BULGARIAN AFFAIRS

THE DEAD BODY ATTACKED

Enemies Make Unsuccessful Attempt to Destroy the Corpse—C. M. Hess Goes Insane.

Sofia, Bulgaria, July 20.—The funeral of Stambouloff, which took place today, was productive of exciting scenes in the streets. The police were under orders to take all precautions to secure tranquility.

Three hundred paces from the house the spot was reached where the murder was committed. The corpse was held, and M. Petroff, who was with the deceased when he was attacked, and who was himself wounded, made a speech to the assemblage. The head and arm were wrapped in bandages, where he had been stabbed on Monday. In an impassioned harangue he charged the enemies of Bulgaria with the terrible crime of murdering a man to whom the country owed her independence and the price his throne. He was still speaking when a loud cry was raised: "Run for your lives!" A terrific panic ensued. The crowd became frantic and made a rush to escape, everyone believing that fighting had begun. Men and women were trampled upon, children carrying wreaths in different parts of the procession threw down their flowers and fled screaming. A detachment of troops rode up when danger seemed imminent. Their appearance increased the panic, but after a while they succeeded in restoring order. Nevertheless when the funeral train started, a man, the result of his march, it had lost many of its adherents, all of the foreign deputations having retired except representatives of Germany, Serbia and Roumania.

The funeral train had hardly started again when a second panic broke forth, causing a scene of confusion which destroyed the ranks of the procession. At the cemetery there was another shocking scene. The friends of Major Pantiz, who was executed some years ago for conspiracy at the instance of M. Stambouloff, had organized a most enthusiastic demonstration against the dead statesman. A detachment of cavalry galloped up just in time to prevent a collision. The coffin was lowered and hurried to the place of interment, and no ceremony was observed over the remains and no ceremony to mark the delivery to earth of the form and powerful ruler of Bulgaria. The bodies were hurried to a boat beyond the river and hurriedly buried. The bodies were hurriedly buried. The bodies were hurriedly buried.

Another Cuban Expedition Suppressed. Washington, July 20.—There is reason to believe that the visit of Secretary Olney and yesterday's conference of a majority of the members of the cabinet, are directly connected with the suppression of the proposed expedition to Cuba, which it is claimed by its sympathizers, if of great importance, has been prepared to carry out. It is difficult to secure definite news of the expedition or of the steps which are being taken to prevent it, but it is definitely known that the Spanish minister has information that American sympathizers are preparing to send a very large and well equipped party to Cuba and that the friends of the Cuban cause are endeavoring to induce the government to grant the expedition being able to evade the vigilance of the United States government. It is in good shape at no very distant day.

Orders have been issued to the revenue cutters Morrill and Wyona to proceed to Key West. The orders included directions to keep a sharp lookout for Cuban filibusters. The Macian is already at Key West and orders to other cutters to proceed have been issued.

COMPANY E ENCAMPMENT. Olympia, Wn., July 20.—A special order has been issued by the National Guard headquarters granting permission to Company E, First Regiment, Oregon National Guard, to enter the state of Washington and hold an encampment at Long Beach, ending August 1st. The governor appointed all of the command officers of the National Guard today under the new military law. The regimental officers are: Colonel of the First Regiment, Jas. Brown, Seattle; lieutenant colonel of the First Regiment, J. E. Frost, Ellensburg; Major of the First Regiment, E. L. Ingraham, Seattle; major of the First Infantry Battalion, J. E. Frost, Ellensburg; Major of cavalry, Fred R. Reed, Norton, Yakima.

BIG LABEL SUIT. San Francisco, July 20.—Lord Sholto Douglas has sued the Wasp, an illustrated paper, for $20,000 for alleged libel. The suit has been filed in the United States circuit court. Plaintiff is a British subject. The complaint is that the libel consists in a parenthetical analysis of Lord Sholto's features, published in the Wasp, stating that Lord Sholto is the offspring of degeneracy, the outcome of moral depravity, and bettling his mental and moral qualities.

OREGON SUPREME COURT. Women to Hold Office of School Superintendents. Portland, Or., July 20.—Chief Justice Bean, and Justices Moore and Wilverton, convened the supreme court this morning and handed down twenty-six decisions, reversing circuit court judges in eleven, affirming in thirteen, and modifying in five.

Portland, Or., July 20.—Chief Justice Bean, and Justices Moore and Wilverton, convened the supreme court this morning and handed down twenty-six decisions, reversing circuit court judges in eleven, affirming in thirteen, and modifying in five. The case of J. L. Carter vs. N. K. Stevens, opinion by Justice Moore, involving the question of the right of plaintiff (a woman) to hold office as school superintendent of Union county, was affirmed. The effect of the decision is that women holding certificates of election, aided by the statute of this state pertaining to women to hold that office, gives her prima facie title to the office and that before the question of eligibility can be properly raised proceedings quo warrantu must be instituted. There are now pending quo warrantu proceedings in the same case, which will go up from Union county, and it is believed that the proceedings will be raised. The class of law students, consisting of Walter M. Pierce, and M. A. Butler, of Pendleton, and W. L. Levens, of Baker City, was examined and admitted. F. M. Saxton, of Baker City, was admitted on certificate.

