FOLLY'S TOP LIMIT.

We notice with a good deal of surprise the following editorial (tem in the Pendieton East Oregonian of Monday:

"The secretary of state, Mr. Harrison R. Kinca'd, is reported to have said that 'Oregon has enough people now.' There is some wisdom in this remark, when it the party in power is as relentless as is taken into consideration with the fact that, if more are brought here, the mass of pubple will be worse off then they are of pubple will be worse off then they are now, while the good in connection with their coming will go in the form of tribule to thise who have gotten possession of Oregon's soil and natural wealth, and propose to make a 'stake' out of it by holding on. If we had a system of taxation which would take the increasing value of land, due to an increasing population, for governmental purposes, thereby removing the taxation burden from industry and enterprise, the more people there are in Oregon the greater.

This is equally true of a plano costing people there are in Oregon the greater the prosperity would be to all. Under the present system of taxation, more peo-ple means good times and wealth to the fow and hard times and poverty to the many. One has to get beneath the sur-face of social conditions to observe this iron ore in the mine or wood in the for-fact, but when one does, there will be no doubt of the truth of it."

The vicious and unaccountable argument underlying this statement is the same old cry that has brought about stagnation and dearth of progress almong us for the past twenty years, "Oregon West-Washington, California and Moncana, for instance, have fastened the lateistaing on the ourside, and told the spond to the invitation, and letting them know in no uncertain manner that their coming was a move for the mutual good of all parties. Year after year Oregon has double-looked its gutes and flouted in the face of every stranger the placard, "Who the devil are you, and what do you want here, anyhow?"

"Oregon has enough people now!" Oregon, with its untrodden valleys of black loam, and a climate unequalled in the world: Oregon with its yast acreage of nountry walteng for the settler with brains and pluck and muscle; Oregon with its glor ous future, a land of plenty and happiness, "has enough people now." Oregon, with every square mile within Eastern anters, 'bas enough people now." What stupid and appalling folly.

vast Indian reservation, inhibited by white aborigines standing ready to repel the ruthless white invader who comes with the spirit of progress and hope in his breast to curve out his future on its soil? Or is fit a land peopled by a community of intelligent men who know that population brings wealth, and who keep before them the shining truth that where citizens live and strive together is sown the seed of advancement and prosperity for them and their country? The East Oregonian talks about men who have "soften possession of Oregonia collections of Oregonia collections." Why Bascom wants his "soften possession of Oregonia collections." "gotten possession of Oregon's soil and expect to pay wat do we drink fur? "Kin wealth and who propose to make a I buy likker in Looisville, and sell it to stake by holding on to it." but it for Stake' by holding on to it," but it forgets that, though there are instances of such a spirit here, as in every land under the sun, the only remedy for the evil is the aggression of a large and ener-in this world.

A dusen papers throughout the state, some at our own doors, unfortunately, have been guilty of this childish folly of crying "keep back" for many years. They are known and marked, however, and nobody expects anything better from their mouths. But we are indeed aurpfised to see the East Oregonfan, a journal deservedly holding the good will of residents in its section by reason of its secaled it will go lower than that. When alsaled it will go lower than that, when alsaled it will go lower than that. When sharon and Jones and the sliver miners were seasified it will go lower than that. When sharon and Jones and the sliver miners were seasified it will go lower than that. When sharon and Jones and the sliver miners were seasified it will go lower than that. When sharon and Jones and the sliver miners were seasified it will go lower than that. When sharon and Jones and the sliver miners will not be shared in the subcoment stributed to him, but, whether this is the came or not, we don't like to see a newspaper of the standing and regulation of the East Oregonfan backing up such a victous and unruthful struction.

Recetl occurrences at Wushington have appen called public attention to the remarkable attitude of the party now in power toward scientific work and inventigation. In these cases the cos of the material is estimated as it reaches the hands of the workman, and not as est. Pls great expense is in the wage of the workmen who procure it.
