.

Astoria is not like Portland, for she realizes the fact that her interests include both sides of the bay equally and that Astoria will always be Astoria and the center of business on the lower Columbia; the great port of the Pacific Northwest and that nothing can take the business away from her. Portland is, and will always be, the metropolis of the state; her bankers and financiers will always lead in the business of the state, and her benefits from the building of the railroad to Astoria will be commensurate with her importance and population. But it is a well known fact that some of her leading citizens, and even the press, have been opposed to the road because of individual gains to the city and state at large. It is also well known that persistent and influential pressure was brought to bear in that city upon Mr. Hammond to abandon the Astoria railroad project, but to no avail. It is a noticeable and pleasing fact, however, that this sentiment only prevailed among the few, and that all will no doubt see the folly of it in a short time.

Now is the time for the prevalence of the Astoria idea the length and breadth of the entire state—Oregon for Oregonians; the building up of every enterprise that will place the state in the front ranks of commerce and make her the successful leader to which her geographical location and climatic conditions entitle her. To the winds with sectional jealousies and factional disputes! Unity of spirit and concentration of effort will secure grand results and fill the state with that class of immigrants who make desirable citizens and a prosperous and happy society.

THE SALMON RUN.

Bluebacks Beginning to Fall off—There will be Little Fishing after August 1.

Astoria, Or., 10 p. m., 6th July, 1895.—last week's work has been dull and uneventful with very little report outside of the continued slackening up in the run of fish. Compared with the corresponding week of last year, which was one of the slackest of the season, the present week is one-third shorter in its pack, and it is now a certainty that the lower river will have a shortage at the end of the season considerably below its 1894 record. Everything at the cannery is drifting along in the same indifferent way, with goods going out to fill orders as fast as they are packed. Today there have been signs of a slight increase in the run of fish, caused no doubt by the heavy southerly weather now prevailing and it is the general impression among cannerymen that a fair run may be looked for early next week. Some of the cannerymen are confident that many Eastern buyers have not yet placed their orders for the season's pack, while others have only made partial demands, intending to pursue a waiting policy and see how matters turned out at this end of the river. This class are beginning to find out the true condition of affairs, and soon jobbers will undoubtedly feel the push and start to cover the local output for usual quantities. It is not expected that there will be any fishing on the Columbia after the 10th of August. The blueback run will be over by the middle of the present month. Seiners continue to make better averages than any other class of gear, by reason of excellent fishing conditions for those appliances—clear water and a low river. We quote today as follows: Spring catch straight Chinook, $1.30 to $1.65 for talls, and $1.50 to $1.75 for flats. Two-pound regular falls with key, $2.10; Bluebacks, 1-lb falls, $1.25, 1-lb flats $1.50; Chinook ovals, for export—market closed; for home consumption, $1.75 to $1.95 for small lots already sold. Fraser river and northern fishing are getting along fairly well. By the arrival of the steaming Danube on the 30th of June at Victoria, information was received from the northern cannerymen. The sockeye run commenced on the Naas and Skeena rivers about June 20. The run had not commenced at Rivers' Inlet, when the Danube passed there. The following packs are reported: Balmora, 1,700 cases; Inverness, 400; British America and North Pacific, 4,000. The other cannerymen averaged about 600 cases. The A. C. C. pack of 4,000 cases was brought down to the Britannia cannery on the Fraser river for repacking. This is the first time that spring salmon, packed the same year, has arrived down before the end of June. A carload of 576 cases of spring salmon, packed in flats and ovals, has been shipped from the Fraser to London, England, by the Great Northern. The sockeye season in the North opened with this month. It is understood that strong efforts will be made to put up the largest possible pack. All the cannerymen will be at work, and, as fish are not expected to be very plentiful, the fishermen are likely to get a good price for their catch. The opening figure will be 20 cents.

IT WAS.

"This is one of the penalties of prominence," hummed the mosquito, sinking its stiletto into the sleeping victim's long nose.

The Roseburg Plumber's post breaks into blank verse, as follows: "Our reporter made a trip into the country yesterday to sniff the fresh air and sweet aroma from the hay fields. Purms along the road up Deer creek presented a sight lovely to behold. Lying spread out on either side were fields of grain, hay and fine orchards. The grain generally appears in good condition and well advanced. The hay crop is mostly cut and cured, and an odor sweeter than that from Tom's vale was wafted on the ambient air. The work of nature by nature's God furnishes a theme for the lovers of grandeur and beauty to contemplate, rarely witnessed, save among observed also that within the last few years the transforming hand of man has reared almost like magic, beautiful and cozy looking cottages, with shrubbery and flowers adorning them."

A LARGE CROWD.

The bankrupt shoe store, corner of Ninth and Commercial streets, opened last Tuesday morning, and ever since the opening the store has been crowded with people most of the time, and, judging from the armful of shoes carried away, they must be reasonable in price and good in quality. If you are in need of footwear it will pay you to take a look at this store.
