CUBAN INSURGENTS

Engage in Several Battles in Which They Lost.

POWDER WORKS THREATENED

Forest Fires in British Columbia May Explode the Magazine—"Shot Gun League."

Havana, July 15.—The column of Gen. Navarro fought with a band of insurgents in Cobrein, in which the latter lost three killed and three prisoners. The insurgents have burned the coffee plantations of Magdalena and Nuevosongo. Many idle young laborers have joined the insurgents. Maj. Arminio, of the civil guard, with fifty infantry and sixty cavalry, at the Hermosa district in Sancti Spiritus, a province of Santa Clara, was attacked by the insurgents forming the bands of Zaylas Legon and Toledo, and numbering 500. After hours of fighting the insurgents were obliged to retire. Upon dispersing they left twenty killed and forty wounded, together with 150 horses saddled and accoutred for use, and fourteen others dead. Of the troops, four were killed and nine wounded. A band of insurgents, numbering 400, entered the village of Provincio, in the province of Santa Clara, and tried to burn the barracks of the civil guards. The soldiers made a brave defense and killed ten of the insurgents. The latter proved unable to take the detachment of troops and burned the village.

REVENUE LAUNCH IN DANGER. Port Townsend, Wash., July 15.—The continued non-arrival of the United States revenue launch "Black Pup," from Roche Harbor, occasions a general belief that the little vessel has been swamped in the Straits of Fuca. She left Roche Harbor on Thursday last and although the run usually consumes but eight hours no report of the launch has been received. Searching parties are out, but they have found no trace of her. The craft is used by the customs officers in the suppression of smuggling. She is in command of Captain Horace West, who until recently was first lieutenant of the revenue cutter Walcott. The Pup also carried three sailors from the cutter Grant, now in Bering sea. It is reported by daylight tomorrow, the fleet of searching vessels now out under command of Captain Frank Tuttle will be doubled.

SHOT GUN LEAGUE. Spokane, July 15.—B. N. Carrier, commander in chief of the Freeman's Protective Silver Federation, more widely known as the "Shotgun League," left tonight for Puget Sound to attend an important meeting of officers of the order. The membership has been chiefly confined to Eastern Washington and Northern Idaho, but the movement has been started to organize extensively in Western Washington, with a view of extending the order into Oregon and California. It is said the council will also take up some differences which threatened to disrupt the federation. The order is secret and is military in its forms. It originated among farmers who had mortgaged their homes and crops, and its purpose is understood to be resistance to foreclosure.

THE WILBY CHINESE. San Francisco, July 15.—The Chinese have discovered a new way by which to beat the exclusion act. It is by landing Chinese here as natives of this state. The federal officers here have received information that a ring has been formed here by the Chinese and whites to land the Chinese fraudulently. The Mongolians are to be shipped here from Hong Kong as natives of California and for every one that is landed, the ring is to receive $300. There are now said to be 200 young Chinese on the way here to be landed as natives. Collector Wise has learned of the existence of the ring, and he is already taking means to prevent its operation.

DANGEROUS FIRES. Victoria, B. C., July 15.—Forest fires are raging at Telegraph Bay, four miles distant from here, and the destruction of the Victoria Paper Works is threatened. In the magazine is stored 80,000 pounds of nitro glycerine, and the gravest fears are entertained that the fire will reach it. The local firemen fought it all night, being relieved this morning by the employees of the works. The magazine is a wooden building and it is feared that sparks may set fire to it.

DAILY DENIES IT. Chicago, July 15.—Marcus Daly, who is in Chicago, emphatically denied the report today that W. A. Clark, the millionaire mine owner, has disposed of his mining interests in Montana to the Anaconda company. Mr. Daly said: "There is not one word of truth in the assertion. I cannot understand how such a report could be sent out. Possibly my absence from home has suggested the opportunity to make a monetary sensation in Montana circles."

A CLEVER CAPTURE.

Forger Anderson Again in the Toll-Evidence Strong Against Him.

