METHOD V. INDIFFERENCE.

The Astorian has often called the tention of Columbia River cannerymen the splendid business methods of Alaska Puckers' Association, and co trasted them with their own ideas marketing their product. We notice a recent San Francisco paper the folloing comment which serves to show he the doings of the Alaska Packers' Ass cialtion are looked on elsewhere:

"If the raisin growers want to save themselves from ruin proceeding from an embarrassment of riches, they will take a leaf out of the book of the Alaska salmon cunners, says the San Francisco Bullevin. These industrials, having experienced two or three years of steady losses, have combined and formed a syndicate, to which the entire output of the cannories is assigned. The manusers of the syndicate have reckoned to a point how much fish the market will take without breaking down prices; they limit their output to this amount, allotting to each member of the syndicate his porportion a price which leaves a small profit over umbine in taking off her buoy material. and above the cost of production, yet is so close that it will not pay an outside canner to compete. Eastern buyers deal better with it than with outside buyers, in surveying tomorrow. and also because it guarantees them crative industry." While it seems as if we have brought this matter to the attention of the Astothis matter to the attention of the Asto-ria packers often enough, it may probably cial News, a paper that both typographbe well for them to know and realize, it to its producers. This is the twenty-first year of publication of the News, and that the old proverb its sphere of usefulness among shipping standing upon its own bottom," can hardly be taken as referring to leaky gation made at once as to the facts reunfortunate affair; on the contrary that is only additional reason why the facts in the case must be thoroughly developed. It would be a great shame and disgrace to Astoria, and besides might work a serious interference with the plans which it is believed the government has in view for the development of the harbor, if an officer of Admiral Walker's rank and dignity could not make an official visit here without becoming the victim of a ruffianly cutrage committed by citizens of re-prevailed a year or so ago, and that they are also silest as to the number of American lumbermen who have been supplanted, because of the low wages, by cheaper Chimdian labor.

There is one notable sentence in Emperer William's speech at the Kiel bank quet: "The seas do not divide, they con-quet: "The seas do not divide, they connect." It is a new view in some respects. It brings prominently to the front the idea that the seas are the world's highways. That much has been said before; but steam and improved ship-building have enormously diminished the time of voyages, thus bringing the nations closer together and really making the seas a connection between nations, rather than watery barrier.

It is noticeable that while Democratic newspapers are busy nominating Repubican candidates for president, they have put up very few Democratic candidates. This does credit to their judgment. They know which of the two things is the more

As a matter of fact, the mon at the head of the Alaeka Association are, by their judicious and long headed manipulation of the markets of this country and Europe, gradually forcing the Alaska product into such a strong position that every year of inactivity on the part of the Columbia river packers is making it stronger and more unassailable.

There ought to be a searching investigation made at once a storing investigation made at once as to the facts.

The Columbine arrived in port at gation made at once as to the facts relating to the reported insuit offered Admiral Welker at the Parker House dock on Thursday morning. From the rumors which were flying thick and fast over Astoria yesterday a worse outrage was hardly ever perpetrated in Astoria. It will not do to hush the matter up on account of the standing and official relation of some of the alleged principals in the unfortunste affair; on the contrary that is south, taking in all the lights from this river to Cape Blanco, and putting the Admiral aboard the lighthouse tender Madronia, which will meet him at that

On Thursday night an Astorian representative interviewed Rear Admiral Walker and Commander Farenhoit on board the Columbine. It is to be hoped for the credit not alone of Astoria, but of the whole state as well that the matter has been greatly exaggerated. If Mayor Kinney, Chief of Police Loughery, or some other representative person does not take up the case, the Astorian will deem it its duty to make an investigation and publish the whole truth regarding the affair, with the names of the guilty participants.