TWO MORE LOYALISTS

Now There Are Only Three Who Are Behind.

THE RAILROAD SEEMS ASSURED

Of Those Who Are Still Out One Is Out of Town and the Others Are Well Known Patriots.

The committee advise that yesterday afternoon the desks to west side railroad property were filed with the committee by M. J. Kinney and Mr. Kindred. This leaves still uncompleted the desks of the Trullingers and Judge Bowley, so far as the west side is concerned, and Ben Young's desk on the east side.

SIX KILLED. Waco, Tex., July 20.—At Mart, a small borough twenty miles from here, five negroes were instantly killed today and one severely injured as the result of a dispute which began several months ago when Abe Phillips, a negro, and Phil Arnold, white, both farmers, were friends. Since then the feeling between the friends of both men has been bitter.

At 2 o'clock the town was awakened by a loud report. Investigation showed the house occupied by Mrs. Phillips, the widow of the negro killed, was in flames. The house had been blown up with dynamite. Of the six negroes in the house five were killed. One person who escaped is so badly injured that he will die.

HAWAIIAN FILIBUSTERS. Port Townsend, July 20.—The customs authorities of the Puget Sound district have been instructed by the government to keep a sharp lookout for filibustering parties fitting out for the Hawaiian Islands.

A few days ago it was reported that vessels were openly loading and freighting munitions of war for the islands. Orders now have been issued to closely watch and search all vessels bound to the South Seas for firearms. It is generally believed that large quantities of arms and ammunition have been smuggled into Hawaii from Puget Sound.

THE DEFENDER WINS. New York, July 20.—The Defender has met the Vigilant and vanquished her over a course of 15 miles to windward and return, on the same terms wherein the Vigilant will meet the cup defender, and that the Defender is a boat that is superior to the Vigilant was clearly proved. The new boat not only out-distanced the old champion to a remarkable extent, but she out-docked her as well. Moreover, on the run home before the wind with the Vigilant's center board hoisted, she gained on the champion, an advantage that her most enthusiastic admirers did not anticipate.

ELECTROCUTED. Father and Son Killed by a Live Wire. Philadelphia, July 20.—Jas. Lawler and his son, John, were instantly killed today in the rear of a wheelwright shop on Frankfort avenue near Berk street by an electric light wire. When found the bodies were clamped together by the wire lying across the wire. It is supposed that the parent, seeing the wire, took hold of it, to take it aside, and was shocked to death, and his son rushed to his assistance, only to share a like fate.

NAT GOODWIN ABROAD. London, July 20.—Nat Goodwin started today on a five weeks' bicycle tour through England. Just before his departure, Goodwin read the play "Miles and Miles" to Wm. Terris, who decided it to be unsuitable for English production.

Mr. Goodwin said: "I have given up the English tour in a London theatre. The English do not want American acting. England is a delightful place for Americans to visit and spend their money but not to act in."

MULTINOMAH WINS. Portland, July 20.—By winning today's ball game with Seattle, the Multnomah Athletic Club lightened its grip on the pennant. The only contingency which will keep them from winning is that they lose with the Portland Athletic Club and the Tacoma Club, and that the Portland win both games which they yet have to play. The score today was Multnomah 5; Seattle 4. At Tacoma today the score stood: Portland Athletic Club, 11; Tacoma 6.

ARRESTED FOR RAPE. Eugene, July 20.—Deputy prosecuting Attorney J. M. Williams was arrested and taken to Junction City last evening, to answer to a charge of assault with intent to commit rape upon Mrs. O. D. Powell. The case was dismissed by the justice. It is said to be a case of blackmail and in this Williams is supported by many among whom is the father of the woman claimed to have been assaulted.

BOY DROWNED. Eugene, July 20.—Bruce, the 11-year-old son of H. M. Hack, was drowned in the Willamette near this city this afternoon. Mr. Black works in a saw mill and the boy had carried his father's dinner to him, as he was in the habit of doing, but did not return home promptly. His hat was found floating among the logs in a boom, and after a short search the body was found.

HIGH HEELS. Cincinnati, July 20.—A special to the Commercial Gazette from Greensburg, Ind., says: E. H. Partridge, cashier of the First National Bank of this city, and Mrs. O. P. Robertson, the wife of a farmer near Adams, are direct descendants of Lord Antrim and heirs of his vast estate in Ireland valued at $75,000,000.

MARKET REPORTS. Liverpool, July 20.—Wheat—Spot, quiet; demand poor; No. 2 red, winter, 6s 2d; No. 2 red, spring, 6s 7 1/2d; No. 1 hard Manitoba, 6s 6d; No. 1 California, 6s 1 1/2d. Hops at London—Pacific Coast, 12.