A. M. Anderson, commonly known as "Dive" Anderson, was arrested by Constable Oberg yesterday morning and placed in a cell in the county jail. He is charged with a serious offense and one which the officer claims was never had in the penitentiary. It is the crime of forgery. Last Saturday morning Anderson went into the Portland saloon and after buying several rounds of drinks for himself and a few associates, handed the bartender, John Copella, a check for $3, on the Astoria National Bank and signed by T. K. Johnson. The bartender handed him $3, on the check, which together with $3 for drinks and fifty cents which was advanced later, made a total of $6.50. Yesterday morning one of the proprietors of the Portland saloon went to the bank on which the check was drawn, and inquired whether it was good or not. He was informed that the check was not good and that the bank had no money on deposit in the bank. An examination of the check was made and it was discovered that the date was July 15th and the number was 102. The bank officials were familiar with the signature of T. K. Johnson and the signature on the forged check being so similar they were inclined to at first think that perhaps a mistake had been made. Constable Oberg, who was in the bank at the time, took another view, claiming that in his opinion Mr. Johnson had never in all his life issued the number of checks stated in the forged paper, and he thought it curious also that a check drawn on deposit and blank promissory notes were also in the package. Anderson resisted arrest and it became necessary for the officer to use his club. He finally submitted and walked quietly to the prison.

In the justice court yesterday afternoon Anderson's preliminary examination took place. During the progress of the trial the prisoner laughed and joked as if it was a funny thing to be accused of such a serious offense and expressed a desire to look at the forged check which Deputy District Attorney Curtis smilingly told him would be shown him some other time. Mr. T. K. Johnson testified that the signature on the check was a forgery and Judge Abercrombie bound Anderson over to await the action of the grand jury under $500 bonds.

This is the second time that Anderson has been arrested for forgery and he has for many years been regarded by the police as a hard character. His first arrest for forgery was in Portland, last year, and on account of the insufficiency of the evidence he escaped with a few months in the county jail. Officer Oberg is entitled to much credit for his skillful and speedy manner in which he ran down and captured the swindler.

THE RAILROAD. Lost Opportunity, But Time Will Mend Matters. Yesterday the members of the committee of twenty-one accomplished little in securing a subsidy for the proposed railroads who hold property on the west side. Those holding property on the west side who live in the city are among the most prominent men in the city. It is believed that these same people who have done so much already should now hesitate to make good their promises in regard to the west side property, which is just as much a part of the deal as that on this side of the bay.

Mr. Hammond went to Portland Friday and looked at the plans of the proposed railroads. It is to be regretted that the committee of his visit was to make preliminary arrangements to commence the work of construction, believing that matters would be completed by the end of the month so that he could go ahead. Yesterday Mr. Hammond wired his family to join him in Portland and accompany him to Yastina bay over the old Oregon Pacific road, where about 300 members of the Eastern press are to be entertained by the local press of Portland. It is to be regretted that the committee could not have wired Mr. Hammond that all was ready here for him to proceed with the work on the railroad, as that gentleman would have secured some notices in the leading papers of the country of Astoria and her progress and opportunities as would have been worth thousands of dollars to this city. This work yet to be accomplished if sharp work is done today and tomorrow. The "twenty-one" are determined that the credit of Astoria shall be maintained and her promises made good, and will not give up the fight until the last plank of the bridge is hurled from under them. Some day Astorians will appreciate the labor and self sacrifice of these men who have endured more and sacrificed more for their city and benefited the public than they would ever dream of doing for their own business.

Mr. Hammond will return soon from Yastina, but it is hoped that the committee can wire him in less than forty-eight hours of the completion of their labors and the fulfillment of Astoria's promises, and all right minded citizens should aid them in every possible way. There are only a few of the obstructionist outstanding, and if it is not believed that they will eventually stay out. It is only a question of time and technicalities which hearts are in the right places taken promptly and all prejudices and minor matters dropped so that valuable time may be saved.

EMMETT HERE. The Celebrated Actor Pays a Short Visit to Astoria. Mr. J. K. Emmet, the New York actor whose fame is world wide, spent a few hours in Astoria yesterday. He came down on the morning boat from Portland to meet his wife, who was on her way from San Francisco on the steamer Oregon. When seen by a press representative, Mr. Emmet said that they were on a western tour and open in Portland on the 22d at the Marquand Grand. He is most favorably impressed with the Northwest, and much prefers the climate here to that of California.

Mr. Emmet is quite a yachtsman, owning several of these craft in New York, and some considerable time examining the new yacht being constructed by Mr. (Emmett) for the regatta. He declares that this boat will be a very stiff one, and that she is well constructed on modern plans. Mr. Emmet left on the Oregon in the late afternoon.

SOCIETY AT GEARHART

First Week Sees a Larger Attendance Than Usual.

