A month later would be plenty early, and just as large salmon and as many of them could be obtained then as now, and there is really nothing to be gained by putting them in now.

A USE FOR ABANDONED FARMS.

A new use has been found for abandoned farms. It is well known that in Scottand many of the fargest landed proprietors depend largely upon the rental of their deer forests in the annual returns from their estates, and in England there are innumerable stretches of land which, at present agricultural proces, pay better to renk for shooting than for farming. It is suggested that many abandoned farms in this country can, at comparatively slight expense, be made to yield a fair return by being turned into game preserves. > MATERIALS FOR EMBROIDERY. It is Poor Economy to Us- Inferior Stuffs

The first rule to be observed in the selection of materials for embroidery is they be suited to the particular purpose for which they are destined; then, also it is imperative that they be of good quality. It is the worst kind of economy that grudges the necessary outlay for a good foundation, while to work with inferior sliks means failure, with loss of time and temper. The most suitable foundation is a fine round thread linen of sufficient weight to lie smoothly in place. If sheer linen is preferred the use of it is quite permissible. The effect will be found a little more dressy for special occasions, but it is desirable to affix it, when fluished, to an underlying mat of colored slik or satin harmonixing with the tones of the design. on of materials for embroidery is ing with the tones of the design

THE OLD CURIOSITY SHOP.

Can you locate it? You ought to be able to because you live in it. This world is the biggest curiosity shop that we have known anything about up to date. Jupiter or Satura may be able to discount it. Perhaps, and perhaps not. It is pretty full of people who are continually tinkering with themselves patching themselves up—so to speak, in a medicinal way. If they are constipated, billous or dyspeptic they rush to the nearest druggist for a violent purgative. If they are malarious they fly for relief to that ancient but ineffectual reliance—the sulphate of but ineffectual reliance—the sulphate of quinine. This is what they shouldn't do. What they should do is to begin and pursue a course of Hostejter's Stomach Bitters, the primist of alteratives and anti-malar-ial specifics, particularly valuable also for rhoumatism, neuralgia, nervousness and debility, and a promoter of sleep and appetite beneficial to all chronic invalids.