San Francisco, July 20.—Wheat—No. 1 shipping wheat quotable at 90 cents for No. 1; 8c for choice; milling wheat, 97 1/2c $1.00 per cwt.

HERS A MANIAC. Colquhoun, Waco, July 20.—Clarrie H. Hess, formerly an inmate of the Oregon Insane asylum, having been sent from Astoria, Oregon, was found today in the outskirts of Colquhoun's ravine mad. He quarried six months bringing him to town. Hess's father is the Populist financial aide.

THE ASTORIAN

And so, as soon as the Villagers Espied the Cake they began Fighting like the Wild Cats and Vultures of the Forest, for each one Wanted to get The Most out of The Cake, and all Were consumed by That feeling which men Call Jealousy and Greed. And they Fought even unto the Rising and setting Of many Moons. And Lo while they Were still Fighting the gray Bearded man put the Cake back in his Pocket and Died. And in His Will he left The Cake to a Distant Relation at the Other end of the World. And the Villagers Hired Up their voices And wept. And after slow years that Rolled by, the Villagers Died, too. And a new Generation arose that Knew not Moss nor the Color of Moss. And the Distant Relation came and offered them the Cake, and they Fell down on Their Knees and Elected the Distant Relation, and Ato the Cake, and lived Happily ever after. But behind, the Old Villagers heard the noise of cars Running Along, and Engines Screaming, and the Mighty tramp of Many Feet, and they turned in their Graves and Sighed. But the Gray Bearded Man heard the Noise, too, and he Smiled in his Sleep and remained Undisturbed.

No. 1—There was a Sparking City by the Sea; but it was not Venice. Its streets Were Wood and it was built Out of The Water on Huge sticks that once had been Sixteen Trees growing in the Forest. And the Wooden Streets were in a horrid Condition, full of Patchwork Holes and Cracks. But the City Fathers were men Of Wisdom, and they Smiled and said: "What of It? The Highways are good Enough for Us, and They must be Good Enough for the Common People." And they Passed a Resolution. But one day A poor Man With a Large Family fall heading Down through one of the Highways and broke Two of His Limbs. And the City Fathers said: "Yes, Verily, but He had no Business in that part of The City." And they Passed another Resolution. And the Next Year one of The City Fathers fell through a Highway and Dislocated His Toe. And he Went to Law and claimed Twenty Thousand silver Tails for Damage. And the Other City Fathers offered him Ten Thousand, and, Verily, he Jumped at the Offer and Seized the Shekels. And they Passed another Resolution. And Public Opinion waxed Wrath, and men Were sore at Heart and began To agitate For good Highways. And the Broken Down Man, in view of His Damages in lumber, and sold It to The City, and gained Much Wealth and Competency, and the City Fathers wanted to pass still Another Resolution, but The People rose up in their Might and Threatened to use Shotguns. So the City Fathers refrained, and They Passed no more Resolutions that Year.

"How is it that your horse's sweet wines cost so much more than the sour ones?" asked the gentleman of the liquor dealer's boy. "Do you suppose the boss gets his sugar for nothing?" was the incautious reply.—Texas Siftings.

General Gordon of Georgia tells the following story of the war period, to illustrate the shakiness of Confederate currency: "One day a cavalryman rode into camp on a reasonably good horse. 'Hello, cavalryman,' said a foot soldier, 'I'll give you $100 for your horse.' 'You go to the hell place,' was the horseman's reply. 'I just paid $100 to have him curried.'—Argonaut.

CARPENTERS' UNION. The former Carpenters' Union of this city was reorganized last night by the organizer of the American Federation of Labor, Mr. Rufus Jensen. The name chosen was the "Carpenters and Joiners of Astoria." The officers elected are Jacob Frye, president; John Lundquist, vice-president; William Olsen, recording secretary; M. A. Clark financial secretary; A. Anderson, treasurer. The carpenters here have long needed organization here and they now feel that they have a strong union. The old hours of labor were established by which nine hours constitute a day's work.

AN OPINION OF VALUE. Mr. Frank Patton, cashier of the Astoria Savings Bank, has by reason of his occupation ample opportunity to know the actual standing of financial institutions. He says: "I am a firm believer in life insurance, and think that every young man, and especially one who has any one depending on him, should be fully protected by life policies. After careful investigation I am positive that the Equitable of New York is by far the safest and best company to insure in. I took out insurance in it several years ago and I have no reason whatever to regret my choice." L. Sempel, Eugene Samuel, special agents.

CLAY—SOP'S FABLES. No. 1.—Once upon a Time there lived a Man who Wore a Gray Beard, and had a Railroad Cake in His Pocket. And he looked About him and at length came near by a Villager seated on the banks of a Mighty River. An Ancient and Moss Grown Villager it was, but the Man with the Gray Beard saw in It the makings of a great City. So he Took out his Railroad Cake and held It in His Hand and said: "O! Villagers, will you Try my