MANY CAMPERS HAVE ARRIVED

Fine Weather and Smooth Water Add Much to the Pleasure—Many New People Looked For.

Saturday closed the first week of the season at this popular family resort, and although very early, the number of visitors has been large for a first week. The grounds have been put in first class shape. The beautiful flower gardens about the hotel add beauty to the place as well as supplying decorations for the parlors. The tennis courts and croquet grounds have been laid out and the bowling alley will be completed this week, all of the material being on hand. A large number of hammocks have been bought for the benefit of the guests, and the hotel is generally well supplied with all the necessaries of life. The fare served in the handsome dining rooms is above the average and is one of the features of the resort. All that could be asked for the way of comfort is to be found here, and none but ladies and gentlemen are among its guests, as no attractions are offered to the rough element. Just the ocean is the one grand attraction to young and old. The beach at the fullest enjoyment of nature's greatest gift. Free from driftwood and rocks and stones, which are so plentiful at many places, the long stretch of white sand, gently sloping to the water, makes an unexcelled playground for the little and affords unequalled surf bathing for all directions and of nature's greatest gift. On the 20th Company A, O. N. G., will arrive from Portland and go into camp. The parade ground has been put in fine condition, as has the camp site, which adjoins the hotel on the south. This is the company of six-teens and their adjutant is looked forward to with much interest by all of the guests. Manager Barnum is determined to see that they have a royal good time and will not be disappointed.

The new camp on the seashore road is very popular and has made a great hit. The new management, intent giving the best of service and at the same time no pains or expense to meet the requirements of trade.

Many cottagers and campers have already arrived and more are to come this week; some tents have been pitched upon the beach, while others are back in the park. W. J. Clemens and family and James F. Felling and family of Portland are occupying their cottages. Mrs. George Rummelino and family and Mrs. J. T. Clark have taken possession of their places, while Mr. J. Burns and party of fifteen have just moved into their large house near the hotel. The latter expect others to join them this week and will probably have the largest party at Gearhart this season. Alex Campbell and Judge Cleveland and families, of Astoria, have also moved into their handsome cottages.

Sunday was an ideal day, the air clear and bright, the water smooth and warm. Tillamook Head in the distance appeared very distinct and clear. The water was so pleasant to swim in that it was lengthened sport. Tallant, the runner, who is here training for his next race, made a spurt on the beach against a bicycle, afterwards going into the surf with the others.

Since the departure of the special party, who celebrated the openings last Sunday, the arrivals at the hotel have been as follows: Frank S. Damoth, R. C. Kinney, Dr. Alfred Kinney, Kenneth Kinney, M. J. Kinney, J. Kinney, Astoria; F. M. Leadbetter, J. C. Ferrell, Portland; W. C. Marquis, J. L. Marquis, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lutz, A. L. S. M., J. K. and E. R. Lutz, Portland; Louie B. Walker, Chicago; James Wran, F. O. Allen, Portland; Mrs. Louis Durko, Mrs. W. H. Hagarty, Mrs. J. Paulson and family, Portland; Theresa W. Clark, Mrs. George Rummelino, Mrs. Joe Rummelino, Mrs. J. T. Clark, Mrs. W. O. Forbes and family, Miss Alice Forbes, Miss Leila Dahl, Charles Whiteshead, H. Beckwith, W. P. D. Mercer, Boudenoer Seeley, H. W. Goode and wife, Portland; Judge Thomas Christy, Ohio; J. Scheidel and wife, Elk Point, S. D.; Mrs. J. T. Ross, W. E. Tallant, C. J. Trenchard, C. T. Crosby, A. B. Dalgity, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Riddolph, child and nurse, Miss Mastick, John Grover, Will M. Tappan, C. H. Houston, Miss N. Fletcher, E. O. Pilker, R. W. McLean, Astoria.

STATE NEWS. Interesting Items Cullied From Oregon's Leading Newspapers.

A band of horses and mules from the John Day country, where bicycles are not numerous, were being driven westward, bound for market, and Frank Chamberlain, riding a wheel, encountered them as he was descending a grade east of Prineville, says the Valley Record. Thinking a stampede the bicycle went out of the scrape, the daring bicyclist jerked back the lever, opened the throttle and threw on all steam. All would have ended well, perhaps, had it not been for one lone mule, which, overcome with fright or cunningness, stood pat. He was a Populist mule, and remained apparently

The ASTORIAN has the largest LOCAL circulation, the largest GENERAL circulation, and the largest TOTAL circulation of all papers published in Astoria.

