OREGON'S OPPORTUNITIES.

of the importance Chicago is attaining as a fruit distributing center for the entire country. The strawberries came consigned to Joseph Spies & Co. in one of Armour's refregerator cars, packed in five-quart boxes, sixty boxes to the case, and 50 hoxes to a car. The berries were the leaves over seen here some of them. the largest ever seen here, some of them being over an inch in diameter. The more than over any other religious proment. Every twelve hours during the transit frash ice was placed in the car, The freight rate was $30, and, taking into consideration the value of the berries, the risk was heavy. Representatives of the leading hotels, restaurants, and fancy grocery houses, who had been notified of the arrival, took the fruit readily at prices varying from $1 to $19 a case, or from five to fifteen cents a quart. Seattle shippers were notified of the successful outcome of their venture, and expressed hearty shifsfaction." hearty satisfaction."

As usual, our sister state takes the all the larger cities of Washington. Ore- tion. gon's fruit growers should wake up to the situation without jarring their nerves by too rough a shock of suddenly acquired activity. They have the means of transportation right at their doors, and, more than that, the quality of fruit they produce is far superior in every way to uny grown in either California of Washington. Oregon's apples are already famous all over the country, but the small fruits-cherries, strawberries and raspberries in particular, are practically unknown. This should not be so. It only needs a few advance shipments of carefully selected and carefully packed goods to create an immediate demand from all the eastern and middle west centres. The quality of the fruit will do the rest. and year after year the growers of this state will have a rapidly increasing market, and its natural sequence-rapidly increasing incomes. The deep, blackloamed land in Oregon suitable for fruit growing that has as yet never been turned over by the hand of man, would support thousands of New England homesteaders, to whom the productiveness of the soll would be a revelation.

And turning from this subject of fruit exporting, it seems that with the advent of our Astoria railroad a great and profitable business in cold storage fish is bound to spring up in this city. It will be a very few years before thousands of frozen fresh Columbia river salmon will be forwarded to Obicago, St. Louis, Philadelphia, New York, and many other for away cities, and exposed for sale on fish stands of the Eastern centers in as good condition as they can be obtained by the people of Astoria. Imagine a Boston housewife, in the course of her tally marketing operations, stopping to choose for her evening meal between flounders, codfish, mackerel, and salmon, the latter after a three thousand mile journey still bearing on its scales the glittering green and silver hues imparted to it by the waters of the Pacific ocean

Verily, the world is moving. In Vanconver the other day they gave a dinner when the guests are fresh and julcy Australian mutton, Australian cabbage and cauliflower, and finished up the mea with grupes and peaches picked sixtees thousand miles away.

A correspondent of the New Orleans Pleayupe is quite certain that adulteration is a fine art in Paris. Doubtless his statements are exaggerated as are simflar tales concerning this country. We do believe, however, that these wicked Parisians can palm off upon one horse steak for beaf steak. One thing is sure, the Parisians can make even adulterated food tasts good. They know how to cook. Commissioner Finley, of the Southern Railway and Steamship Association, has announced exposition rates for all lines between the Ohio and Potomac and the Guif and between the Atlantic and the Mississippl river. The basis is approximately one cent a mile, slightly more than one-half of the basis named for the World's Fair by the passenger association which met at Chicago in 1893. For example, the round trip rate from Atlanta to Chicago was $32. The round trip rate from Chicago to Atlanta will be about $17.50; from Washington about A late telegram from Chicago says:

"Strawberries as big as good sized walnuts, p.cked from the vines at Seattle, Wash., have arrived in this city and wars placed on the market. It is the first instance in the history of the trade that berries grown in sight of the Pacific ocean have been brought to Chicago and placed alongside of berries from the Empire state. It was considered on South Water street as an added evidence of the importance Chicago is attaining.

ANOTHER FREE SILVER FIZZLE. After persistent pretension that the entire Democratic party of Colorado was wild for free silver, only thirty persons wild for free silver, only thirty persons were present at the opening of the mass convention at Denver Tuesday. The attendance was slightly increased before the closing session, but at no time were the numbers impressive; while the convention, instead of being in united frenzy, was subject to a severe chill by a letter from Frank Arbuckie, chairman of the state central committee.

Mr. Arbuckie called the meeting at the request of the committee, but he declined Mr. Arbuckie called the meeting at the request of the committee, but he declined to be present at it. He advised against the convention, and failing to induce a majority of the committee to agree with him, he submitted to the extent of acquiescing in their request.

"I stand upon the broad proposition," he said, "that any and all relief which may come to the people of Colorado, as well as to the people of the United States, must of necessity be through Democratic doctrine, and that it is the surreme duty of the Colorado Democracy supreme duty of the Colorado Democracy at this time to hold fast the respect, con-tidence and good will of the national Democracy by claiming allegiance and devotion to its principles." Mr. Arbuckle udded: 'In my opinion the action of the Illinois Democracy in passing resolu-tions of condemnation was imposite and disgraceful. Such work is detrimental to western interests. It allenates support which should be maintained, and the action of sold convention in electing delegates to a national convention not called by authority of the national committee is a gross breach of political etiquette is a gross breach of political eliquette and discipline. It is political anarchy."

Notwithstanding so whotesome an admostition the convention proceeded through the farce of "reaffirming its devotion to the principles of Jefferson and Jackson," alleging the transparent untruth that the factory of the world's production proves that the ratio of 16 to 1 has successfully maintained the parity of the two metals, and dissenting from the financial policy of the present adminthe flauncial policy of the present admin-

It would have been wiser for Colorado Democrats to have accepted the shrewd advice of Chairman Arbuckle, based, as it obviously is, upon the ufter impossi-bility of free silver electing a federal government independently of the other rational parties, and the equal impossi-bility of securing in a national conven-tion of either endorsement of the free

Allowing, for the sake of argument, that the sliver extremists may go to the Democratic convention with a majority of delegate votes, it is predicted without risk that, on notice from the solid delegations of New England, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland, representing 128 electoral wotes, that they would leave the convention in case of a declaration for free sliver, the majority would be profusely? That it is in intermitted bimetallism alone the hopes of the western mine owners can find fruition. That the South cannot be reckoned for free silver is sufficiently demonstrated by the result in Kentucky and by the utter failure William J. Bryan

THE OLD CURIOSITY SHOP.

Can you locate it? You ought to be able to because you live in it. This world is the biggest curiosity shop that we have known anything about up to date. Jupiter or Satura may be able to discount it. Perhaps, and perhaps not. It is pretty remaps, and perhaps not. It is pretry full of people who are continually tinkering with themselves—patching themselves up—so to speak, in a medicinal way. If they are constipated, billous or dyspeptic they rush to the nearest druggist for a violent purgative. If they are malarious they fly for relief to that ancient but insfectual reliance—the substate of but ineffectual reliance-the sulphate of quinine. This is what they shouldn't do. What they should do is to begin and pursue the primest of alteratives and anti-malar-ial specifics, particularly valuable also for rheumatism, neuralgia, nervousness and debility, and a promoter of sleep and appetite beneficial to all chronic invalids.