The Fossil Journal gives the following recipe for making millions: William Dickson Lord, who lost a fortune while in the horse business at Rows Creek, Gilliam (then Wasco) county, years ago, has started in to make a fortune in the same business, having recently accepted a situation as traveling agent of the Horse Canning company, of Portland. Mr. Lord says that his firm has purchased 7,000 head of horses from Jake Switler of Umatilla county at $1 per head, and he is to go after the first of August to other next week. The $1 purchase price will be recovered by merely selling the hide for $25 and the mane and tail for 10 cents, having the whole of the skinned horse for working expense and profit. He said that 200 pounds of grease had been got from a large horse and that 100 pounds of grease would be obtained from the smallest cause. The grease will probably be sold as oleomargarine at 10 cents per pound. He thinks there's millions in it.

Definite information cannot be given regarding the grain crop until harvested, but that will be in a few days. Some persons say there will be a bumper crop, while others state there will not be one-fourth of a crop. There are portions of the county that have suffered from the drought and from the late season, and in other places grain never appeared in a better condition at this season of the year. Frequently the appearance of grain is very deceptive, and there are some who think there would be small returns there will be an abundant yield and vice versa. We believe this will be true this season, and after harvest we imagine very many will be disappointed at the amount of grain threshed from worthless fields. It is generally believed, however, that the result of the coming harvest to farmers will be far more satisfactory than the last one was.—Times-Mountainier.

E. M. Horton and Ed Cummings, who have been stopping at the Cornell ranch at Tule lake, came to town Friday, bringing four rattensnakes with them, says the Klamath Falls Express. While Horton was handling them one struck him on the hand. He immediately killed it and applied the gall to the wound, but the arm began to swell and reached enormous proportions. The wound that he applied the gall to was all right, but too late he discovered the other leg had struck him in a similar place, which was the cause of poison getting into his system. He suffered a great deal before the swelling had subsided. They have about a dozen more rattlers at Cornell's which they have caught for a Chinese doctor in San Francisco.

Cosco county has taken up the good roads movement and proposes to have some roads that are passable at all seasons of the year. The county has undertaken the improvement of one of its main highways with coal ashes, having an abundance of that material on hand. The ashes are to be put on eight feet in width and one foot deep, to swell and contract 75 cents per ton. These ashes are said to make a firm and lasting road bed, and in a coal producing county like Cosco is a comparatively cheap material. The movement for good roads is growing all over the state and before many years Oregon will have a system of highways equal to any state in the union.—Enterprise.

According to the Salem Post, Manager Wallace, of the Salem cannery, has received an order from a California packing house for 500 cases Royal Ann cherries to be shipped without labels. It is easy to understand why the goods are taken to California, as the packing material has shipped Oregon fruits to the eastern markets, to their many years, and claimed and received credit for them for California. It is the intention of this California firm to take these Oregon cherries, label them in California and ship them east as California fruit, thus robbing our state of the credit money hereto. Mr. Wallace says he will not fill the order under those conditions.

Capt. Brown has in his collection at Grant's Pass a live oak stump brought from the head of Jones creek, in which is the left half of the antlers of a 4-year-old elk that were left there over 30 years ago. The growth of the tree shows by rings that it is 37 years old, there being 25 rings between the point of deposit of the horns and the heart of the tree. The two lower antlers protrude about two inches through the opposite side of the stump and are about six inches apart. The stump is perfectly sound without knots, and is about twenty-three inches high.

Judge C. E. Wolverton came up from Salem yesterday, says the Times-Mountainier. Judge Wolverton said that the supreme court would adjourn in about three weeks. He said a decision would be handed down in the Oregon Pacific appeal case before an adjournment, and probably very soon. Judging from his remarks a decision may be expected within a week or ten days.

Grasshoppers have invaded several precincts of Wasco county, devastating grain fields and stripping orchard trees of every particle of foliage. Their work is effectively and quickly done. In the morning the grass will appear in good condition and by night every blade will be eaten and the field be as level as a floor. Their migration is rapid.

TOMORROW MAY NEVER COME. You intend to assure tomorrow? How do you know there will be a tomorrow for you? Assure today. Don't wait because you can't afford to take a large amount. Besides, while you are waiting, the cost is increasing. Take out a policy for some amount now, while you can get it. A more convenient season may never come.
